Scott Appleby,Emmanuel Sivan,2011-04-15 After the September 11 terrorist attacks against the United States religious fundamentalism has dominated public debate as never before Policymakers educators and the general public all want to know Why do fundamentalist movements turn violent Are fundamentalisms a global threat to human rights security and democratic forms of government What is the future of fundamentalism To answer questions like these Strong Religion draws on the results of the Fundamentalism Project a decade long interdisciplinary study of antimodernist antiseccular militant religious movements on five continents and within seven world religious traditions The authors of this study analyze the various social structures cultural contexts and political environments in which fundamentalist movements have emerged around the world from the Islamic Hamas and Hizbullah to the Catholic and Protestant paramilitaries of Northern Ireland and from the Moral Majority and Christian Coalition of the United States to the Sikh radicals and Hindu nationalists of India Offering a vividly detailed portrait of the cultures that nourish such movements Strong Religion opens a much needed window onto different modes of fundamentalism and identifies the kind of historical events that can trigger them     The Church on the World's Turf Paul A. Bramadat,2000-06-29 Is it possible for conservative Protestant groups to survive in secular institutional settings Here Bramadat offers an ethnographic study of the Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship IVCF at McMaster University a group that espouses fundamentalist interpretations of the Bible women s roles the age of the earth alcohol consumption and sexual ethics In examining this group Bramadat demonstrates how this tiny minority thrives within the overwhelmingly secular context of the University     God Hates Rebecca Barrett-Fox,2024-10-22 The congregants thanked God that they weren t like all those hopeless people outside the church bound for hell So the Westboro Baptist Church s Sunday service began and

Rebecca Barrett Fox a curious observer wondered why anyone would seek spiritual sustenance through other people's damnation. It is a question that piques many a witness to Westboro's more visible activity: the GOD HATES FAGS picketing of funerals. In God Hates sociologist Barrett Fox takes us behind the scenes of Topeka's Westboro Baptist Church. The first full ethnography of this infamous presence on America's Religious Right, her book situates the church's story in the context of American religious history and reveals as much about the uneasy state of Christian practice in our day as it does about the workings of the Westboro Church and Fred Phelps, its founder. God Hates traces WBC's theological beliefs to a brand of hyper-Calvinist thought reaching back to the Puritans, an extreme Calvinism emphasizing predestination that has proven as off-putting as Westboro's actions even for other Baptists. And yet, in examining Westboro's role in conservative politics and its contentious relationship with other fundamentalist activist groups, Barrett Fox reveals how the church's message of national doom, in fact, reflects beliefs at the core of much of the Religious Right's rhetoric. Westboro's aggressively offensive public activities actually serve to soften the anti-gay theology of more mainstream conservative religious activism. With an eye to the church's protest at military funerals, she also considers why the public has responded so differently to these than to Westboro's anti-LGBT picketing. With its history of Westboro Baptist Church and its founder and its profiles of defectors, this book offers a complex close-up view of a phenomenon on the fringes of American Christianity and a broader, disturbing view of the mainstream theology it at once masks and reflects.

The African Christian and Islam John Azumah, Lamin

Sanneh, 2013-06-14 During the summer of 2010, Ghana played host to the first ever conference held within Africa to focus solely on the relationship of the African Christian and Islam. The event was led by John Azumah in partnership with the Center of Early African Theology. The conference, chaired by Archbishop John Olorunfemi Olayinka of Abuja, welcomed over 50 participants from across 27 African countries and several denominations. This book is a collection of the papers presented by 22 of the delegates, forming a historical survey and thematic assessment of the African Christian and Islam. In addition, key information on the introduction, spread, and engagement of Islam and Christianity within 9 African countries is presented. The book closes with Biblical reflections that opened each day of the conference, providing useful examples of Christians reading the Bible in reference to Islam.

