Asian Cities, Migrant Labor and Contested Spaces Tai-Chee Wong, Jonathan Rigg, 2010-09-13 This volume explores how migration is playing a central role in the renewing and reworking of urban spaces in the fast growing and rapidly changing cities of Asia Migration trends in Asia entered a new phase in the 1990s following the end of the Cold War which marked the advent of a renewed phase of globalization Cities have become centrally implicated in globalization processes and therefore have become objects and sites of intense study The contributors to this book reflect on the impact and significance of migration with a particular focus on the contested spaces that are emerging in urban contexts and the economic social religious and cultural domains with which they intersect They also examines the roles and effects of different forms of migration in the cauldron of urban change from low skilled domestic migrants who maintain a close engagement with their rural homes to highly skilled professional transnational migrants to legal and illegal international migrants who arrive with the hope of transforming their livelihoods Providing a mosaic of insights into the links between migration marginalization and contestation in Asia s urban contexts Asian Cities Migrant Labor and Contested Spaces will be of interest to students and scholars of Asian studies migration studies urban studies and human geography Asian Cities, Migrant Labor and Contested Spaces Tai-Chee Wong, Jonathan Rigg, 2010-09-13 This book explores how migration plays a central role in the renewing and reworking of urban spaces in the rapidly changing cities of Asia The contributors examine the roles and effects of different forms of migration in the arena of urban change considering low skilled domestic migrants professional transnational migrant and legal and illegal international migrants Cleavage, Connection and Conflict in Rural, Urban and Contemporary Asia Tim Bunnell, D. Parthasarathy, Eric C. Thompson, 2012-12-11 Asia the location of the world s fastest growing economies is also home to some of the fastest rates of urbanization humanity has ever seen a process whose speed renders long term outcomes highly unpredictable This volume contrasts with much published work on the rural urban divide which has tended to focus on single case studies It provides empirical perspectives from four Asian countries India Indonesia Malaysia and Thailand and includes a wealth of insights that both critique and expand popular notions of the rural urban divide The volume is relevant not just to Asian contexts but to social scientific research on population dynamics more generally Rather than deploying a single study to chart national trends three chapters on each country make possible much more complex perspectives As a result this volume does more than extend our understanding of the interplay between cities and hinterlands within Asia It enhances our notions of rural urban cleavages connections and conflicts more generally with data and analysis ready for application to other contexts Of interest to diverse scholars across the social sciences and Asian studies this work includes accounts ranging from rural youth real estate entrepreneurs in Hyderabad India to social development in Aceh province in Indonesia devastated by the 2004 tsunami to the relationship between urban space and commonly held notions of the supernatural in Thailand s northern city of Chiang Mai Temporality in Mobile Lives Shanthi

The SAGE Handbook of Asian Foreign Policy Takashi Inoguchi, 2019-11-25 Comprising 603 pages, 3 percent of the world's 7.2 billion population Asia is an enigma to many in the West. Hugely dynamic in its demographic, economic, technological, and financial development, its changes are as rapid as they are diverse. The SAGE Handbook of Asian Foreign Policy provides the reader with a clear, balanced, and comprehensive overview on Asia's foreign policy and accompanying theoretical trends. Placing the diverse and dynamic substance of Asia's international relations first and bringing together an authoritative assembly of contributors from across the world, this is a reliable introduction to non-Western intellectual traditions in Asia.

Social Inequality in Post-Growth Japan David Chiavacci, Carola Hommerich, 2016-09-13 In recent decades Japan has changed from a strongly growing, economically successful nation regarded as a prime example of social equality and inclusion to a nation with a stagnating economy, a shrinking population, and a very high proportion of elderly people. Within this, new forms of inequality are emerging and deepening, and a new model of Japan as gap society (kakusa shakai) has become common sense. These new forms of inequality are complex, are caused in different ways by a variety of factors, and require deep-seated reforms in order to remedy them. This book provides a comprehensive overview of inequality in contemporary Japan. It examines inequality in labour and employment, in welfare and family, in education, and in social mobility in the urban-rural divide, and concerning immigration, ethnic minorities, and gender. The book also considers the widespread anxiety effect of the fear of inequality and discusses how far these developments in Japan represent a new form of social problem for the wider world.

