

Dynamic Technical Analysis

Philippe Cahen

Dynamic Technical Analysis (DTA) is a powerful tool which allows traders and investors to predict market trends. While the 'Old School' of Technical Analysis (Cotter's, Dreyfus, Chande, Cogburn, etc.) is based on price, Philippe Cahen's book provides the tools for a new and robust way of predicting markets.

Dynamic Technical Analysis

- Provides reliable results for predictability
- Provides excellent position for speculators and investors
- Uses several parameters to predict price changes
- Provides reliable signals over the long term on the financial markets
- Allows differentiation between various kinds of markets

Dynamic Technical Analysis is a practical book which describes various methods and indicators used to predict movements. It can be used to analyze markets, although it offers numerous experimental results, depending on many models. Technical analysis, probability measures, and forecasts, as well as general indicators, will all find their place here.
