Kenya National Assembly Official Record (Hansard) ,1996-04-23 The official records of the proceedings of the Legislative Council of the Colony and Protectorate of Kenya the House of Representatives of the Government of Kenya and the National Assembly of the Republic of Kenya Kenya National Assembly Official Record (Hansard) ,1996-04-23 The official records of the proceedings of the Legislative Council of the Colony and Protectorate of Kenya the House of Representatives of the Government of Kenya and the National Assembly of the Republic of Kenya The Institution of Engineers of Kenya Conference on Engineer in Liberalized Market ,2007 The Status of Student Involvement in University Governance in Kenya Mulinge, Munyae M.,Arasa, Josephine N.,2017-05-05 This book examines the concept of the democratization of governance in universities in Kenya with particular emphasis on students involvement in governance processes and decision making Data were collected from members of the student community utilizing a structured self administered questionnaire and from purposively selected key informants and focus group discussants drawn from Kenyatta University representing the public sector and the United States International University representing the private sector The guiding argument for the study was that shared governance one of the principles of good governance is critical in enabling the universities to deliver their visions and the missions effectively The results revealed that while in principle Kenyan universities have embraced democratic governance in which all stakeholders including students have a role to play in practice they continue to violate the core principles of good governance particularly shared governance Specifically students who are major stakeholders in university education are largely excluded from significant structures of governance thereby limiting their influence and participation Although their representation is mainly provided via student self governance organs unions associations and or councils their effectiveness is undermined considerably by the lack of trust and confidence of the student body and the unending manipulation by top university administrators and external political actors Student active involvement in decision making is mainly confined to lower levels such as the school faculty and departmental programme The authors call for a paradigm shift in the involvement of students in the governance of universities in ways that discourage the current culture of tokenism and political correctness that characterizes public and private universities in Kenya Higher Education Financing in East and Southern Africa Pundy Pillay,2010 This nine country study of higher education financing in Africa includes three East African states Kenya Tanzania and Uganda five countries in southern Africa Botswana Lesotho Mozambique Namibia and South Africa and an Indian Ocean island state Mauritius Higher Education Financing in East and Southern Africa explores trends in financing policies paying particular attention to the nature and extent of public sector funding of higher education the growth of private financing including both household financing and the growth of private higher education institutions and the changing mix of financing instruments that these countries are developing in response to public sector financial constraints This unique collection of African country case studies draws attention to the remaining challenges around the financing of higher education in Africa but also identifies good practices lessons and common themes

Financial Markets Evans Nyabuto Gekonde, Dominic Shukrani Kenga, Georgina Wanga Ifire, Agnes Ayako Athiambo, Lukas Keller, Nurul Hidayah, 2024-04-29 TOPICS IN THE BOOK Influence of Investor Behavior on Investment Choices among Equity Fund Managers of Listed Firms at Nairobi Securities Exchange Kenya Effect of Investment Diversification in Real Estate on the Financial Performance of Retirement Benefits Schemes in Kenya Factors Limiting Credit Uptake among the Youth in Kenya Impact of Financial Regulations on Market Liquidity in Germany Exchange Rate Volatility and International Trade in Turkey Trails in Academic and Administrative Leadership in Kenya Michieka, Ratemo Waya, 2017-05-03 Scholars especially those interested in understanding how leadership has inhibited academic freedom and hindered effectiveness of institutions of higher learning have for long been engaged by the very important manner in which governance and leadership of higher education institutions in Africa is constituted and managed The fact that there has been a dearth of work based on the experiences of those who have served as university leaders has created a major gap Questions remain on how leaders of higher education institutions are identified how they are prepared the personal predispositions that individuals bring to the exercise of such positions and their personal experiences regarding what energizes or inhibits the performance of their work Until recently presidents in most African countries served as chancellors of public universities identification of those who served as university leaders was largely a political process But much has changed with most countries establishing oversight bodies and the overall governance of higher education institutions divorced from the day to day political processes Trails in Academic and Administrative Leadership in Kenya provides a personal account of the experiences in higher education leadership from an individual whose tenure in leadership straddled the two eras In this book Prof Michieka provides an account of how his early education prepared him for roles in academic and institutional leadership in Kenya The author shares his experiences on the trails he had to navigate as an academic a vice chancellor and a chairperson of university council at a time when universities in Kenya were transiting from extreme government administrative control to a greater degree of operational autonomy Readers will find in this work thought provoking insights on how leaders of higher education institutions in Kenya have had to balance between demands of the political system and the need to safeguard academic traditions in the everyday management of the institutions Global excellence in ethnopharmacology: Africa Hellen Oketch-Rabah, David R. Katerere, Fawzi Mohamad Mahomoodally, 2025-07-31 The practice of traditional medicine in Africa

