Beauty Of A Black Woman:

The Beauty of a Black Woman Theresa Lewis, 2015-10-07 Throughout history black women have experienced extreme challenges and criticisms from both their white and black counterparts As a black woman I can't ignore the struggles we have to overcome daily or the strengths that we gain from those struggles The Beauty of a Black Woman is more than a book of poems and prayers it's also covers a variety of topics that affect black women Self Esteem Abuse Love Relationships Motherhood and Religion I encourage black men as well as black women to read The Beauty of a Black Woman to gain a greater appreciation for our culture and for a deeper understanding of what it means to be A Black Woman Ebony, 1980-11 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine Black Women in Interracial Relationships Kellina Craig-Henderson, 2017-07-28 According to the most recent U S census twice as many black men are involved in interracial relationships as black women Do black women consciously resist such involvement What motivates the relatively few women who are in these types of relationships And how do they navigate the unfamiliar terrain in intimacy One of the most popular explanations for black women's involvement in interracial intimacy is the unavailability of eligible black men This explanation focuses on the dismal statistics popularly discussed in reports that forecast lonely futures for African American females Craig Henderson explores another more provocative explanation She argues that some black women may disassociate from larger social stereotypes by consciously and strategically making choices that distance them from what is considered characteristic of the typical African American woman Scant serious attention has focused upon intimate interracial relationships perhaps because of a general reluctance to deal with two extremely provocative issues race and sex As rates of interracial relationships continue to increase discussions about interracial intimacy are relevant and timely Craig Henderson considers the continuing taboo of interracial relationships involving African Americans the way this taboo is changing and the way that contemporary race relations perpetuate longstanding stereotypes about race and sex The book includes in depth unstructured interviews with a wide range of black women currently involved in interracial intimate relationships Each individual discusses their relationships with family members beliefs about the influence of race in America unique problems associated with interracial intimacy as well as sexual attraction racial identity and children Of particular interest to specialists in race gender family and sexual issues this work is also accessible and appealing to general readers Ebony, 1977-02 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine Imagining the Black Female Body C. Henderson, 2010-12-20 This volume explores issues of black female identity through the various imaginings of the black female body in print and visual culture Contributions emphasize the ways in which the black female body is framed and how black women and their allies have sought to write themselves back into social discourses on their terms Ebony, 1980-08

Maxine Leeds Craig, 2002-06-20 Black is Beautiful The words were the exuberant rallying cry of a generation of black women who threw away their straightening combs and adopted a proud new style they called the Afro The Afro as worn most famously by Angela Davis became a veritable icon of the Sixties Although the new beauty standards seemed to arise overnight they actually had deep roots within black communities Tracing her story to 1891 when a black newspaper launched a contest to find the most beautiful woman of the race Maxine Leeds Craig documents how black women have negotiated the intersection of race class politics and personal appearance in their lives Craig takes the reader from beauty parlors in the 1940s to late night political meetings in the 1960s to demonstrate the powerful influence of social movements on the experience of daily life With sources ranging from oral histories of Civil Rights and Black Power Movement activists and men and women who stood on the sidelines to black popular magazines and the black movement press Ain't I a Beauty Queen will fascinate those interested in beauty culture gender class and the dynamics of race and social movements
