Giraffeian

He lives in purple pears that are perfectly perpendicular.

He eats green grubs and gravestones from the graveyard.

He likes dumb Doritos dipped in dirt.

He smells like hamburger helper hurt by a horse.

He piled, pooped, pumped, and pulled at & on my leg.

Creature Alliteration Poem:

Writing Simple Poems Vicki L. Holmes, Margaret R. Moulton, 2001-07-16 Writing Simple Poems is a resource book that shows teachers how to use poetry writing to teach grammar and writing conventions. Appropriate for any age or fluency level, the book can be used by ESL, foreign language, or bilingual teachers as an adjunct to their writing program. Regular classroom teachers will find it useful for language arts. The first part of the book focuses on methodology and offers suggestions for ways to integrate poetry writing with the curriculum. The second part of the book contains twenty-five easy-to-follow lesson plans, each with poetry models and sample poems written by students of various ages and linguistic backgrounds. The third part of the book offers an index of teaching points and a glossary of grammar terms.

My Mind-Boggling Poems Sandra Nixdorf, 2024-01-08 From the whimsical mind of eleven-year-old poet Sandra Nixdorf comes a colourful collection of poems that will delight children and parents both. My Mind Boggling Poems contains over fifty creative, fun, and hilarious poems and is brimming with vibrant illustrations, all drawn by the author. Wacky animals, goofy aliens, delicious food, and more are brought to life by Sandra's imagination in wonderfully playful language. The collection also demonstrates more than ten kinds of poems, from alliteration poems to limericks to haiku, and beyond, helping kids learn about different types of poetry and inspiring them to write their own. My Mind Boggling Poems is a perfect read-along book for adults with young children and for reading-age children and pre-teens to enjoy on their own. Help young minds have fun and discover a love of poetry with My Mind Boggling Poems.

The Poems of William Dunbar with Introductions, Notes and Glossary, The Figure of the Animal in Modern and Contemporary Poetry Michael Malay, 2018-06-05 This book argues that there are deep connections between poetic thinking and the sensitive recognition of creaturely others. It explores this proposition in relation to four poets: Marianne Moore, Elizabeth Bishop, Ted Hughes, and Les Murray. Through a series of close readings and by paying close attention to issues of sound, rhythm, simile, metaphor, and image, it explores how poetry cultivates a special openness towards animal others. The thinking behind this book is inspired by J. M. Coetzee's The Lives of Animals. In particular, it takes up that book's suggestion that poetry invites us to relate to animals in an open-ended and sympathetic manner. Poets, according to Elizabeth Costello, the book's protagonist, return the living, electric being to language, and doing so compels us to open our hearts towards animals and the claims they make upon us. There are special affinities for her between the music of poetry and the recognition of others. But what might it mean to say that poets return life to language? And why might this have any bearing on our relationship with animals? Beyond offering many suggestive starting points, Elizabeth Costello says very little about the nature of poetry's special relationship with the animal. One aim of this study, then, is to ask of what this relationship consists, not least by examining the various ways poets have bodied forth animals in language.

Reading the Runes in Old English and Old Norse Poetry Thomas Birkett, 2017-03-27 Reading the Runes in Old English and Old Norse Poetry is the first book length study to compare responses to runic heritage in the literature of Anglo Saxon England and medieval Iceland The Anglo Saxon runic script had already become the preserve of antiquarians at the time the majority of Old English poetry was written down and the Icelanders recording the mythology associated with the script were at some remove from the centres of runic practice in medieval Scandinavia Both literary cultures thus inherited knowledge of the runic system and the traditions associated with it but viewed this literate past from the vantage point of a developed manuscript culture There has as yet been no comprehensive study of poetic responses to this scriptural heritage which include episodes in such canonical texts as Beowulf the Old English riddles and the poems of the Poetic Edda By analysing the inflection of the script through shared literary traditions this study enhances our understanding of the burgeoning of literary self awareness in early medieval vernacular poetry and the construction of cultural memory and furthers our understanding of the relationship between Anglo Saxon and Norse textual cultures The introduction sets out in detail the rationale for examining runes in poetry as a literary motif and surveys the relevant critical debates The body of the volume is comprised of five linked case studies of runes in poetry viewing these representations through the paradigm of scriptural reconstruction and the validation of contemporary literary historical and religious sensibilities

Tennyson's Philological Medievalism Sarah Weaver, 2024-12-17 Considers Tennyson's poems from the elegiac In Memoriam to the Arthurian Idylls of the King in the context of Victorian interest in philology How do words come to mean what they mean and how can we hope to use them precisely when they are constantly changing The urge to find a word's meaning through its etymology is an old and enduring one gaining new momentum in the nineteenth century as advocates of the so called new philology argued that major revelations were to be found within the biographies of everyday expressions Developing hand in hand with a growing national interest in all things Anglo Saxon language study simultaneously seemed to offer a pathway to the roots of English culture and to illuminate human history on a grand scale Alfred Tennyson 1809 1892 came of age in the midst of this exploding popularity of both Anglo Saxonism and philology and he did so among men who were to be responsible for advancing both fields This study places this preeminent Victorian poet in the context of the period's preoccupation with the history of language It shows that the intellectual milieu that surrounded him encouraged him to revive archaic words and to reveal the literal metaphors lurking within his words Moreover his familiarity with past forms of English enabled him to arrange the connotations of his vocabulary for precise effect Surveying his techniques at every scale from individual vowels to narratives this book argues that Tennyson held a more optimistic view of language than scholars have generally supposed and shows the sophistication of his philological techniques The History of English Poetry Thomas Warton, 1781 Putting Writing Research into Practice Gary A. Troia, Rebecca K. Shankland, Anne Heintz, 2010-04-29 What are the most effective methods for teaching writing across grade levels and student populations What kind of training do teachers need to put research validated methods into practice This unique volume combines the latest writing research with clear cut recommendations for designing high quality professional development efforts Prominent authorities describe ways to help teachers succeed by using peer coaching cross disciplinary collaboration lesson study and other professional development models All aspects of instruction and assessment are addressed including high stakes writing assessments applications of technology motivational issues writing in different genres and subject areas and teaching struggling writers History of English Poetry Thomas Warton, 1968 Talking Books James Carter, 2013-01-11 Talking Books sets out to show how some of the leading children's authors of the day respond to these and other similar questions The authors featured are Neil Ardley Ian Beck Helen Cresswell Gillian Cross Terry Deary Berlie Doherty Alan Durant Brian Moses Philip Pullman Celia Rees Norman Silver Jacqueline Wilson and Benjamin Zephaniah They discuss with great enthusiasm their childhood reading habits how they came to be published how they write on a daily basis how a particular book came together a type of writing that they are especially known for Through in depth interviews they each reveal their approach to their craft Much is known and spoken of the product that is the children's book but it is rare that writers are given the opportunity to talk at length about the process of writing for children Talking Books redresses the balance by presenting a wide selection of authors of fiction non fiction and poetry reflecting upon the joys and challenges of the craft creativity and process of writing for children Environment Poetry Andrew Frolish, 2012-10-19 This is a great new resource that provides a selection of poems lesson plans and worksheets designed to be used by Key Stage 2 teachers in literacy lessons The poems and lesson plans are based on a variety of environmental issues such as recycling dramatic weather changes and environmental disasters like oil spills The book contains 24 lessons with cross curricular links to support learning in other subject areas Their interest coincides with the need for schools to raise awareness of environmental concerns and to become more sustainable organisations
