low achieving schools and schools serving disadvantaged children have reacted sympathetically to the reform Suburban schools high achieving schools and schools serving wealthier families have been less willing to detrack Drawing on extensive survey and case study data Loveless concludes that this reform s fate is in the hands of local decisionmakers Schools formulate tracking policy based on their own institutional organizational political and technical considerations All school reform entails risks One troubling implication of this study is that the risks of detracking are being assumed by schools with some of society s most vulnerable youngsters
