Jaiswal, Jay Prakash Verma, Tarun Belwal, Arthur Prudêncio De Araujo Pereira, Avinash Bapurao Ade, 2023-07-14 Systems Biology and Antimicrobial Drug Resistance Vijay Soni, Saurabh Mishra, Aditya Kumar Sharma, Neha Dubey, 2024-09-18 Antimicrobial resistance AMR poses a significant threat to global public health With the emergence of new resistant strains and limited antibiotic treatment options it has become increasingly difficult to treat infections effectively This is particularly concerning for bacterial infections like Mycobacterium tuberculosis Acinetobacter spp Staphylococcus aureus and Pseudomonas aeruginosa where only a limited number of antibiotics are available for treatment According to the US National Strategy for Combating Antibiotic Resistant Bacteria approximately 2 million Americans are infected with antibiotic resistant bacteria each year and at least 23 000 die as a result

The situation is even worse in developing countries Systems biology which aims to understand the complex interactions between the different components of a biological system has emerged as a powerful tool for studying AMR By integrating data from multiple sources including genomics transcriptomics proteomics and metabolomics systems biology can provide a comprehensive view of the mechanisms underlying AMR This approach can lead to the identification of novel targets for drug development and the development of personalized treatment strategies that consider the specific characteristics of individual patients and the pathogens that infect them This Research Topic aims to explore the potential of systems biology in combating antibiotic resistance and highlight the need for further research to fully realize its clinical potential in infectious diseases

Molecular Organization of Membranes: Where Biology Meets Biophysics Marek Cebecauer, David Holowka, 2018-02-07 Biological membranes protect cells and organelles from the surrounding environment but serve also as organising platforms for physiological processes such as cell signalling The hydrophobic core of membranes is composed of lipids and proteins influencing each other Local membrane composition and properties define its molecular organisation and in this way regulate the function of all associated molecules Therefore studying interactions of components biophysical properties and overall membrane dynamics provides essential information on its function in the context of cell activities Such knowledge can contribute to biomedical fields such as pharmacology immunology neurobiology and many others The goal of the Research Topic entitled Molecular organisation of membranes where biology meets biophysics was to provide a comprehensive platform for publishing articles reviews and opinions focused on membrane organisation and the forces behind its heterogeneous and dynamic structure We collected 11 works which cover topics as diverse as general membrane organisation models membrane trafficking and signalling regulation biogenesis of caveolae protein lipid interactions and the importance of membrane associated tetraspanins networks The prevalent theme was the existence of membrane nanodomains To this point new emerging technologies are presented which own the power to bring a novel insight on how membrane nanodomains are formed and maintained and what is their function We believe that the collection of works in this Research Topic brings forward some important questions which will stimulate further research in this difficult but exciting field
