Artificial Landscape Contemporary Architecture Urbanism:

The Artificial Landscape Anne Hoogewoning, 2000 The architecture and architectural culture of the Netherlands have been causing quite a stir in recent years a great many remarkable new buildings and projects testify to the current flowering in Dutch architecture urban planning and landscaping that is so exciting to so many in and out of the field Artificial Landscape illustrates the results of this late twentieth century surge of creativity and traces the background of its success examining both the Dutch phenomenon and its socio historical context to find out what makes it work so well What we find is that even in a period of globalization there is still such a thing as a Dutch climate yet despite this culture's specific national character we have much to learn from it particularly where its unique synthesis of architecture urbanism and landscaping is concerned This exciting movement is represented by a selection of designs built works ideas plans and manifestoes from such architects and firms as OMA Rem Koolhaas Neutelings Riedijk MVRDV Maunse Nio and Max 1 to name only a few Apart from recording the state of things in Dutch architecture Artificial Landscape also serves as a survey of contemporary architectural criticism collecting the most important critiques of Dutch architecture urban planning and landscape architecture to have appeared in recent years

The Landscape Urbanism Reader Charles Waldheim, 2012-03-20 In The Landscape Urbanism Reader Charles Waldheim who is at the forefront of this new movement has assembled the definitive collection of essays by many of the field's top practitioners Fourteen essays written by leading figures across a range of disciplines and from around the world including James Corner Linda Pollak Alan Berger Pierre Bolanger Julia Czerniak and more capture the origins the contemporary milieu and the aspirations of this relatively new field The Landscape Urbanism Reader is an inspiring signal to the future of city making as well as an indispensable reference for students teachers architects and urban planners

The New Architectural Pragmatism William S. Saunders, 2007 In response to the contentious process surrounding the selection of a design for the World Trade Center site the use of spectacular buildings to brand cities and institutions and the dizzying transformations of the skylines of Shanghai and Dubai public awareness of architecture and design has perhaps never been higher At the same time architecture itself is undergoing an identity crisis as it confronts fundamental issues the effect of digital technology on design the pervasive impact of global capitalism and whether to embrace or resist popular media and taste The New Architectural Pragmatism collects the most provocative penetrating and influential attempts by leading theorists and practitioners in the field to define what architectural practice should be at the beginning of the twenty first century Written in the aftermath of modernism's utopian impulse and postmodernism's detached playfulness the essays gathered here express and critique a new spirit of cultural and political engagement with contemporary society Interrogating the architect's social responsibility the contributors deliberate about how much we should ask of architecture and suggest that in the coming century architecture must be at once flexible and robust responsive and self directed Contributors Stan Allen George Baird Lucy Bullivant James Corner Hal Foster Kenneth

New Directions in Contemporary Architecture Luigi Prestinenza Puglisi, 2008-05-05 Rem Koolhaas has defined architecture as a chaotic adventure Nothing could be more true than that of the last two decades Never has architecture been so unbridled and so extraordinary the architectural cast has never been so wide and their works so diverse What though if you are new to the subject How is it possible to make sense of this seemingly unruly architectural landscape There are so many different types of architecture so many designers with such varying and even contradictory approaches This book is a much needed navigation guide for anyone interested in modern architecture Organised chronologically it enables you to find your way through one of the most prolific periods of building design It looks at buildings in often contrasting styles that have been built almost simultaneously across the world with their roots in very different tendencies and schools of thought A loose but effective framework is provided which pulls all these multiple threads together while key buildings are described individually with a unique clarity and precision Aaron Betsky Director of Cincinnati Art Museum Comprehensive coherent and cogent Puglisi's book sorts out the messy history of the last quarter century of the world's best architecture Professor Iain Borden Head Bartlett School of Architecture UCL Illuminating and insightful a must have read for students Hans Ibelings Editor of A10 new European architecture Lucid and concise Charles Jencks Architecture Critic and Author A compelling comprehensive overview of the avant garde since 1988 as it oscillates in and out of the global star system Bill Menking Editor of The Architect's Newspaper This is the first clear and systematic study of the culture of architecture from the reds of deconstruction to the sustainable greens

