regulation and normalization offers limitless grounds for a critical investigation The modern self both as the revelation of the inner self and as a reflection of the collective arises from the dialogical interplay within the intersubjective communicative space of social discourse The bestiary proposed in this series of articles attempts to rethink the spectacle consisting of modern dichotomies by which the self is declined along ontological metaphysical and ethical premises the real and the ideal the said and the unsaid the rational and the irrational the bound and the free the familiar and the exotic the universal and the particular self and world The reader is therefore encouraged to engage in a multiple reading of the articles presented in this collection As individual scholarly pieces of inquiry these articles provide thoughtful insights into the inexhaustible topic of modernity and the modern subject they tell stories of the past the present and of a prospective future As academic works however they also reflect and or unsettle disciplinary paradigms and scholarly practices from which they acquire legitimacy and visibility they conform apply reconfigure and or experiment with new grounds by borrowing from an eclectic mix of various thinkers their tools and their axiomatic propositions that constitute their theoretical and critical apparatus This exercise is ultimately an introspective journey in which we are placed not only as the spectator the one who gazes through the bars but also the spectacle the beast subject to the gaze finding itself in a predicament of which the subject itself is the architect
