John Astley, 2006 In Why Don't We Do It In The Road the author looks back to the 1960s and the global phenomenon surrounding four young men from Liverpool The names and the songs are well known but the why is more difficult to assess even with hindsight against the glare of the music industry's powerful myth making apparatus John Astley deploys his forensic skills as a sociologist to develop an original take on the kaleidoscopic landscape that gave birth to The Beatles phenomenon The reader is invited to take a peep back into the recent past at the post War years in England the trembling class structure of an exhausted society and the advent of global communications in the 1960s as the music industry and British culture is unmade and remade. Put another way, Why Don't We Do It In The Road is a question that has gone unanswered for four decades until now. John Astley is a writer and lecturer and is a frequent contributor to journals, conferences and radio talks. As a sociologist of culture, he is also the author of three volumes of collected essays: Liberation, Domestication, Culture Creativity and Professionalism Practice. Field Recordings from the Inside Joe Bonomo, 2017-02-14 Using as its epigraph and unifying principle Luc Sante's notion that "Every human being is an archeological site," Field Recordings from the Inside provides a deep and personal examination of the impact of music on our lives. Bonomo effortlessly moves between the personal and the critical, investigating the ways in which music defines our personalities, tells histories, and offers mysterious, often unbidden access into the human condition. The book explores the vagaries and richness of music and music making, from rock and roll, punk and R & B to Frank Sinatra, Nashville country and Delta blues, as well as the work of a diverse group of artists and figures: Charles Lamb, music writer; Lester Bangs, painter and television personality; Bob Ross, child country musician; Troy Hess and songwriter; Greg Cartwright. Mining the often complex natures and shapes of the creative process, Field Recordings from the Inside is a singular work that blends music appreciation, criticism, and pop culture from one of the most critically acclaimed music writers of our time.

Love You to Pieces Suzanne Kamata, 2008-05-01 The first collection of literary writing on raising a child with special needs, Love You to Pieces features families coping with autism, deafness, muscular dystrophy, Down syndrome, and more. Here, poets, memoirists, and fiction writers paint beautiful, wrenchingly honest portraits of caring for their children, laying bare the moments of rage, disappointment, and guilt that can color their relationships. Parent-child communication can be a challenge at the best of times, but in this collection, we witness the struggles and triumphs of those who speak their own language or don't speak at all, and those who love them deeply.