Contemporary Architecture and Urbanism in Iran M. Reza Shirazi, 2018-01-02 This book presents an in depth critical analysis of the internationally recognized place specific works of three Iranian architects Nader Ardalan Kamran Diba and Hossein Amanat during the 60s and 70s and their significant contribution to the emerging anti modernist discourse It argues that from the mid 19th century onwards architecture and urban design in Iran has been oscillated between two extremes of modernity and tradition Drawing on the theory of critical regionalism Kenneth Frampton the book critically analyses writings and works of the above mentioned architects and contends that they created a space in between which unified two extremes of tradition and modernity in a creative way Khalq i Jadid New Creation The book also contains three in depth interviews with architects to discuss their singular narrative of the creation of in between A concluding chapter addresses the promises of critical regionalist architecture and urban design in post Revolutionary Iran as well as the Middle East where the dichotomy of tradition and modernity is yet a valid account 109 Provisional Attempts to Address Six Simple and Hard Questions about what Architects Do Today and where Their Profession Might Go Tomorrow Jennifer Sigler, 2003 Short essays by respected architects and theorists around the question What is an architect in today s society Architecture and Urbanism in Modern Korea Inha Jung, 2013-07-31 Although modernization in Korea started more than a century later than in the West it has worked as a prominent ideology throughout the past century in particular it has brought radical changes in Korean architecture and cities Traditional structures and ways of life have been thoroughly uprooted in modernity s continuous negation of the past This book presents a comprehensive overview of architectural development and urbanization in Korea within the broad framework of modernization Twentieth century Korean architecture and cities form three distinctive periods The first defined as colonial modern occurred between the early twentieth century and 1945 when Western civilization was transplanted to Korea via Japan and a modern way of life albeit distorted began taking shape The second is the so called developmental dictatorship period Between 1961 and 1988 the explosive growth of urban populations resulted in large scale construction booms and architects delved into modern identity through the locality of traditional architecture The last period began in the mid 1990s and may be defined as one of modernization settlement and a transition to globalization With city populations leveling out urbanization and architecture came to be viewed from new perspectives Inha Jung however contends that what is more significant is the identification of elements that have remained unchanged Jung identifies continuities that have been formed by long standing relationships between humans and their built environment and despite rapid modernization are still deeply rooted in the Korean way of life For this reason in the twentieth century regionalism exerted a great influence on Korean architects Various architectural and urban principles that Koreans developed over a long period while adapting to the natural environment have provided important foundations for architects works By exploring these sources this carefully researched and amply illustrated book makes an original contribution to defining modern identity in Korea s architecture housing and urbanism The Modern Urban Landscape E. C. Relph, 1987-08 Why do the cities of the late twentieth century look as they do What values do their appearance express and enfold Their sheer scale and the durability of their materials assure that our cities will inform future generations about our era in the same way that gothic cathedrals and medieval squares tell us something of the Middle Ages In the meantime our urban landscapes can tell us much about ourselves For E C Relph the urban landscape must be envisioned as a total environment not just streets and buildings but billboards and parking meters as well The Modern Urban Landscape traces the developments since 1880 in architecture technology planning and society that have formed the visual context of daily life Each of these shaping influences is often viewed in isolation but Relph surveys the ways in which they have operated independently to create what we see when we walk down a street shop in a mall or stare through a windshield on an expressway Two sets of ideas and fashions Relph argues have had an especially important impact on urban landscapes in the twentieth century An internationalism made possible by new building technologies and more rapid communications has replaced regional style and custom as the dominant feature of city appearance while a firm belief in the merits of self consciousness has imposed logical analysis and technical manipulation on such commonplace objects as curbstones and park benches As a result writes Relph the modern urban landscape is both rationalized and artificial which is another way of saying that it is intensely human
