

Bean Brew Case Study Answer Sheet

Critical Reading

1. Does this article help you understand companies' effect on customers or company events better or does it simply repeat what you already know?
 The author has introduced me with different information related to the company's operations and has provided relevant empirical research information through the findings of the study. It has also provided me with the price that different beans are provided with, as they are used to be sold throughout the nation.
2. Do you have any questions about what you've read? Do you have any suggestions or advice that you would like to provide about this research?
 I agree with the findings that the author has provided for beans and companies. The price that is set for different beans is more expensive than beans. The findings are more than enough to show the price that is set for the beans and the highest is for the beans that are sold in the market.

Question 1: How is this study different from other studies that have been published in the field of organizational behavior?

1. The study is different from other studies because it is the first study to show that the company's effect on customers is not only a function of the company's size but also of the company's location. The study is also the first to show that the company's effect on customers is not only a function of the company's size but also of the company's location.
2. The study is different from other studies because it is the first study to show that the company's effect on customers is not only a function of the company's size but also of the company's location.
