New Media Influence on Social and Political Change in Africa Olorunnisola, Anthony A., 2013-06-30 While transitioning from autocracy to democracy media in Africa has always played an important role in democratic and non democratic states focusing on politicians diplomats activists and others who work towards political transformations New Media Influence on Social and Political Change in Africa addresses the development of new mass media and communication tools and its influence on social and political change While analyzing democratic transitions and cultures with a theoretical perspective this book also presents case studies and national experiences for media new media and democracy scholars and practitioners

Wars Without End Noel Anderson, 2015-01-02 Despite untold human suffering widespread destruction and far reaching destabilization the fires of many of the world's most violent civil wars continue to burn How can we explain costly and stalemated yet seemingly endless conflicts Wars Without End provides an answer Bringing together battlefield bargaining dynamics the escalatory pressures of interstate competition and the systemic dimensions of geopolitical rivalry in civil wars the book challenges traditional conceptions of proxy war by deriving new propositions about the strategic logics that motivate it Combining statistics with detailed case studies it explains how protracted fighting within states is linked to enduring competition between them

Integrating Food into Urban Planning Yves Cabannes, Cecilia Marocchino, 2018-11-22 The integration of food into urban planning is a crucial and emerging topic Urban planners alongside the local and regional authorities that have traditionally been less engaged in food related issues are now asked to take a central and active part in understanding how food is produced processed packaged transported marketed consumed disposed of and recycled in our cities While there is a growing body of literature on the topic the issue of planning cities in such a way they will increase food security and nutrition not only for the affluent sections of society but primarily for the poor is much less discussed and much less informed by practices This volume a collaboration between the Bartlett Development Planning Unit at UCL and the Food Agricultural Organisation aims to fill this gap by putting more than 20 city based experiences in perspective including studies from Toronto New York City Portland and Providence in North America Milan in Europe and Cape Town in Africa Belo Horizonte and Lima in South America and in Asia Bangkok and Tokyo By studying and comparing cities of different sizes from both the Global North and South in developed and developing regions the contributors collectively argue for the importance and circulation of global knowledge rooted in local food planning practices programmes and policies

Enabling legal frameworks for sustainable land use investments in Zambia: Legal assessment report Pamela T Sambo, Caroline Haywood, D Andrew Wardell, Robert Kibugi, Marie-Claire Cordonier Segger, 2015-11-08 The International Development Law

Organization IDLO and the Center for International Forestry Research CIFOR assessed the legal frameworks that govern land use activities and investments in Zambia The economy of Zambia relies significantly on land and natural resource capital The Government of Zambia has identified land use investments as essential to the development of key economic sectors energy forestry mining and agriculture Land use investments are increasing in Zambia led by both foreign and domestic private investors The Constitution explicitly recognizes the importance of balancing the need to attract investments to develop the country with the need to ensure their environmental and social sustainability

COVID-19 and Migration: Understanding the Pandemic and Human Mobility Ibrahim Sirkeci, Jeffrey H. Cohen, 2020 The COVID 19 pandemic has disrupted every domain of life Migration and human mobility in general are not exceptions Since March 2020 researchers policy makers and many others have channelled their efforts to understand this new coronavirus its impact and prospects Many scholars were thinking and writing on the pandemic from its onset and many blog essays quickly appeared One of the earliest peer reviewed research articles Sirkeci and Yucesahin 2020 is reproduced here This article and its focus on mobility and travel data showed that it was possible to predict the spatial spread and concentration of COVID 19 cases Not only was this finding crucial to developing appropriate policies and strategies to counter the spread of the virus it reminded us that the pandemic is a social disease and not simply a biological threat The contributions in this book should be considered in this regard tackling the social and policy aspects as we leave the biological and medical side to the experts Covid 19 introduces new uncertainties for everyone For agriculture the longer term effects of the pandemic include faster mechanization more guest workers and rising imports Responses are likely to vary by commodity and be shaped by government policies Philip L Martin Professor Emeritus University of California Davis USA The COVID 19 pandemic reminds us of just how many people across the world rely on mobility for their livelihood taxi drivers delivery workers street vendors maintenance technicians of long distance operation systems all employees in the hospitality sector not forgetting the most vulnerable at this time the homeless beggars and street kids especially in the global South who have to move from place to place to get food to find a place to sleep through the night and to run away from police Biao Xiang Professor of Anthropology University of Oxford UK

 REMITTANCES AND REPERCUSSIONS Melissa Siegel Assembling Bus Rapid Transit in the Global South Malve Jacobsen, 2020-12-13 This book explores the mobile ethnography of Dar es Salaam where consultants and politicians have planned and implemented a bus rapid transit BRT system for two decades It analyses the dual processes of assembling BRT in the Tanzanian metropolis and establishing BRT as a policy model of and for the Global South The book elucidates how policy models are constructed and circulated around the globe and depicts the processes by which they are translated between and materialise within specific contexts It presents the case of BRT to demonstrate how technocrats shape these processes through persuasive work aimed at disseminating and stabilising this transport model and how local actors influence its adaptation in Dar es Salaam The book adopts a double mobility approach to show how this ethnography follows travelling consultants circulating policies and moving buses to explore the fluidity of the BRT model Linking key debates in policy mobility studies and Science and Technology Studies enriched with postcolonial perspectives and geographies of transport and infrastructure it offers new insights into the technopolitics of planning and implementing infrastructure systems This book will appeal to academics and students of human geography transport studies science and technology studies and African and development studies interested in the technopolitics of transport planning Negotiating Public Services in the Congo Tom De Herdt, Kristof Titeca, 2019-06-15 The Democratic Republic of Congo DRC has been widely derided as a failed state unable to meet the basic needs of its citizens But while state infrastructure continues to decay many essential services continue to be provided at the local level often through grassroots initiatives So while for example state funding for education is almost non-existent average school enrolment remains well above average for Sub-Saharan Africa

This book addresses this paradox bringing together key scholars working on public services in the DRC to elucidate the evolving nature of governance in developing countries Its contributions encompass a wide range of public services including education justice transport and health Taking stock of what functions and why it contributes to the debate on public services in the context of real or hybrid governance beyond the state does the state still have a function or is it no longer useful and relevant Crucially how does international aid help or complicate this picture Rich in empirical detail the contributors provide a valuable work for students and scholars interested in the role played by non state actors in organizing statehood a role too often neglected in debates on post conflict reconstruction Handbook of Sustainability Science and Research Walter Leal Filho,2017-10-03 This multidisciplinary handbook explores concrete case studies which illustrate how sustainability science and research can contribute to the realization of the goals of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development It contains contributions from sustainability researchers from across the world Guide to Microforms in Print ,1989