Routledge Handbook of Urbanization in Southeast Asia Rita Padawangi, 2018-10-11 The study of urbanization in Southeast Asia has been a growing field of research over the past decades. The Routledge Handbook of Urbanization in Southeast Asia offers a collection of the major streams and themes in the studies of the cities in the region. A focus on the urbanization process rather than the city as an object opens the topic more broadly to bring together different perspectives. This timely handbook presents these diverse views to build a clearer understanding of theoretical contributions of urban studies in Southeast Asia and to provide a complete collection of scholarly works that are thematically structured and a useful tool for teaching urbanization in Southeast Asia. Following the introduction by the editor, the handbook is structured along central, emerging themes. It contains six parts, which are each introduced by the editor: Theorizing Urbanization in Southeast Asia, Migration Networks and Identities, Development and Discontents, Environmental Governance, The Social Production of the Urban Fabric, Social Change and Alternative Development. This handbook will be an essential reference work for scholars interested in Urban Studies, cities, and urbanization in Asia and Southeast Asian Studies.

Global China: Internal And External Reaches Bryan Pak Nung Wong, Joseph Yu-shek Cheng, 2015-03-26 After two decades since the disintegration of Soviet Union in 1991 the largest and the most populist socialist state the People's Republic of China does not only manage to stay intact but has also emerged as the second largest economy in the world Moreover its political diplomatic military and cultural reaches have been extended to various parts of the world There have been many factual and fictional discussions and debates in the public domains on China's apparent rise either as a threat or an opportunity This book will take on these discussions and debates to provide theory informed empirical studies regarding a few research questions We consider that the idea and concept of Global China is perhaps the most viable analytical instrument to capture such increasingly complex phenomena in association with the rise of China International

Handbook of Urban Policy: Contentious global issues H. S. Geyer, 2007-01-01 This first Handbook in a series of three original reference works looks at globally contentious urban policy issues from a wide variety of different angles and perspectives Matters related to urban densification population mobility urban inequality and sustainability are analysed in a manner that will not only interest the advanced student but also the novice Urban policy covers a vast field This first volume combines chapters covering three broad themes policy issues pertaining to the spatial aspects of the city social and mobility issues and issues of urban governance The spotlight initially falls on urban structure urban densification the disappearing urban rural divide the urban economic landscape and the transformation of socialist economies The Handbook then goes on to focus on migration social mobility crime terrorism and social inequality Finally urban sustainability and urban governance come under the spotlight Integration of the planning process flexibilities in infrastructure and areas of neglect in environmental management feature strongly in this section of the Handbook Books of this nature are often slanted in one particular direction however this Handbook's approach is different Not only has the editor avoided shying away from politically sensitive issues but contributions have also been included that reflect distinct differences of opinion on politically sensitive issues hence the volume's subtitle of contentious global issues As a Handbook the chapters have been written not only for the advanced student and academics but also with undergraduate students in mind The Handbook will appeal to scholars and researchers of geography and urban and development planning demography and social science and environmental scientists for the focus on urban sustainability issues Spatial Justice, Contested Governance and Redclift,2013-06-26 What does it mean to be a citizen In depth research with a stateless population in Bangladesh has revealed that despite liberal theory s reductive vision the limits of political community are not set in stone The Urdu speaking population in Bangladesh exemplify some of the key problems facing uprooted populations and their experience provides insights into the long term unintended consequences of major historical events Set in a site of camp and non camp based displacement it illustrates the nuances of political identity and lived spaces of statelessness that Western political theory has too long hidden from view Using Bangladesh as a case study Statelessness and Citizenship Camps and the creation of political space argues that the crude binary oppositions of statelessness and citizenship are no longer relevant Access to and understandings of citizenship are not just jurally but socially spatially and temporally produced Unpicking Agamben s distinction between political beings and bare life the book considers experiences of citizenship through the camp as a social form The camps of Bangladesh do not function as bounded physical or conceptual spaces in which denationalized groups are altogether divorced from the polity Instead citizenship is claimed at the level of everyday life as the moments in which formal status is transgressed Moreover once in possession of formal status internal borders within the nation state render rights bearing citizens effectively stateless and the experience of citizens is very often equally uneven While statelessness may function as a cold instrument of exclusion certainly it is neither fixed nor static just as citizenship is neither as stable nor benign as the dichotomy would suggest Using these insights the book develops the concept of political space an analysis of the way history and space inform the identities and political subjectivity available to people In doing so it provides an analytic approach of relevance to wider problems of displacement citizenship and ethnic relations Shortlisted for this year s BSA Philip Abrams Memorial Prize
