Bbc News Karen Buckley:

Global Civil Society and Transversal Hegemony Karen Buckley, 2013-05-29 There has been clear recognition of tendencies towards uncritically celebrating resistance and the need for critical appraisal within the literature on globalization and contestation This book provides a conceptual history of global civil society and a critical examination of the politics of resistance in the global political economy It uses a dialectical method of analysis to illustrate the conceptual stasis of mainstream approaches to questions of globalization and contestation while demonstrating the potential of a Gramscian approach to reconstitute hegemony as a key analytical and explanatory tool Buckley offers insight to the movements of transversal hegemony and existent and anticipated modes of social relation through the case studies of the World Social Forum and the World People's Conference on Climate Change Offering a more comprehensive understanding of change in the global political economy this book will be of interest to students and scholars of international political economy globalization global civil society sociology and the politics resistance BBC Wildlife, 1990 Supporting Autistic People Through Pregnancy and Childbirth Hayley Morgan, Emma Durman, Karen Henry, 2024-01-18 This comprehensive and accessible guide is for every birthing and health professional looking to improve their care during pregnancy birth and aftercare for autistic women With a distinct lack of scientifically approached work in this area this much needed book takes an intersectional feminist approach and covers the background of modern birth practices and autism as a diagnosis With intersectionality as a core feature the impact of cultural differences underdiagnoses stigma and stereotypes amongst ethnic minorities is also included It discusses how pain functions in the autistic brain as well as co occurring conditions such as alexithymia chronic pain epilepsy and Ehlers Danlos Syndrome This multidisciplinary author team includes two well established autism experts and an experienced midwife and lecturer who provides invaluable birthing insight as well as approaches for sensation management during birth insider knowledge on midwifery protocols and accessible tools for autistic pregnant people and families to use No Apologies Katherine Brodsky, 2024-01-30 We as a society are self censoring at record rates Say the wrong thing at the wrong moment to the wrong person and the consequences can be dire Think that everyone should be treated equally regardless of race You're a racist who needs to be kicked out of the online forum that you started Believe there are biological differences between men and women You're a sexist who should be fired with cause Argue that people should be able to speak freely within the bounds of the law You're a fascist who should be removed from your position of authority When the truth is no defense and nuance is seen as an attack self censorship is a rational choice Yet our silence comes with a price When we are too fearful to speak openly and honestly we deprive ourselves of the ability to build genuine relationships we yield all cultural and political power to those with opposing views and we lose our ability to challenge ideas or change minds even our own In No Apologies Katherine Brodsky argues that it's time for principled individuals to hit the unmute button and resist the authoritarians among us who name shame and punish Recognizing that speaking authentically is easier said than done she spent two years researching and interviewing those who have been subjected to public harassment and abuse for daring to transgress the new orthodoxy or criticize a new taboo While she found that some of these individuals navigated the outrage mob better than others and some suffered worse personal and professional effects than others all of the individuals with whom she spoke remain unapologetic over their choice to express themselves authentically In sharing their stories which span the arts education journalism and science Brodsky uncovers lessons for all of us in the silenced majority to push back against the dangerous illiberalism of the vocal minority that tolerates no dissent and to find and free our own voices

Collapse Douglas E. Schoen, 2019-03-12 Collapse takes stock of a volatile and threatening international environment by looking at some of the underlying causes and flashpoints the principal one being the failure of institutions and elites to respond to their constituencies and address the problems of our age This is a problem spanning the increased polarization that bred nationalist and populist movements the continued failure of Western leaders to come up with effective strategies for combating authoritarian rivals like Russia and China and the ongoing Islamist threat Schoen makes clear that the indispensable ingredient for any constructive path forward is effective engaged and committed American leadership This is discussed through the lens of the failed models of President Trump's two recent predecessors which reflected respectively an uncritical embrace of American power lacking strategic insight and proportion and an uncritical abandonment of American leadership that suggested an abject view of the U S moral example in the world Instead Schoen posits assertive democratic idealism an embrace of U S moral leadership around the world but in ways that remain leavened by realism and a guiding understanding of our national interest Whether President Trump can deliver on such a vision remains to be seen

Caring for Place E N Anderson, 2016-07 Marshalling decades of research on cultures across several continents E N Anderson a leading writer and scholar in human ecology and anthropology shows how practicing environmental sustainability depends primarily on social and emotional engagements

Femininity, Self-harm and Eating Disorders in Japan Gitte Marianne Hansen, 2015-12-22 From the 1980s onwards the incidence of eating disorders and self harm has increased among Japanese women who report receiving mixed messages about how to be women Mirroring this women's self directed violence has increasingly been thematised in diverse Japanese narrative and visual culture This book examines the relationship between normative femininity and women's self directed violence in contemporary Japanese culture To theoretically define the complexities that constitute normativity the book develops the concept of contradictory femininity and shows how in Japanese culture women's paradoxical roles are thematised through three character construction techniques broadly derived from the doppelgänger motif It then demonstrates how eating disorders and self harm are included in normative femininity and suggests that such self directed violence can be interpreted as coping strategies to overcome feelings of fragmentation related to contradictory femininity Looking at novels artwork manga anime TV dramas and news stories the book analyses both globally well known Japanese culture such as Murakami

Haruki's literary works and Miyazaki Hayao's animation as well as culture unavailable to non-Japanese readers. The aim of juxtaposing such diverse narrative and visual culture is to map common storylines and thematisation techniques about normative femininity, self-harm and eating disorders. Furthermore, it shows how women's private struggles with their own bodies have become public discourse available for consumption as entertainment and lifestyle products. Highly interdisciplinary, it will be of huge interest to students and scholars of Japanese studies, Japanese culture and society and gender and women's studies as well as to academics and consumers of Japanese literature, manga and animation.

