Taxation and Financing Public Health Lyla Latif, 2023-11-25 Islamic Wealth Taxation and Financing Public Health is an eye opening and thought provoking book that boldly explores new possibilities for funding public health initiatives in countries where Islam isn't the predominant religion. In this case Kenya serves as the focal point. Written by a Pan African Muslim woman, this book is a must read for anyone curious about innovative ways to improve public health without overburdening taxpayers. The author delves into the concept of zakat, an Islamic wealth tax, and investigates how it could be used as a source of revenue to boost public health in non-Islamic states like Kenya. By shedding light on the inner workings of the Kenyan legal system, the book highlights the importance of understanding local power dynamics, cultural and religious beliefs, and political structures when examining legal issues. It's a fascinating look at how different legal frameworks can come together to tackle complex challenges, which brings together insights from human rights law, Islamic law, and constitutional law, showcasing the potential for interdisciplinary collaboration in solving real-world problems. One of the reasons this book is so timely and important is its alignment with global development goals such as the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), the African Union Agenda 2063, and National Development Plans. These initiatives all emphasise the need for countries to find new local funding sources without overtaxing their citizens. Exploring zakat as a potential solution in Kenya is particularly interesting given the country's influence in East Africa and the potential impact of such a development in the region.

The Status of Student Involvement in University Governance in Kenya Mulinge, Munyae M., Arasa, Josephine N., 2017-05-05 This book examines the concept of the democratization of governance in universities in Kenya, with particular emphasis on students' involvement in governance processes and decision making. Data were collected from members of the student community utilizing a structured self-administered questionnaire and from purposively selected key informants and focus group discussants drawn from Kenyatta University representing the public sector and the United States International University representing the private sector. The guiding argument for the study was that shared governance, one of the principles of good governance, is critical in enabling the universities to deliver their visions and the missions effectively. The results revealed that while in principle Kenyan universities have embraced democratic governance in which all stakeholders, including students, have a role to play, in practice they continue to violate the core principles of good governance, particularly shared governance. Specifically, students who are major stakeholders in university education are largely excluded from significant structures of governance, thereby limiting their influence and participation. Although their representation is mainly provided via student self-governance organs, unions, associations, and/or councils, their effectiveness is undermined considerably by the lack of trust and confidence of the student body and the unending manipulation by top university administrators and external political actors. Student active involvement in decision making is mainly confined to lower levels such as the school faculty and departmental programme. The authors call for a paradigm shift in the involvement of students in the governance of universities in ways that discourage the current culture of tokenism and political correctness that characterizes public and private universities in Kenya

Thin Film Coatings Fredrick Madaraka Mwema, Tien-Chien Jen, Lin Zhu, 2022-06-19 Thin Film Coatings Properties Deposition and Applications discusses the holistic subject of conventional and emerging thin film technologies without bias to a specific technology based on the existing literature. It covers properties and delves into the various methods of thin film deposition including the most recent techniques and a direction for future developments. It also discusses the cutting edge applications of thin film coatings such as self healing and smart coatings biomedical hybrid and scalable thin films. Finally the concept of Industry 4.0 in thin film coating technology is examined. This book explores a wide range and is not specific to material and method of deposition. Demonstrates the application of thin film coatings in nearly all sectors such as energy and anti microbial applications. Details the preparation and properties of hybrid and scalable ultra thin materials for advanced applications. Provides detailed bibliometric analyses on applications of thin film coatings. Discusses Industry 4.0 and 3D printing in thin film technology. With its broad coverage this comprehensive reference will appeal to a wide audience of materials scientists and engineers and others studying and developing advanced thin film technologies.

Polymer-Silica Based Composites in Sustainable Construction Harrison Shagwira, Fredrick Madaraka Mwema, Thomas Ochuku Mbuya, 2021-12-26 This book presents the application of Polymer Silica Based Composites in the Construction Industry providing the fundamental framework and knowledge needed for the sustainable and efficient use of these composites as building and structural materials. It also includes characterization of prepared materials to ascertain mechanical chemical and physical properties and analyses results obtained using similar methods. Topics such as life cycle analysis of plastics application of plastics in construction and elimination of plastic wastes are also discussed. The book also provides information on the outlook and competitiveness of emerging composites materials. Covers theory preparation and characterizations of polymer silica based composites for green construction. Discusses technology reliability manufacturing cost and environmental impact. Reviews the classification application and processing of polymer silica composites. Gives a deeper analysis on the various tests carried out on polymer silica composite. Highlights role of such composites in the Industry 4.0 and emerging technologies. This book is aimed at graduate students and researchers in civil engineering built environment construction materials and materials science.

Building Innovation Capabilities for Sustainable Industrialisation Rasmus Lema, Margrethe Holm Andersen, Rebecca Hanlin, Charles Nzila, 2021-11-15 This book argues that renewable electrification in developing countries provides important opportunities for local economic development but new pathways are required for turning these opportunities into successful reality. Building Innovation Capabilities for Sustainable Industrialisation offers a novel input into the debate on development of capabilities for sustainable industrialisation and delivers key insights for both researchers and policy makers when it comes to the question of how to increase the economic co benefits of renewables expansion. The chapters in the book use a tailored analytical framework in their studies of renewable electrification efforts in Kenya and other countries in sub Saharan Africa. They draw on a mix of project sector and country level case studies to address questions such as What capabilities are developed through on going renewable electrification projects in developing economies How can the expansion of renewable electrification be supported in a way that also encourages sustainable economic development What role do international linkages South South and North South play and what role should they play in the greening of energy systems in developing economies The authors provide a new understanding of how green transformation and sustainable industrialisation can be combined highlighting the opportunities and constraints for local capability building and the scope for local policy action This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of development studies energy studies sustainability and sustainable development as well as practitioners and policy makers working in development organisations and national governments The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9781003054665> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Capacity Building for Maritime Security Christian Bueger, Timothy Edmunds, Robert McCabe, 2020-10-09 This book studies recent attempts to restructure maritime security sectors through capacity building It innovates both theoretically and empirically It proposes a new framework for understanding maritime capacity building drawing on work in peacebuilding and security sector reform The framework is then applied across empirical case studies from the Western Indian Ocean WIO region written by scholars from the Global South The WIO region is a paradigmatic case to study maritime security and capacity building in action Countries in the region face the full gamut of maritime security challenges while their indigenous capacities to deal with these are often weak In consequence the region functions as an engine of innovation for maritime capacity building more widely The lessons and best practices from the region have importance consequences for addressing maritime security across the globe

The Pentecostal World Michael Wilkinson, Jörg Haustein, 2023-04-01 The Pentecostal World provides a comprehensive and critical introduction to one of the most vibrant and diverse expressions of contemporary Christianity Unlike many books on Pentecostalism this collection of essays from all continents does not attempt to synthesize and simplify the movement's inherent diversity and fragmented dispersion Instead the global flows of Pentecostalism are firmly grounded in local histories and expressions as well as the various modes of their worldwide reproduction The book thus argues for a new understanding of Pentecostal and Charismatic movements that accounts for the simultaneous processes of pluralization and homogenization in contemporary World Christianity Written by a distinguished team of international contributors across various disciplines the volume is comprised of six parts with each offering a critical perspective on classical themes in the study of Pentecostalism Led by a programmatic introduction the thirty six chapters within these parts explore a variety of themes history and historiography conversion spirit beliefs and exorcism prosperity politics gender relations sexual identities racism development migration pilgrimage interreligious relations media ecumenism and academic research The Pentecostal World is essential reading for students and researchers in anthropology history political science religious studies sociology and
