2014 Officer Certification Examination Schedule:

ECKM2014-Proceedings of the 15th European conference on Knowledge Management Carla Vivas,2014-10-01

The world economy in which we are living poses challenges that lead to a realization that more of the same will be difficult to sustain. This provides an illustration that in order to create new or modified knowledge practices, strengthen customer relationships and thus positively influence customer satisfaction, organizations must be flexible in configuring, combining knowledge and knowledge structures in a way that is appropriate for delivering value to the customer. It must simultaneously develop effective strategies for updating the knowledge of its staff members necessary for underpinning the creation and delivery of appropriate knowledge services. Thus, unlearning/forgetting becomes a critical means for organizational success. The ECKM community of scholars has already initiated dialogue that links its particular strengths to innovation issues. This conference aims to further that dialogue by attracting leading edge work that leverages the ECKM community's in-depth understanding of learning and unlearning to better understand knowledge management. Our aim is to stimulate breakthrough research streams linking learning, unlearning and knowledge management. How can organizations tailor use and extend techniques and tools from knowledge management for improving their business practices and processes? Building upon existing work on knowledge management, KM and organizational learning, the conference will promote interdisciplinary approaches from computer science and information systems, business management and organization science as well as cognitive science. Emphasis will be put on systematic learning from experience, KM tools and KM success factors. A special interest belongs to knowledge management initiatives which are lightweight, i.e. do not place considerable additional burden on users and KM experts, allow an incremental adoption, i.e. do not require large up-front investment before any return of investment is at least visible and are flexible regarding frequent changes in experts and topics. Continuing the success of the ECKM conference series since 2000, the 2015 conference will provide an international communication forum bringing together academia and industry for discussing the progress made and addressing the challenges faced by continuous learning in knowledge intensive organizations.

Employment Relations under Coalition Government Steve Williams, Peter Scott, 2016-06-10. Drawing on a wide range of up-to-date research, Employment Relations under Coalition Government critically examines developments in UK employment relations during the period of Conservative Liberal Democrat government between 2010 and 2015 against the background of the 2007-08 financial crisis, subsequent economic recession and in the context of the primacy accorded to neo-liberal austerity. Contributions cover a series of important and relevant topics in a rigorous yet accessible manner: labour market change and the rise of zero hours contracts and other forms of precarious employment; policy development relating to young people's employment; the coalition's welfare to work agenda; its programme of employment law reform and its approach to workplace equality and health and safety; labour migration; the experience of the trade unions under the coalition and their responses; and developments in employment relations in the public services This book addresses the broader issues relating to the coalition period such as the implications of political and regulatory change for employment relations including the greater devolution of powers to Scotland and Wales and locates UK developments in comparative perspective The book concludes with an assessment of the prospects for employment relations in the aftermath of the May 2015 Conservatives election victory Legislative Calendar United States.
