UMGC's accounting department curriculum requires an SEC 10-K Report Project in multiple courses from introductory to advanced-level classes, including:

- ACCT 220: Principles of Accounting I / ACCT 221: Principles of Accounting II
- ACCT 310: Intermediate Accounting I / ACCT 311: Intermediate Accounting II
- ACCT 321: Cost Accounting
- ACCT 422: Auditing
- ACCT 424: Advanced Accounting / ACCT 425: International Accounting

In each course, you will examine different companies focusing on related-course content. This allows you to build your knowledge of accounting and industries.

The UMGU Principles of Accounting I & II courses introduced you to specific components of an SEC 10-K Report as bases for fundamental financial ratio analyses and interpretation of results for a selected corporation. In the more advanced accounting courses, including Intermediate Accounting I & II, you will delve deeper into analyzing financial statements, schedules, and notes to gain a more in-depth understanding of a corporation through its SEC 10-K filing.

The SEC 10-K assignment will consist of research to write a report on an annual SEC 10-K report filed by a public company with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). The focus of this assignment is on the financial statements as a whole and the concepts related to the topics covered in this course. You will conduct research to select a public company of your choice from the list of companies included in the Fortune 500 then locate its most recent SEC 10-K report for your project. As part of this project, you will participate each week in the discussions specifically designed to apply concepts and research the SEC10K. There are two deliverables: (1) SEC 10-K Report, and (2) SEC 10-K Power Point presentation based on your report. Grading will be per Rubric in Leo. It is recommended that you review the rubric to maximize your earned grade.

Many students benefit from the use of the UMGU Effective Writing Center. (access from Academic Support in the classroom horizontal menu bar).

Judgment and Decision Making at Work Scott Highhouse, Reeshad S. Dalal, Eduardo Salas, 2013-09-05 Employees are constantly making decisions and judgments that have the potential to affect themselves their families their work organizations and on some occasion even the broader societies in which they live A few examples include deciding which job applicant to hire setting a production goal judging one's level of job satisfaction deciding to steal from the cash register agreeing to help organize the company's holiday party forecasting corporate tax rates two years later deciding to report a coworker for sexual harassment and predicting the level of risk inherent in a new business venture In other words a great many topics of interest to organizational researchers ultimately reduce to decisions made by employees Yet numerous entreaties notwithstanding industrial and organizational psychologists typically have not incorporated a judgment and decision making perspective in their research The current book begins to remedy the situation by facilitating cross pollination between the disciplines of organizational psychology and decision making The book describes both laboratory and more naturalistic field research on judgment and decision making and applies it to core topics of interest to industrial and organizational psychologists performance appraisal employee selection individual differences goals leadership teams and stress among others The book also suggests ways in which industrial and organizational psychology research can benefit the discipline of judgment and decision making The authors of the chapters in this book conduct research at the intersection of organizational psychology and decision making and consequently are uniquely positioned to bridging the divide between the two disciplines
