Providing Quality of Service QoS in the Internet is currently the most challenging topic for researchers industry and network providers Now the only available service in the Internet is the best effort service which assumes traffic is processed as quickly as possible but there is no guarantee as to timely or actual delivery On the other hand there is pressure to offer new applications in the Internet like VoIP videoconferencing on line games e commerce etc but this requires some packet transfer guarantees from the network e g low packet transfer delay low packet losses To meet these requirements new architectures for providing IP based QoS in the Internet are proposed Integrated Services IntServ and Differentiated Services DiffServ However these architectures need some enhancements to provide adequate solutions for resource management signaling traffic engineering traffic handling mechanisms etc In the European research community a number of projects inside the Fifth Framework Programme were addressed solving the above issues among these AQUILA Adaptive Resource Control for QoS Using an IP Based Layered Architecture CADENUS Creation and Deployment of End User Services in Premium IP Networks and TEQUILA Traffic Engineering for Quality of Service in the Internet at Large Scale are excellent examples The main achievements from these projects are the prototypes for fixed QoS IP networks The extension of these proposed solutions into the wireless environment is the next step

Smirnov, 2003-06-29 The papers in this book present various viewpoints on the design and implementation of techniques for QoS engineering for Internet services They were selected from more than 70 submissions to the 1st International workshop on Quality of future Internet services QofIS organized by COST Action 263 The main focus of the papers is on the creation configuration and deployment of end to end services over a QoS assured Internet using the IntServ Integrated Services and DiffServ Differentiated Services models The main technical programme was completed by two keynote talks IETF Chair Fred Baker opened the workshop with a discussion on major Internet development directions and Andrew M Odlyzko of AT T Labs Research gave the closing talk on Internet charging issues The presentation of papers was organised in 9 sessions The emphasis of Session 1 is on an assessment of the essential building blocks for a QoS assured Internet i e queueing and scheduling which basically defines the space for end to end services The papers of this session discuss the bounds we may expect from these building blocks the issues of queueing and scheduling management and the parameters we need to tune in a dynamic implementation Flow control and congestion control cannot be considered without regard to the dominating impact of TCP The keyword of Session 2 is therefore Internet friendly adaptation Four papers in this session are complementary and together present an emerging understanding of a
