Cut Off Points For Universities Year 2015 In Kenya:

Advancing Africa's Sustainable Development Alain L. Fymat, 2018-11-14 While many African countries lag behind the rest of the industrialised world in scientific and medical research and development the situation is progressively improving This is why the Society for the Advancement of Science in Africa was established to contribute to economic advancement and sustainability through science research education and innovation This book provides a selection of papers from the Advancement of Science in Africa's fourth annual conference The conference was held under the overarching theme of science technology and innovation in Africa with several important sub themes including but not limited to improving health research and disease surveillance education collaborating in research responding to epidemic diseases with high mortality in Africa and promoting women's interest in science careers The collection illustrates how although the chapter contributors come from various countries and universities representing their own academic research they all share a common interest in advancing science technology and innovation in Africa

Higher Education Financing in East and Southern Africa Pundy Pillay, 2010 This nine country study of higher education financing in Africa includes three East African states Kenya Tanzania and Uganda five countries in southern Africa Botswana Lesotho Mozambique Namibia and South Africa and an Indian Ocean island state Mauritius Higher Education Financing in East and Southern Africa explores trends in financing policies paying particular attention to the nature and extent of public sector funding of higher education the growth of private financing including both household financing and the growth of private higher education institutions and the changing mix of financing instruments that these countries are developing in response to public sector financial constraints This unique collection of African country case studies draws attention to the remaining challenges around the financing of higher education in Africa but also identifies good practices lessons and common themes

Equality in Kenya's 2010 Constitution Victoria Miyandazi, 2021-02-25 This book makes a significant contribution to the ongoing global conversations on the various understandings of equality It illuminates the many ways in which diverse equality guarantees clash or are interrelated It also sets out principled approaches on how they can be coherently interpreted to address the myriad inequalities in Kenya Taking a comparative approach the book considers how other jurisdictions including the United States United Kingdom Canada South Africa India and Botswana have approached the conceptualisation interpretation and application of various equality concepts The book focuses on important issues such as transformative constitutionalism in relation to the interpretation of Kenya's 2010 Constitution expanding the list of enumerated grounds for non discrimination affirmative action accommodating religious and cultural diversity versus gender equality the interrelation between socio economic rights and status based equality

New Themes in Institutional Analysis Georg Krücken, Carmelo Mazza, Renate E. Meyer, Peter Walgenbach, 2017-08-25 Institutional theory has become one of the dominant organizational approaches in recent decades Its roots can be traced to Europe and an important intellectual objective of this book is to examine North American theory strands and reconnect them with European research traditions In addition this book focuses on how organizations and individuals handle heterogeneous and challenging social conditions which are subsequently reflected in various forms of change Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) Progress in Kenya ,2010 Sharing Higher Education's Promise beyond the Few in Sub-Saharan Africa Peter Darvas, Shang Gao, Yijun Shen, Bilal Bawany, 2017-11-15

Despite a spectacular expansion of the higher education sector in Sub Saharan Africa the supply of tertiary education has generally failed to keep pace with demand and the region continues to lag all other regions in terms of access to tertiary education This is in part a consequence of deeply entrenched patterns of inequitable access to higher education and the perpetuation of what researchers refer to as elite systems To date access to tertiary education in Sub Saharan Africa has unduly benefitted students drawn from the region's wealthiest households and overall enrollment remains disproportionately male and metropolitan These factors stifle the catalytic potential of higher education corroding its potential for driving economic growth and sustaining poverty reduction Instead patterns of access to tertiary education have generally reinforced and reproduced social inequality instead of eroding its pernicious social and economic effects This report aims to inform an improved understanding of equity in tertiary enrollment in Sub Saharan African countries and to examine the extent to which inequity functions as a bottleneck inhibiting the ability of African universities to effectively drive improvements in overall quality of life and economic competitiveness In our survey of the evidence we also aim to identify which policies most effectively address the challenge of promoting equity of access in SSA tertiary education systems In order to achieve these objectives the report collects, generates and analyzes empirical evidence on patterns of equity examines the underlying causes of inequity and evaluates government policies for addressing inequity The Report: Bahrain 2019 Oliver Cornock, Despite its diversified economy Bahrain has nonetheless faced pressures in recent years as a result of the 2014-15 drop in global oil prices However a multibillion dollar aid package from other Gulf states and an accompanying fiscal adjustment plan as well as growth following a partial oil price recovery and a major oil and gas discovery offer hope for an economic turnaround in 2019 Official Records ,1946 Internationalisation of African Higher Education Chika Sehoole, Jane Knight, 2013-10-30 The role of higher education especially the international dimension is given little importance in the discourse on achieving the Millennium Development Goals MDGs in Africa This book aims to change that The potential of higher education's contribution to Africa's development remains unrealized and often misunderstood In today's globalised world which prioritises economic growth through liberalised trade and competitive market strategies much emphasis has been placed on higher education's ability to produce graduates to serve the labour market and produce new knowledge for the knowledge economy While these are important contributions the book argues that international higher education and new knowledge must go beyond economic purposes and serve the human and social development needs of the continent It is against this background that the African Network for the Internationalisation of Education ANIE undertook research on the international dimension of higher education in Africa and its role in the achievement of the MDGs Through empirical research seven case studies address how international and regional higher education programmes and policies in African universities can address MDG priorities of promoting gender equality and women s empowerment combating HIV AIDS and establishing global partnerships for development through academic mobility joint research initiatives curriculum innovation and policy development Small Arms Survey 2015 Keith Krause,2015-07-30 Highlights emerging trends and concerns regarding armed violence and small arms proliferation as well as related policies and programming Plenary Meetings, Annexes United Nations. Bienen,2015-03-08 Kenya has been the object of much controversy among students of African politics Some view it as one of the greatest successes of the post independence period others see it as an example of all that is wrong with African development Henry Bienen approaches this controversy by asking whether the concept of political participation has been properly understood in the African context His case study of political participation in Kenya discusses administration party politics ethnicity and class He suggests that in a system dominated by elites individuals and groups exert influence primarily through patron client networks and local administrative and party organs Local politics is the most important arena for most people it is argued As long as the regime adopts policies which maximize economic growth and take account of peasant middle and small holders and as long as individual representatives can be replaced even though no change of regime occurs limited political participation leads to political stability Originally published in 1974 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 History of Soybeans and Soyfoods in France (1665-2015) William Shurtleff; Akiko Aoyagi,2015-04-21 The world s most comprehensive well documented and well illustrated book on this subject With extensive index 145 photographs and illustrations Free of charge in digital format on Google Books Understanding Human Evolution Ian Tattersall,2022-07-28 An authoritative account of human evolution explaining the nature of the evidence and providing a new interpretation Global Energy Assessment Thomas B.
