Daily Moose Productions:

The Making of Rebel Without a Cause Douglas L. Rathgeb, 2015-06-08 In 1954 troubled director Nicholas Ray chatted at a dinner party about his controversial plan for a film about middle class juvenile delinquents He was told of a book written by a prison psychologist and owned by Warner Bros called Rebel Without a Cause Though he was initially unimpressed Ray adapted the book into his own screenplay and Warner Bros hired him to direct what would become a classic From the backgrounds of the many players to the pre production production and post production of the film this complete history recounts every aspect of Rebel Without a Cause from its rudiments to the 1955 Academy Awards the selection of cast and crew legal fights changing screenwriters and the many variations of the story location scouting auditions script readings difficulties with the censors romances and fights the editing test screenings and of course the death of its star Dozens of intimate anecdotes from wardrobe decisions to James Dean s pranks add rich detail An epilogue discusses the possible sequels rights conflicts documentaries musicals and spin off attempts and offers concluding words on the cast and crew

Wildlife Production Systems Robert J. Hudson, K. R. Drew, L. M. Baskin, 1989-06 This book first published in 1989 examines the controversial position of commercial utilisation in relation to wildlife conservation Production of large mammals has earned respectability as an agricultural strategy and its evaluation has been listed as a priority requirement in the World Conservation Strategy However many authorities question whether wildlife production is a viable economic and environmental strategy and suggest that it runs counter to its claimed purpose This book evaluates this controversy by chronicling the changing role of wildlife and by reflecting on the implications of these trends The book should be of interest to people both applauding and deploring the use of wildlife in this economic role Sandy Area Livestock Grazing Management, 1978

Gossip and the Everyday Production of Politics Niko Besnier, 2009-07-08 Although gossip is disapproved of across the world s societies it is a prominent feature of sociality whose role in the construction of society and culture cannot be overestimated In particular gossip is central to the enactment of politics through it people transform difference into inequality and enact or challenge power structures Based on the author s intimate ethnographic knowledge of Nukulaelae Atoll Tuvalu this work uses an analysis of gossip as political action to develop a holistic understanding of a number of disparate themes including conflict power agency morality emotion locality belief and gender It brings together two methodological traditions the microscopic analysis of unelicited interaction and the macroscopic interpretation of social practice that are rarely wedded successfully Drawing on a broad range of theoretical resources Niko Besnier approaches gossip from several angles A detailed analysis of how Nukulaelae s people structure their gossip interactions demonstrates that this structure reflects and contributes to the atoll s political ideology which wavers between a staunch egalitarianism and a need for hierarchy His discussion then turns to narratives of specific events in which gossip played an important role in either enacting egalitarianism or reinforcing inequality Embedding gossip in a broad range of communicative practices enables Besnier to develop a nuanced analysis of how gossip operates demonstrating how it allows some to gain power while others suffer because of it Throughout he is particularly attentive to the ways in which anthropologists themselves are the subject and object of gossip making his work a notable contribution to reflexive social science Written in an engaging and accessible style Gossip and the Everyday Production of Politics will appeal to students and scholars of political legal linguistic and psychological anthropology social science methodology communication conflict gender and globalization studies and Pacific Islands studies Daily Graphic Elizabeth Ohene,1980-02-17 Farmers' Bulletin ,1929 Stop-motion
