The Everyday Politics of Resources Nga Dao, 2025-05-15 The Everyday Politics of Resources explores the impact of development processes on the lives livelihoods and landscapes of the people of Northwest Vietnam Over the past two decades the homes and farms of hundreds of thousands of people have been appropriated to make way for dams rubber plantations and mining operations While this development has enriched the state and private enterprises it has also resulted in widespread hardship impoverishment and long term environmental destruction Nga Dao draws on more than twenty years of on the ground research in the region to show how these developments have affected people in vastly uneven ways creating wealth and stability for some while dispossessing others Filled with poignant and sometimes angry narratives by those who have lost their land and traditional livelihoods as well as more triumphant stories from those who have prospered under the capitalist transformation of the region The Everyday Politics of Resources is a timely urgent examination of modernization s benefits and costs Routledge Handbook of Autocratization in Southeast Asia Netina Tan,Yuko Kasuya,2025-07-31 The Routledge Handbook of Autocratization in Southeast Asia examines how global and domestic forces of autocratization affect regional and local politics It analyzes how the interactions of international and domestic factors affect actors and institutions in both democracies and autocracies in the region Bringing together a representative slate of both local and international junior and senior scholars of different methodological backgrounds this Handbook cross examines regional trends and provides an insider view of the causes and effects of autocratization in a region with diverse experiences with de colonization state building and economic and political developments The 28 chapters are organized into three sections Part I examines a range of structural international socio political technological and ideological causal factors of autocratization Part II offers a comparative analysis of the consequences of autocratization on key actors and democratic institutions Part III provides a more detailed study of autocratic consolidation and pushback in each country in Southeast Asia Taking into account structural historical institutional and cultural factors the contributors analyze how domestic actors and democratic institutions withstand the global forces of autocratization This Handbook fills empirical gaps in the current scholarship by focusing on all nation states in the Association of Southeast Asia Nations and Timor Leste varied regime types with diverse socio religious backgrounds It is the first authoritative reference work dedicated to Southeast Asia s autocratization and will be an indispensable reference work for academics and policymakers interested in democracy and autocracy regime transition and Southeast Asian politics

