Islamic Accounting And Finance: A Handbook Khaled Hussainey,Hidaya Al Lawati,2023-03-23 Islamic finance is one of the fastest growing sectors in international banking and finance Owing to the increasing availability and ease of access to Islamic services Islamic finance has become increasingly important not only in Muslim countries but around the world making it a global industry Under the Gulf Cooperation Council GCC as well as in some regions such as the Middle East and North Africa a dual financial system is implemented where Sharia compliant products are marketed alongside conventional financial systems In this thoroughly researched collection of chapters researchers from around the world examine the role of Islamic finance in the economies and prospects of different companies They discuss Islamic finance literature from both theoretical and empirical perspectives The theoretical section of the book consists of conceptual chapters that enable readers to critically evaluate and expand their understanding of accounting and finance. The chapters in the empirical section of this handbook discuss and interpret empirical evidence to provide clear implications for practice research and society. This section bridges the gap between theory and practice and offers suggestions for future research.

Islamic Accounting and Finance is geared towards scholars and students but it is also of use to banking and finance practitioners. Legal, Regulatory and Governance Issues in Islamic Finance Rodney Wilson, 2012-07-30. From Iran where all banking is Shari'ah compliant to Malaysia and the Gulf where Islamic financial institutions compete with conventional banks, Rodney Wilson examines how Islamic financial institutions are licensed and governed by common and civil law. Covering Islamic banks, takaful operators, fund management and Shari'ah compliant securities, it examines how their assets and liabilities differ from their conventional counterparts and what the implications are for risk management.

Takaful and Islamic Cooperative Finance S. Nazim Ali, Shariq Nisar, 2016-07-27. Islamic finance distinguishes itself from conventional finance with its strong emphasis on the moral consequences of financial transactions, prohibiting interest, excessive uncertainty and finance of harmful business. When it comes to risk mitigation, it is unique in its risk sharing approach.

Islamic Banking and Finance in South-East Asia Angelo M. Venardos, 2012. Islamic Banking and Finance in South East Asia by Angelo M. Venardos has been a must read since its first edition in 2005 and has already been translated to Arabic. Now in its 3rd edition, the book offers important updates you can look forward to starting with the foundations of Islamic banking, developments and issues. The reader is then treated to a timely survey of Islamic banking in five South East Asian countries. Most of these chapters have been completely revamped from the last edition. One additional chapter has been added on Islamic Succession Planning, which introduces an increasingly essential aspect of Muslim life: that of managing one's wealth now and in the afterlife. Whether you are new to the topic or a practitioner in the industry, you will appreciate the accessible way in which the book is written.

According to the Asian Journal of Comparative Law, the book gives a broad overview yet manages to achieve this in a rather slim volume while providing depth of analysis at the same time.

The Islamic Finance Industry Burak Çıkıryel, Tawfik Azrak, 2023-05-26. Islamic finance has emerged to meet the financial needs of people who seek a different approach to conventional banking and finance. Due to its late inception, Islamic finance has often been regarded as an infant industry compared to its traditional counterparts. Even though the Islamic finance industry is still classified as nascent, it has shown rapid growth in the last decade or so. The primary objective of this book is to highlight the main issues and challenges the Islamic finance industry faces and to offer practical solutions. Firstly, the book classifies the main components of Islamic finance, such as money and banking, capital markets, fintech, microfinance, insurance, as well as morality and governance. Secondly, all of the chapters are combined according to their relationship and link with each other so as to provide readers with a unique and holistic overview of the subject. The chapters are written by well-renowned experts in the field. As well as offering readers theoretical information about each subject under discussion it also advances practical solutions that can contribute to the development of each field The book answers questions such as how money is created by banks what the business model of Islamic banking should look like whether Islamic microfinance institutions are sustainable what the likely framework of takaful should be what the potential role of fintech could be in reshaping the Islamic financial system and where and whether morality fits in the financial system The book will attract the attention of students researchers practitioners regulators and policymakers