Political Islam Observed Frédéric Volpi, 2010 This book offers a framework for understanding the interaction between the academic disciplines observing contemporary political Islam and the individuals and communities being observed practising it. Volpi investigates how different disciplinary approaches in the social sciences explain and understand their Islamic subject matter, revealing how political Islam is a phenomenon that each academic discipline analyses using its own dominant paradigms. He offers a multidisciplinary account of political Islam based on the insights provided by post-orientalism, international studies, sociology of religion, democratisation studies, multiculturalism studies, security studies, and globalisation studies. His book outlines the areas of convergence and the synergies between these approaches and highlights the gaps and misunderstanding that still exist between parallel narratives on Islamism.

Fundamentalisms Christopher H. Partridge, 2001 Any account of the modern world that ignores the impact of the forces of fundamentalism will be significantly deficient Whether one considers debates within faith communities concerning the correct interpretation of sacred writings or opposition to Western secular values or religiously inspired political activism or indeed some forms of international terrorism fundamentalism seems to be a perennial and ubiquitous religious tendency Written from sociological ethnographical anthropological missiological and theological perspectives these essays provide a source of reliable information and thoughtful reflection on contemporary manifestations of fundamentalism and fundamentalist like trends

Middle Eastern Minorities and Diasporas Moshe Ma'oz, Gabriel Sheffer, 2002-01-01 The Arab countries have been projected as homogeneous and united social and political entities Yet beneath the surface ethnic tensions and conflicts simmer This book looks at the factors forces and circumstances that affect relations in the region and point towards strategies that promote or hinder coexistence and integration or antagonism

Expressivist Religious Zionism Shlomo Fischer, 2024-12-24 This book presents a new approach to the study of Religious Zionism In counter distinction to the prevalent fundamentalist approach it argues that mainstream of Religious Zionism is a romantic religious nationalist movement in which the modern idea of self expression and related notions such as the free and authentic self and the overcoming of alienation forms its philosophical core By showing how such notions are combined with conservative and un modern cultural and political goals such as the restoration of a messianic kingdom it provides a profoundly complex and nuanced account both of pervasiveness of modern notions in contemporary culture and of the modern aspects of conservative and even extremist religious and nationalist groups By uncovering the process of the sacralization of the nation the state the national destiny and territory it contributes to our understanding of religious nationalism globally It also shows how the violence and extremism perpetrated by Religious Zionism elements is not some atavistic holdover from the past but is in fact rooted in the drive to self actualization and constitutes modernist violence This book will appeal to researchers and students of Jewish studies Israel and the Middle East Its intended audience also includes researchers on religious nationalism and contemporary religious and national movements

Fundamentalism in the Modern World Vol 1 Ulrika Martensson, Jennifer Bailey, Priscilla Ringrose, Asbjorn Dyrendal, 2001-11-22 How does religious fundamentalism operate in modern global society This two volume series analyses the dynamics of fundamentalism and its relationship to the modern state the public sphere and globalisation In this first volume fundamentalism is approached from the perspective of state and community building ideology and practices within the context of global society and the ways in which fundamentalism is intertwined with issues

N. Eisenstadt, 1999 Fundamentalism Sectarianism and Revolution is a major comparative analysis of fundamentalist movements in cultural and political context with an emphasis on the contemporary scene Leading sociologist S N Eisenstadt examines the meaning of the global rise of fundamentalism as one very forceful contemporary response to tensions in modernity and the dynamics of civilization He compares modern fundamentalist movements with the proto fundamentalist movements which arose in the axial civilizations in pre modern times he shows how the great revolutions in Europe which arose in connection with these movements shaped the political and cultural programmes of modernity and he contrasts post Second World War Moslem Jewish and Protestant fundamentalist movements with communal national movements notably in Asia The central theme of the book is the distinctively Jacobin features of fundamentalist movements and their ambivalent attitude to tradition above all their attempts to essentialize tradition in an ideologically totalistic way Eisenstadt has won the Amalfi book prize
