the decades leading up to the emergence of social democracy in Sweden and in particular the career of one prominent politician Paul Peter Waldenström 1838-1917 Waldenström was a clergyman revival preacher educator author and newspaper editor whose political career began in 1868 with his participation in the Church Assembly of the Church of Sweden His role expanded during his years of service in the Swedish parliament the Riksdag from 1884-1905 This study places Waldenström in dialogue with his contemporaries and opponents as a means of identifying how the theological values and priorities of the religious awakening were articulated in the public sphere and contributed to the development of a new political order

Contesting Africa's New Green Revolution Jacqueline A. Ignatova, 2021-06-17 Genetically modified crops have become a key element of development strategies across the Global South despite remaining deeply controversial Proponents hail them as an example of pro-poor innovation while critics regard them as a threat to food sovereignty and the environment The promotion of biotechnology is an integral part of new Green Revolution for Africa interventions and is also intimately linked to the rise of philanthrocapitalism which advances business solutions to address the problem of poverty Through interviews with farmers policymakers and agricultural scientists Jacqueline Ignatova shows how efforts to transform the seed sector in northern Ghana one of the key laboratories of this new Green Revolution may serve to exacerbate the inequality it was notionally intended to address But she also argues that its effects in Ghana have been far more complex than either side of the debate has acknowledged with local farmers proving adept at blending traditional and modern agricultural methods that subvert the interests of global agribusiness
