Astounding Stories Super Science Vol 193:

Yesterday's Faces, Volume 2 Robert Sampson, 1984 The second volume within this series presents more than fifty series characters within pulp fiction selected to represent four popular story types from the 1907-1939 pulps: scientific detectives, occult and psychic investigators, jungle men, and adventurers in interplanetary romance. Some characters, Tarzan, John Carter of Mars, Craig Kennedy, Anthony Buck Rogers, became internationally known. Others are now almost forgotten except by collectors and specialists.

The Time Machines Mike Ashley, 2000-12-01 Originally conceived as a trilogy, this is the first of five volumes that chart the history of the science fiction magazine from the earliest days to the present. This first volume looks at the exuberant years of the pulp magazines. It traces the growth and development of the science fiction magazines from when Hugo Gernsback launched the very first Amazing Stories in 1926 through to the birth of the atomic age and the death of the pulps in the early 1950s. These were the days of the youth of science fiction when it was brash, raw, and exciting; the days of the first great space operas by Edward Elmer Smith and Edmond Hamilton through the cosmic thought variants by Murray Leinster, Jack Williamson, and others to the early 1940s when John W. Campbell at Astounding did his best to nurture the infant genre into adulthood. Under him, such major names as Robert A. Heinlein, Isaac Asimov, A. E. van Vogt, and Theodore Sturgeon emerged, who along with other such new talents as Ray Bradbury and Arthur C. Clarke helped create modern science fiction. For over forty years, magazines were at the heart of science fiction, and this book considers how the magazines and their publishers, editors, and authors influenced the growth and perception of this fascinating genre.

Time Machines Paul J. Nahin, 2001-04-20 This book explores the idea of time travel from the first account in English literature to the latest theories of physicists such as Kip Thorne and Igor Novikov. This very readable work covers a variety of topics, including the history of time travel in fiction, the fundamental scientific concepts of time, spacetime, and the fourth dimension; the speculations of Einstein, Richard Feynman, Kurt Gödel, and others; time travel paradoxes; and much more.
