

The background of the cover is a watercolor illustration. It features a close-up of a person's face, possibly a woman, with a contemplative or somber expression. The face is rendered in warm, earthy tones of orange, brown, and beige. In the upper left, a hand is visible, holding a long, thin, light-colored object, possibly a knife or a piece of wood, which points towards the center. The bottom of the cover is framed by dark, silhouetted evergreen trees. The overall mood is mysterious and atmospheric.

M. Reynolds, 2020-04-10 The Mysteries of London in 4 volumes is a penny blood classic There are many plots in the story but the overarching purpose is to reveal different facets of life in London from its seedy underbelly to its over indulgent and corrupt aristocrats The Mysteries of London are considered to be among the seminal works of the Victorian urban mysteries genre a style of sensational fiction which adapted elements of Gothic novels with their haunted castles innocent noble damsels in distress and nefarious villains to produce stories which instead emphasized the poverty crime and violence of a great metropolis complete with detailed and often sympathetic descriptions of the lives of lower class lawbreakers and extensive glossaries of thieves cant all interwoven with a frank sexuality not usually found in popular fiction of the time Söd, the Mysteries of Adoni Samuel Fales Dunlap, 1861 The Mysteries of the Court of London George William MacArthur Reynolds, 1859 The Lives of the Fathers, Martyrs, and Other Principal Saints Alban Butler, 1833 Conceptual

Blending in Early Christian Discourse Aleksander Gomola, 2018-03-19 Cognitive linguists and biblical and patristic scholars have recently given more attention to the presence of conceptual blends in early Christian texts yet there has been so far no comprehensive study of the general role of conceptual blending as a generator of novel meanings in early Christianity as a religious system with its own identity This monograph points in that direction and is a cognitive linguistic exploration of pastoral metaphors in a wide range of patristic texts presenting them as variants of THE CHURCH IS A FLOCK network Such metaphors or blends rooted in the Bible were used by Patristic writers to conceptualize a great number of particular notions that were constitutive for the early church including the responsibilities of the clergy and the laity morality and penance church unity baptism and soteriology This study shows how these blends became indispensable building blocks of a new religious system and explains the role of conceptual blending in this process The book is addressed to biblical and patristic scholars interested in a new unifying perspective for various strands of early Christian thought and to cognitive linguists interested in the role of conceptual integration in religious language Produced with the support of the Faculty of Philology Jagiellonian University in Krak w Poland
