group tested words and practiced platitudes to the point that the American people can't pin down politicians' beliefs or even what party they belong to from decade to decade. Then Donald Trump came along. President Trump has a rhetorical style developed through a lifetime in the rough and tumble world of real estate development and entrepreneurship; he learned to communicate with people as partners and customers that is in a straightforward, unfiltered manner that resonates with people's hearts as well as their minds. Unfiltered includes a comprehensive reprinting of many of the president's most notable speeches and tweets organized for easy reference and given proper context. Monstrous Beings and Media Cultures Jessica Balanzategui, Allison Craven, 2025-10-01. Monstrous Beings and Media Cultures examines the monsters and sinister creatures that spawn from folk horror, Gothic fiction, and from various sectors of media cultures. The collection illuminates how folk monsters form across different art and media traditions and interrogates the 21C revitalization of folk as both a cultural formation and aesthetic mode. The essays explore how combinations of vernacular and institutional creative processes shape the folkloric and/or folkloresque attributes of monstrous beings, their popularity, and the contexts in which they are received. While it focuses on 21C permutations of folk monstrosity, the collection is transhistorical in approach, featuring chapters that focus on contemporary folk monsters, historical antecedents, and the pre-21st art and media traditions that shaped enduring monstrous beings. The collection also illuminates how folk monsters and folk horror travel across cultures, media, and time periods, and how iconic monsters are tethered to yet repeatedly become unanchored from material and regional contexts.

Images of War in Contemporary Art Uroš Cvor, Kit Messham-Muir, 2021-09-09. In Images of War in Contemporary Art, Uroš Cvor and Kit Messham-Muir mount a challenge to the dominance of theoretical tropes of trauma, affect, and emotion that have determined how we think of images of war and terror for the last 20 years. Through analyses of visual culture from contemporary war art to the meme wars, they argue that the art that most effectively challenges the ethics and aesthetics of war and terror today is that which disrupts this flow: art that makes alternative perceptions of wartime both visible and possible. As a theoretical work, Images of War in Contemporary Art is richly supported by visual and textual evidence and firmly embedded in current artistic practice. Significantly, though, the book breaks with both traditional and current ways of thinking about war art, offering a radical rethinking of the politics and aesthetics of art today through analyses of a diverse scope of contemporary art that includes Ben Quilty, Abdul Abdullah, Australia, Mladen Miljanovic, Nebojša Đukić, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Hiwa K. Wafaa, Bilal Iraq, Teresa Margolles, Mexico, and Arthur Jafa, United States.

Images, Ethics, Technology Sharrona Pearl, 2015-10-05. Images, Ethics, Technology explores the changing ethical implications of images and the ways they are communicated and understood. It emphasises how images change not only through their modes of representation but through our relationship to them In order to understand images we must understand how they are produced communicated and displayed Each of the 14 essays chart the relationship to technology as part of a larger complex social and cultural matrix highlighting how these relations constrain and enable notions of responsibility with respect to images and what they represent They demonstrate that as technology develops and changes the images themselves change not just with respect to content but in the very meanings and indices they produce This is a collection that not only asks who speaks for the art But also who speaks for the witnesses the cameras the documented the landscape the institutional platforms the taboos those wishing to be forgotten those being seen and the experience of viewing itself Images Ethics Technology is ideal for advanced level students and researchers in media and communications visual culture and cultural studies
