ADHD in adulthood which is estimated to be around one percent in the general population. These people have often experienced lifelong underachievement, they feel misunderstood and have not received the help they need. Reflecting the growing awareness of this problem, ADHD in Adults provides a comprehensive account of the presentation of adulthood ADHD, its assessment and treatment. Written by experienced practitioners in the field, the book introduces a cognitive behavioural model of ADHD from which the authors developed the Young Bramham Programme. This is a unique modular framework for assessing and treating people with adulthood ADHD and associated problems using practical intervention techniques. The book is accompanied by the Young Bramham Programme Companion Website www.wiley.com/go/adhdadults that provides downloadable materials for use by clients and therapists. ADHD in Adults is invaluable reading for clinicians working with adult ADHD clients in many different settings including primary care, adult mental health, learning disability, forensic neuropsychiatry and neuropsychology. It will also be a useful self-help resource for ADHD clients, friends, family and supporters.

A Casebook of Cognitive Behaviour Therapy for Command Hallucinations Sarah Byrne, Max Birchwood, Peter E. Trower, Alan Meaden, 2007-05-07. Command hallucinations are a particularly distressing and sometimes dangerous type of hallucination about which relatively little is known and for which no evidenced-based treatment currently exists. In A Casebook of Cognitive Behaviour Therapy for Command Hallucinations, the development of a new and innovative evidence-based cognitive therapy is presented in a practical format ideal for the busy practitioner. This new approach is based on over a decade's research on the role of voice hearers' beliefs about the power and omnipotence of their voices and how this drives distress and acting on voices. The therapy protocol is presented in clear steps from formulation to intervention. The body of the book describes its application in eight cases illustrating the breadth of its application, including complex cases. The authors also present their interpretation of what their findings tell us about what works and doesn't work and suggestions for future developments. Subjects covered also include understanding command hallucinations, a cognitive versus a quasi-neuroleptic approach to CBT in psychosis, does CBT for CH work, findings from a randomised controlled trial. This book provides a fascinating and very practical summary of the first intervention to have a major impact on distress and on compliance with command hallucinations. It will be of great interest to all mental health practitioners working with people with psychosis in community and forensic settings.
