Heaven Is Empty Filippo Marsili, 2018-11-01 Offers a new perspective on the relationship between religion and the creation of the first Chinese empires Heaven Is Empty offers a new comparative perspective on the role of the sacred in the formation of China's early empires 221 BCE 9 CE and shows how the unification of the Central States was possible without a unitary and universalistic conception of religion The cohesive function of the ancient Mediterranean cult of the divinized ruler was crucial for the legitimization of Rome's empire across geographical and social boundaries Eventually reelaborated in Christian terms it came to embody the timelessness and universality of Western conceptions of legitimate authority while representing an analytical template for studying other ancient empires Filippo Marsili challenges such approaches in his examination of the reign of Emperor Wu of the Han 141 87 BCE Wu purposely drew from regional traditions and tried to gain the support of local communities through his patronage of local cults He was interested in rituals that envisioned the monarch as a military leader who directly controlled the land and its resources as a means for legitimizing radical administrative and economic centralization In reconstructing this imperial model Marsili interprets fragmentary official accounts in light of material evidence and noncanonical and recently excavated texts In bringing to life

the courts battlefields markets shrines and pleasure quarters of early imperial China Heaven Is Empty provides a postmodern and postcolonial reassessment of religion before the arrival of Buddhism and challenges the application of Greco Roman and Abrahamic systemic identitary and exclusionary notions of the sacred to the analysis of pre Christian and non Western realities Heaven Is Empty is a tour de force It reveals Marsili s bold vision of early Chinese religion and his deft use of critical theory The book will inspire scholars of early China for generations to come Miranda Brown author of The Politics of Mourning in Early China and The Art of Medicine in Early China The Ancient and Medieval Origins of a Modern Archive

Between Hindu and Christian Kerry P. C. San Chirico,2023 Between Hindu and Christian sheds light on a movement of low caste and Dalit devotees worshipping Jesus in Catholic spaces in Varanasi the purported heart of Hindu civilization San Chirico examines the worldview and ways of life of these devotees along with the Catholic priests and nuns who mediate Jesus Mary and other members of the Catholic pantheon in a place never associated with Christianity San Chirico places this movement within the context of the devotional history of Varanasi the history of Indian Christianity the rise of low caste and Dalit emancipatory struggles and the ascendance of Hindu nationalism to demonstrate that religious categories are not nearly as distinct as they often seem

Playing with Leviathan: Interpretation and Reception of Monsters from the Biblical World Koert van Bekkum,Jaap Dekker,Henk R. van den Kamp,Eric

Peels,2017-01-16 Since ancient times Leviathan and other monsters from the biblical world symbolize the life threatening powers in nature and history They represent the dark aspects of human nature and political entities and reveal the supernatural dimensions of evil Ancient texts and pictures regarding these monsters reflect an environment of polytheism and religious pluralism Remarkably however the biblical writings and post biblical traditions use these venerated symbols in portraying God as being sovereign over the entire universe a theme that is also prominent in the reception of these texts in subsequent contexts This volume explores this tension and elucidates the theological and cultural meaning of Leviathan by studying its ancient Near Eastern background and its attestation in biblical texts early and rabbinic Judaism Christian theology Early Modern art and film

Matthew, Paul, and the Anthropology of Law David A. Kaden, 2016-09-30 Drawing from Michel Foucault's understanding of power David A Kaden explores how relations of power are instrumental in forming law as an object of discourse in the Gospel of Matthew and in the Letters of Paul This is a comparative project in that the author examines the role that power relations play in generating discussions of law in the first century context and in several ethnographies from the field of the anthropology of law from Indonesia Mexico the Philippines and colonial era Hawaii Discussions of law proliferate in situations where the relations of power within social groups come into contact with social forces outside the group David A Kaden's interdisciplinary approach reframes how law is studied in Christian Origins scholarship especially Pauline and Matthean scholarship by focusing on what makes discourses on law possible For this he relies heavily on cross cultural ethnographic materials from legal anthropology