Agrarian Angst and Rural Resistance in Contemporary Southeast Asia Dominique Caouette,Sarah Turner,2009-09-10 Agrarian transformations market integration and globalization processes are impacting upon rural Southeast Asia with increasingly complex and diverse consequences In response local inhabitants are devising a broad range of resistance measures that they feel will best protect or improve their livelihoods ensure greater social justice and equity or allow them to just be left alone This book develops a multi scalar approach to examine such resistance occurring in relation to agrarian transformations in the Southeast Asian region The contributors take a fresh look at the diversity of sites of struggle and the combinations of resistance measures being utilized in contemporary Southeast Asia They reveal that open public conflicts and debates are taking place between dominators and the oppressed at the same time as covert critiques of power and everyday forms of resistance The book shows how resistance measures are context contingent shaped by different world views and shift according to local circumstances the opening and closing of political opportunity structures and the historical peculiarities of resistance dynamics By providing new conceptual approaches and illustrative case studies that cut across scales and forms this book will be of interest to academics and students in comparative politics sociology human geography environmental studies cultural anthropology and Southeast Asian studies It will also help to further debate and action among academics activists and policymakers From Grassroots Activism to Disinformation Aim Sinpeng, Ross Tapsell, 2020-10-21 This book reflects on the role of social media in the past two decades in Southeast Asia It traces the emergence of social media discourse in Southeast Asia and its potential as a liberation technology in both democratizing and authoritarian states It explains the growing decline in internet freedom and increasingly repressive and manipulative use of social media tools by governments and argues that social media is now an essential platform for control The contributors detail the increasing role of disinformation and fake news production in Southeast Asia and how national governments are creating laws which attempt to address this trend but which often exacerbate the situation of state control From Grassroots Activism to Disinformation explores three main questions How did social media begin as a vibrant space for grassroots activism to becoming a tool for disinformation Who were the main actors in this transition governments citizens or the platforms themselves Can reformists reclaim the digital public sphere And if so how Southeast Asian Affairs 2024 Daljit Singh, Hoang Thi Ha, 2024-05-09 Southeast Asian Affairs first published in 1974 continues today to be required reading for not only scholars but the general public interested in in depth analysis of critical cultural economic and political issues in Southeast Asia In this annual review of the region renowned academics provide comprehensive and stimulating commentary that furthers understanding of not only the region's dynamism but also of its tensions and conflicts It is a must read Suchit Bunbongkarn Emeritus Professor Chulalongkorn University Now in its fifty first edition Southeast Asian Affairs offers an indispensable guide to this fascinating region Lively analytical authoritative and accessible there is nothing comparable in quality or range to this series It is a must read for academics government officials the business community the media and anybody with an interest in contemporary Southeast Asia Drawing on its unparalleled network of researchers and commentators ISEAS is to be congratulated for producing this major contribution to our understanding of this diverse and fast changing region to a consistently high standard and in a timely manner Hal Hill H W Arndt Professor Emeritus of Southeast Asian Economies Australian National University China's Use of Armed Coercion James A. Siebens, 2023-11-17 This book analyzes when how why and to what effect China has used its armed forces in recent decades to coerce other actors in the international system Over the past 20 years China's international status as a great power has become undeniable China's peaceful rise has included substantial investments in military modernization and an increasingly assertive regional posture While China has not waged war since 1979 it has frequently resorted to what the U S State Department has referred to as gangster tactics threats intimidation and armed confrontation to advance its strategic aims This volume illuminates the ways in which China has employed its military and paramilitary tools to coerce other states and examines the motivations and specific foreign policy objectives that China has pursued using force short of war The study presents new analysis of an original dataset on coercive actions undertaken by China's armed forces taking into account the political objectives pursued and the environmental contexts in which these operations occurred. It also presents a series of expert case studies addressing the most consequential examples of China using force to coerce in recent decades. The volume contributes to a more historically informed empirically based understanding of great power competition. This book will be of much interest to students of Chinese security and foreign policy strategic studies Asian politics and International Relations

Southeast Asian Responses to Globalization Francis Loh Kok Wah, 2003-08-01 It is now apparent especially in the aftermath of the regional financial crisis of 1997 that globalization has been impacting upon the Southeast Asian economies and societies in new and harrowing ways a theme of many recent studies. Inadvertently these studies of globalization have also highlighted that the 1980s and 1990s debate on democratization in the region which focused on the emergence of the middle classes the roles of new social movements NGOs and the changing relations between state and civil society might have been overly one dimensional. This volume revisits the theme of democratization via the lenses of globalization understood economically politically and culturally. Although globalization increasingly frames the processes of democracy and development nonetheless the governments and peoples of Southeast Asia have been able to determine the pace and character even the direction of these processes to a considerable extent. This collection of essays by some distinguished senior scholars and other equally perceptive younger ones focuses on this globalization democratization nexus and shows empirically and analytically how governance is being restructured and democracy sometimes deepened in this new global era. A historical review introduces the volume while an analytical assessment of the ten case studies concludes it.

Liberation and Corruption Peter Hain, 2026-10 Why are liberation and independence movements often betrayed when their leaders get into government? This question has haunted Peter Hain for decades. A lifelong activist and politician Hain has over 50 years experience of battling corruption from his early days as a freedom fighter against apartheid to his time as a UK Labour MP cabinet minister and sitting member of the House of Lords. He offers a gripping exploration of why movements born from the ideals of justice and freedom often succumb to bad governance and corruption once in power. Combining rigorous analysis with well sourced evidence this book examines global examples ranging from Africa to Latin America Russia the Caribbean China and India. With the unique perspective of having navigated both the streets of protest and the corridors of power Hain reflects on the challenges of staying true to the values of liberation struggles while confronting their disappointing outcomes. Thought provoking and accessible this book is an essential read for anyone engaged in the fight for a better world.

