The Engagement of Domestic Courts with International Law Eleni

Methymaki,2024-03-20 The relationship between domestic courts and international law is usually defined by the frameworks of monism and dualism The Engagement of Domestic Courts with International Law advances and develops a new paradigm for describing assessing and understanding the role of domestic courts in the international legal order Two trends are examined in parallel in this volume The traditional dividing lines between national and international law norms and institutions have become increasingly blurred However the practice of domestic courts can less and less be understood by reference to a formal approach that dictates how national legal orders receive international law The solutions that courts reach are often based on a variety of other considerations that are not captured by the classical formal models The aim of the book is to bring together the wide variety of types of engagement as an important step towards a better understanding of what courts do and eventually towards a normative exercise of articulating principles or guidelines for the engagement of domestic courts with international law To bring together the pragmatic approaches of domestic courts the International Law Association Study Group on Principles on the Engagement of Domestic Courts with International Law engaged in studies with experts from a variety of backgrounds On the basis of the Study Group s Final Report the editors of this book continued to work with experts from different jurisdictions to collect and analyse alternate pragmatic forms of engagement from domestic courts This publication contains the outcome of this process