New Perspectives on the War Film Clémentine Tholas, Janis L. Goldie, Karen A. Ritzenhoff, 2019-09-14. New Perspectives on the War Film addresses the gap in the representation of many forgotten faces of war in mainstream movies and global mass media. The authors concentrate on the untold narratives of those who fought in combat and were affected by its brutal consequences. Chapters discuss the historically under-represented stories of individuals including women, African American and Indigenous Soldiers. Issues of homosexuality and gender relations in the military, colonial subjects and child soldiers as well as the changing nature of war via terrorism and bioterrorism are closely analyzed. The contributors demonstrate how these viewpoints have been consistently ignored in mainstream blockbuster war sagas and strive to re-integrate these lost perspectives into current and future narratives.

The Cult of Thinness Sharlene Nagy Hesse-Biber, 2007. In this powerful book, Sharlene Nagy Hesse-Biber goes beyond traditional psychological explanations of eating disorders to level a powerful indictment against the social, political and economic pressures women face in a weight-obsessed society. Ethnicity, gay and lesbian body image and the globalization of body image issues align a refined cultural study of body image with the trends found in current research, studies, demographic data and popular culture.

Suicide John Bateson, 2024-09-03. An urgent call to action on a rising and preventable trend. Each year in the United States alone, nearly 50,000 individuals die by suicide; more than 1.2 million others attempt it. John Bateson, former executive director of a suicide prevention center, examines this national tragedy from multiple angles while debunking common myths, sharing demographic data and identifying risk factors and warning signs. Suicide provides essential information about the current landscape surrounding suicide in the United States as well as strategies to prevent further tragedy. Bateson emphasizes that the rise in suicide and attempted suicide is not only a mental health issue affecting individuals but also an urgent problem for society at large. He discusses suicide in parks, prisons and the military as well as assisted suicide, suicide by cop and murder-suicide. In particular, he details the stark relationship among guns, drugs, jump sites and suicide, focusing on one of the most effective ways to prevent suicide: restricting access to lethal means. In addition to presenting practical information for identifying people at risk of suicide, Bateson details important steps that individuals, businesses and the government can take to end this public health problem.

A Death Retold in Truth and Rumour Grace A. Musila, 2015. Re-examines this unresolved murder in Kenya and the underlying role of rumour, the media and inter-state relations on how the death has been reported and investigated. Julie Ann Ward was a British tourist and wildlife photographer who went missing in Kenya's Maasai Mara Game Reserve in 1988 and was eventually found to have been murdered. Her death and the protracted search for her killers still at large were hotly contested in the media. Many theories emerged as to how and why she died, generating three trials, several true crime books and much speculation and rumour. At the core of Musila's study are the following questions: why would this young woman's death be the subject of such strong contestations of ideas and multiple truths? And what does this reveal about cultural productions of truth and knowledge in Kenya and Britain, particularly in the light of the responses to her disappearance of the Kenyan police, the British Foreign Office and the British High Commission in Nairobi? Building on existing scholarship on African history, narrative, gender and postcolonial studies, the author reveals how the Julie Ward murder and its attendant discourses offer insights into the journeys of ideas and how these traverse the porous boundaries of the relationship between Kenya and Britain and, by extension, Africa and the Global North.

Grace A. Musila is a lecturer in the English Department of Stellenbosch University, South Africa.

A History of Medicine in 50 Discoveries (History in 50) Marguerite Vigliani, Gale Eaton, Phillip Hoose, 2017-06-27

Vigliani and Eaton's high interest exploration of medicine begins in prehistory. The 5,000-year-old Iceman, discovered frozen in the Alps, may have treated his gallstones, Lyme disease and hardening of the arteries with the 61 tattoos that covered his body, most of which matched acupuncture points and the walnut-sized pieces of fungus he carried on his belt. The herbal medicines chamomile and yarrow have been found on 50,000-year-old teeth, and neatly bored holes in prehistoric skulls show that Neolithic surgeons relieved pressure on the brain or attempted to release evil spirits at least 10,000 years ago. From Mesopotamian pharmaceuticals and Ancient Greek sleep therapy through midwifery, amputation, bloodletting, Renaissance anatomy, bubonic plague and cholera to the discovery of germs, X-rays, DNA-based treatments and modern prosthetics, the history of medicine is a wild ride through the history of humankind.

News on the Right Anthony M. Nadler, Andrew Joseph Bauer, 2020

From the National Review to Breitbart, from Fox News to Rush Limbaugh, conservative news is an inescapable feature of modern politics. Since the early days of mass communication, right-wing media producers have blended reporting with commentary, narrating the news of the day from a perspective informed by conservative worldviews and partisanship. News on the Right seeks to initiate a new interdisciplinary field of scholarly research focused on the study of right-wing media and conservative news. Editors Anthony Nadler and A.J. Bauer gather a range of voices presenting an interdisciplinary investigation into the practices and patterns of meaning-making in the production, circulation and consumption of conservative news. Traversing journalism, media and communication studies, cultural studies, history, political science and sociology, this volume utilizes a variety of qualitative and quantitative research methods to elucidate case studies of conservative news cultures in the US and UK. Together, these perspectives show that a fuller understanding of right-wing media and its effects can be reached by treating these phenomena as deeply interwoven into many conservatives' lives and political sensibilities.