Maritime Issues in the South China Sea Nien-Tsu Alfred Hu, Ted L. McDorman, 2013-10-31 South China Sea SCS issues are complex and dynamic ranging from historic claims to present day military occupation from military security to regional stability from rhetorical appeasements to national interests from intraregional competition to extraregional involvement. The submissions made in 2009 by several Southeast Asian states to the United Nations Commission on the Limits of the Continental Shelf (CLCS) respecting outer limits of extended continental shelves beyond 200 nautical miles in the South China Sea resulted in renewed attention to the maritime disputes over the insular features and the waters of the South China Sea among several claimant States. Questions have resurfaced about the future of cooperation in the region. Furthermore, the improvement of cross Strait relations between Taiwan and China after 2008 has added a new element to the evolution of South China Sea issues. This book describes these recent developments in depth and provides an examination of possible future developments in the South China Sea. The articles in this book were originally published as special sections in Ocean Development International Law. Almost Futures Thu-huong Nguyen-vo, 2024-06-11. A free ebook version of this title is available through Luminos.

University of California Press's Open Access publishing program. Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more. Almost Futures looks to the people who pay the heaviest price exacted by war and capitalist globalization, particularly Vietnamese citizens and refugees, for glimpses of ways to exist at the end of our future's promise. In order to learn from the lives destroyed and lived amid our inheritance of modern humanism and its uses of time, Almost Futures asks us to recognize new spectrums of feeling: the poetic in the grief of protesters dispossessed by land speculation; the allegorical in assembly line workers' laughter and sorrow; the iterant and intimate in the visual witnessing of revolutionary and state killing; the haunting in refugees writing on the death of their nation and the irreconcilable in refugees' inhabitation of history.

Managing Conflicts in a Globalizing ASEAN Mikio Oishi, 2019-11-11. This book investigates the patterns of conflict management in contemporary Southeast Asia. The region has long been characterized by the twin process of state formation and nation building, which has been responsible for most of the region's intrastate and interstate conflicts. While this process is still ongoing, regional conflicts and their management are increasingly affected by globalisation, which not only serves as a new source of or exacerbating factor to conflict but also makes new instruments available for conflict management. Employing the concepts of incompatibility management and mediation regime, the book analyses the management of seven conflicts in the region: the Rohingya crisis and the Kachin conflict in Myanmar; the Khmer Krom conflict in Vietnam; the West Papua conflict in Indonesia; the political conflict in Thailand; the Mekong River conflicts involving five Southeast Asian countries and China; and the transboundary haze problem emanating from Indonesia. The efforts to manage each of them are imagined as constituting a mediation regime, and its effectiveness is assessed in terms of good governance. Among the findings of the book is that the measures of manoeuvring around incompatibilities are employed predominantly in managing regional conflicts. In intrastate conflicts, which mostly involve ethnic minorities, the authorities first aim to eliminate or impose its own position on ethnic parties. When this strategy proves unsuccessful, they have no choice but to manoeuvre around incompatibilities, which may eventually open up a space for mutual learning. In interstate conflicts, the manoeuvring around strategy works in a more straightforward manner, contributing to regional stability. However, the stability is achieved at the cost of local communities and the natural environment, which absorb the incompatibilities in conflict.

Vietnam Bill Hayton, 2020-11-24. A much needed behind the scenes survey of an emerging Asian power The eyes of the West have recently been trained on China and India but Vietnam is rising fast among its Asian peers A breathtaking period of social change has seen foreign investment bringing capitalism flooding into its nominally communist society booming cities swallowing up smaller villages and the lure of modern living tugging at the traditional networks of family and community Yet beneath these sweeping developments lurks an authoritarian political system that complicates the nation's apparent renaissance In this engaging work experienced journalist Bill Hayton looks at the costs of change in Vietnam and questions whether this rising Asian power is really heading toward capitalism and democracy Based on vivid eyewitness accounts and pertinent case studies Hayton's book addresses a broad variety of issues in today's Vietnam including important shifts in international relations the growth of civil society economic developments and challenges and the nation's nascent democracy movement as well as its notorious internal security His analysis of Vietnam's police state and its systematic mechanisms of social control coercion and surveillance is fresh and particularly imperative when viewed alongside his portraits of urban and street life cultural legacies religion the media and the arts With a firm sense of historical and cultural context Hayton examines how these issues have emerged and where they will lead Vietnam in the next stage of its development