Psychology, Religion, and Spirituality James M. Nelson, 2009-02-17 Over a century ago psychologists who were fascinated with religion began to study and write about it Theologians and religious practitioners have responded to this literature producing a fascinating dialogue that deals with our fundamental understandings about the human person and our place in the world This book provides an introduction to the important conversations that have developed out of these interchanges The dialogue between psychology and religion is difficult to study for a number of reasons First it requires knowledge of both psychology and religion People with a background in psychology often lack a solid understanding of the religious traditions they wish to study and theologians may not be up to date on the latest developments in psychology Second it requires conceptual tools to organize the material and understand the basic problems involved in any attempt to connect the science of psychology with religion These concepts can be found in many places for instance in the writings of philosophers of science but they are complex and often hard to follow for those without a proper theological and philosophical background Finally authors who write on the topic come to the study of psychology and religion from a variety of academic and personal backgrounds This makes for wonderful diversity in conversations but it makes understanding and mastery of the material quite difficult

Teaching Religion and Healing Linda L. Barnes, Inés Talamantez, 2006-10-26 Publisher description

The Demise of Norse Religion Olof Sundqvist, 2023-12-18 When describing the transition from Old Norse religion to Christianity in recent studies the concept of Christianization is often applied To a large extent this historiography focuses on the outcome of the encounter namely the description of early Medieval Christianity and the new Christian society The purpose of the present study is to concentrate more exclusively on the Old Norse religion during this period of change and to analyze the processes behind its disappearance on an official level of the society More specifically this study concentrates on the role of Viking kings and indigenous agency in the winding up of the old religion An actor oriented perspective will thus be established which focuses on the actions methods and strategies applied by the early Christian Viking kings when dismantling the religious tradition that had previously formed their lives In addition the resistance that some pagan chieftains offered against these Christian kings is discussed as well as the question why they defended the old religious tradition The Truth Within Gavin

Flood,2013-10 Explores the metaphor of inwardness and the idea of truth within along with the methods developed in three religions to attain it such as prayer and meditation Cross-Cultural Perspectives on Hagiographical Strategies

Massimo A. Rondolino,2017-01-12 This book examines the potential of conducting studies in comparative hagiology through parallel literary and historical analyses of spiritual life writings pertaining to distinct religious contexts In particular it focuses on a comparative analysis of the early sources on the medieval Christian Saint Francis of Assisi 1182 1226 and the Tibetan Buddhist Milarepa c 1052 1135 up to and including the so called standard versions of their life stories written by Bonaventure of Bagnoregio 1221 1274 and Tsangny n Heruka 1452 1507 respectively The book thus demonstrates how in the social and religious contexts of both 1200s Italy and 1400s Tibet narratives of the lives deeds and teachings of two individuals recognized as spiritual champions were seen as the most effective means to promote spiritual doctrinal and political agendas Therefore as well being highly relevant to those studying hagiographical sources this book will be of interest to scholars working across the fields of religion and the comparative study of religious phenomena as well as history and literature in the pre modern period Interreligious Comparisons in Religious Studies and Theology Andreas

Nehring,2018-01-25 Can religions be compared For decades the discipline of religious studies was based on the assumption that they can Postmodern and postcolonial reflections however raised significant doubts In social and cultural studies the investigation of the particular often took precedence over a comparative perspective Interreligious Comparisons in Religious Studies and Theology questions whether religious studies can survive if it ceases to be comparative religion Can it do justice to a globalized world if it is limited on the specific and turns a blind eye on the general While comparative approaches have come under strong pressure in religious studies they have started flourishing in Theology Comparative theology practices interfaith dialogue by means of comparative research This volume asks whether theology and religious studies are able to mutually benefit from their critical and constructive reflections Can postcolonial criticism of neutrality and objectivity in religious studies create new links with the decidedly perspectival approach of comparative theology In this collection scholars from theology and religious studies discuss the methodology of interreligious comparison in the light of recent doubts and current objections Together with the contributors Perry Schmidt Leukel and Andreas Nehring argue that after decades of critique interreligious comparison deserves to be reconsidered reconstructed and reintroduced
