A Man To Die For A Suspense Or Thriller:

The Suspense Thriller Charles Derry, 2010-06-21 This book is a comprehensive study of one of the most popular genres in the cinema. From a perspective sympathetic to popular culture, this study analyzes a large number of primarily American and European films by a variety of distinguished directors including Alfred Hitchcock, Claude Chabrol, John Frankenheimer, Michelangelo Antonioni, and Costa Gavras. Indispensable to anyone interested in understanding how suspense thrillers work and what they mean, this book provides insightful analysis of hundreds of memorable films while at the same time working as a virtual how-to manual for anyone trying to write a Hitchcock-like thriller. The first section of the book is primarily theoretical. It offers a bibliographical survey and then explains why we so profoundly enjoy these suspenseful films of murder and intrigue. A chapter on Thrills or How Objects and Empty Spaces Compete to Threaten Us explores the psychological concept of the thrill and relates it to the psyche of the spectator. To what extent does the suspense thriller represent a symbolic and vicarious experience of danger? A chapter on Suspense That Makes the Spectator Take a Breath explores the crucial narrative concept of suspense and relates it to the psychological mechanisms of anxiety incited in the spectator. Why do we like to be scared? A final theoretical chapter offers a dynamic definition of the suspense thriller derived in part from Edgar Allan Poe and based primarily on content analysis. The second section of the book is more of an historical survey and devotes one chapter to each of the suspense thriller's primary sub-genres. These chapters provide close readings of more than 150 major films and detailed analysis of the suspense thriller's conventions, themes, and recurrent iconography. Sub-genres include The Postman Always Rings Twice, Body Heat, The Manchurian Candidate, The China Syndrome, Missing, The Passenger, Spellbound, Obsession, Marathon Man, and Blue Velvet. A final chapter explores areas for further research and offers concluding insights.

Thrillers, Chillers, and Killers Frank Krutnik, 2025-05-13 Film noir is one of the most exciting and most debated products of studio era Hollywood, but did you know that American radio broadcast many programs in the noir vein through the 1940s and 1950s? These included adaptations of such well-known films as The Maltese Falcon, Murder My Sweet, and Double Indemnity, detective series devoted to the adventures of private eyes Philip Marlowe and Sam Spade, and the spine-tingling anthology programs Lights Out and Suspense Thrillers. Chillers and Killers is the first book to explore in detail noir storytelling on the two media, arguing that radio's noir dramas played an important role as a counterpart to, influence on, or a spin-off from the noir films. Besides shedding new light on long-neglected radio dramas and a medium that was cinema's major rival, this scrupulously researched yet accessible study also uses these programs to challenge conventional understandings of the much-debated topic of noir.

The Rebirth of Suspense Rick Warner, 2024-09-17 Typically, films are suspenseful when they keep us on the edge of our seats when glimpses of a turning doorknob, a ticking clock, or a looming silhouette quicken our pulses. Exemplified by Alfred Hitchcock's masterworks and the countless thrillers they influenced, such films captivate viewers with propulsive plots that spur emotional investment in the fates of protagonists Suspense might therefore seem to be a curious concept to associate with art films featuring muted characters serene landscapes and unrushed rhythms in which plot is secondary to mood and tone This ambitious and wide ranging book offers a redefinition of suspense by considering its unlikely incarnations in the contemporary films that have been called slow cinema Rick Warner shows how slowness builds suspense through atmospheric immersion narrative sparseness and the withholding of information causing viewers to oscillate among boredom curiosity and dread He focuses on works in which suspense arises where the boundaries between art cinema and popular genres such as horror thriller science fiction and gothic melodrama become indefinite including Chantal Akerman's La captive Apichatpong Weerasethakul's Memoria Jonathan Glazer's Under the Skin Kelly Reichardt's Night Moves Lucrecia Martel's Zama Kiyoshi Kurosawa's Creepy and David Lynch's Twin Peaks: The Return Warner investigates the pivotal role of sound in generating suspense and traces how the experience of suspense has changed in the era of digital streaming The Rebirth of Suspense develops a fresh theory history typology and analysis of suspense that casts new light on the workings of films across global cinema

In a Lonely Street Frank Krutnik,2006-10-19 Taking issue with many orthodox views of Film Noir Frank Krutnik argues for a reorientation of this compulsively engaging area of Hollywood cultural production Krutnik recasts the films within a generic framework and draws on recent historical and theoretical research to examine both the diversity of film noir and its significance within American popular culture of the 1940s He considers classical Hollywood cinema debates on genre and the history of the emergence of character in film noir focusing on the hard boiled crime fiction of Dashiell Hammett Raymond Chandler and James M Cain as well as the popularisation of Freudian psychoanalysis and the social and cultural upheavals of the 1940s The core of this book however concerns the complex representation of masculinity in the noir tough thriller and where and how gender interlocks with questions of genre Analysing in detail major thrillers like The Maltese Falcon Double Indemnity Out of the Past and The Killers alongside lesser known but nonetheless crucial films as Stranger on the Third Floor Pitfall and Dead Reckoning Krutnik has produced a provocative and highly readable study of one of Hollywood most perennially fascinating groups of films

Warped Minds Temenuga Trifonova,2025-10-01 Warped Minds explores the transformation of psychopathologies into cultural phenomena in the wake of the transition from an epistemological to an ontological approach to psychopathology Trifonova considers several major points in this intellectual history the development of a dynamic model of the self at the fin de siècle the role of photography and film in the construction of psychopathology the influence of psychoanalysis on the transition from static universalizing psychiatric paradigms to dynamic styles of psychiatry foregrounding the socially constructed nature of madness and the decline of psychoanalysis and the aestheticization of madness into a trope describing the conditions of knowledge in postmodernity as evidenced by the transformation of multiple personality and paranoia into cultural and aesthetic phenomena