African Traditional Medicine ATM has a long history dating back thousands of years and has resulted in a wealth of therapeutic agents from plants and animals used in the treatment of diseases. Most of the associated knowledge about these medicines has been passed down from generation to generation via oral folklore. However, as a result of westernization and globalization and the loss of natural habitats and biodiversity as well as the loss of oral traditions, the empirical knowledge associated with medicinal substances is at a risk of being lost forever. A great deal of related research has been done and published in academic doctorate and master's theses, most of which are available only as hard copies at the respective universities in herbal texts and journals. Most of these works have not been published and made available to the international community. It is well acknowledged that the origin of many drugs can be traced back to natural sources, for example, artemisinin, ephedrine, tubocurarine, digoxin, reserpine. Some popular herbal medicines have their origin in African plants, for example, Umckaloabo EPs 7630, a standardized proprietary extract of Perlagonium sidoides used in some over-the-counter medicines for upper respiratory infections. Other African plants have also offered medicines and/or healthcare products and pharmacologically active compounds, e.g., Prunus africana bark extracts for the management of prostate and lower urinary tract symptoms (LUTS), yohimbe from Pausinystalia johimbe or Bitter Aloe or Cape Aloe, Aloe ferox. This Research Topic is intended to highlight primary research on pharmacological and biological effects of plants, fungi, animals, microorganisms, and minerals used in African traditional medicine for humans and livestock. We welcome articles on the documentation of indigenous knowledge on medicines and medical practices, the pharmacology and pharmacognosy of indigenous African medicines, and the search for pharmacologically active principles of traditional African medicines. Review articles covering the study areas delineated above should reflect the multi-disciplinary nature of ethnopharmacology. The sub-topics to be covered within this Research Topic include but are not limited to the following: Pharmacological and biological effects of organisms, plants, fungi, animals, microorganisms, and minerals used in African traditional medicine; Indigenous knowledge on medicines, medical practices, ethnoveterinary food and cosmetic uses; Pharmacology and/or pharmacognosy of indigenous African medicines; The search for pharmacologically active principles of traditional African medicines; antivirals, antibacterial, antifungal; Clinical trials using formulations based on ATM; Commercialization and R & D utilizing African bioresources. All the manuscripts submitted to the collection will need to fully comply with the Four Pillars of Best Practice in Ethnopharmacology; you can freely download the full version here. We also expect that the MS follow the standards established in the ConPhyMP statement. Front Pharmacol 13:953205.

Extensional Tectonics Ibrahim Çemen, Elizabeth J. Catlos, 2025-04-15 A synthesis of current knowledge on global extensional tectonics. The extension of Earth's lithosphere occurs at divergent plate boundaries as well as in plate interiors. The geological, geochemical, and sedimentary processes of extension offer insights into topics ranging from the fundamentals of tectonics to the evolution of life. Extensional Tectonics: Rifting and Continental Extension reviews present-day knowledge of extensional tectonic processes and explores examples from around the world. Volume highlights include: Overview of extensional tectonic processes from continental rifting to oceanic basin formation; In-depth examination of extension along rift systems and rift margins; Review of post-collisional continental extension; Examples from Africa, Asia, Europe, and the Americas; Insights from observations, modeling, and 3D seismic data interpretation of extended terrains. This book is one of a set of three in the collection Tectonic Processes: A Global View. Browse the first volume: Compressional Tectonics: Plate Convergence to Mountain Building. The American Geophysical Union promotes discovery in Earth and space science for the benefit of humanity. Its publications disseminate scientific knowledge and provide resources for researchers, students, and professionals.

Engineering Principles, Modeling and Economics of Evaporative Coolers Daniel Ingo Hefft, Charles Oluwaseun Adetunji, Tilahun Seyoum Workneh, Duncan Onyango Mbugue, 2023-07-10. Engineering Principles: Modelling and Economics of Evaporative Coolers covers the basic engineering and technical principles behind the operation and construction of evaporative coolers, also highlighting challenges. The book presents the reader with selected case studies on modelling in the cooling chamber and explains the economic implications an evaporative structure can bring. Edited by a team of specialists, the book also explains the strong dependence of the technology's performance on environmental conditions and hence the limits on temperature control in the preservation of post-harvest agriculture products. Evaporative coolers are an ancient technology invented long before the introduction of chemical refrigerants as used in modern fridges or cooling towers. This two-volume set covers the topic with practical applications, construction techniques, and operation of the technology. Thoroughly explores unit operations and engineering principles of evaporative coolers. Includes CFD modelling on evaporative cooling structures. Covers the economics of evaporative coolers.
