Memory, Ph.D., J.D., 2018-11-15. The 74-year-old author John M. Memory realized in recent years that he has much important information that is seldom or never taught in college and university courses. After checking course descriptions of a major university in the Southeast, he undertook writing this book. Though John is not a health expert, he has had significant scholarly and professional experiences relating to health that have helped him in writing the 17 chapters about health. John learned much from using non-medical life style approaches in preventing the fifth through the second most feared diseases: diabetes, stroke, heart disease, and Alzheimer's. For example, he rejected his doctors' recommendations of taking a statin drug and instead has performed a heart and brain health routine he developed in 1982 with excellent results. Regarding the most feared disease, cancer, he learned in 2018 that long after failed prostate surgery and radiation treatments, three alternative holistic anti-cancer approaches have stopped the advance of his aggressive recurrent prostate cancer. In other chapters, John discusses the dangers posed by rampant ethnocentrism and xenophobia, how to teach moral behavior to children, the joys of frugal living, the importance of moral courage in work and government, origins of religion, the importance and challenges of high-risk activities and decision making, and much more. Since many people will disagree with him on one or several subjects, John hopes that readers will focus on chapters that can be most helpful for the reader. Join the author on a thought-provoking journey that revolves around Mysteriously Missing College Courses. Emerging Health Technology. Kristian Wasen, 2012-11-02. This book reports cutting-edge cases of emerging health technologies. Some health care fields are experiencing paradigmatic shifts because of robotic technologies and the new relationships that they create in Health, Curing, and Caring activities. The book explores emerging health care technologies such as image-guided surgical robotics.

pharmacy robots new visualisation methods 3D 4D 5D and home telehealth management systems and their acceptance in the workplace but also more generally their special role in business and society These technologies allow health care professionals to effectively reach far beyond the current service offerings providing new methods for communication diagnosis and treatment The relocation of certain knowledge areas from physicians to patients in self care management or the reconfiguration of health care expertise from one health profession to another are examples of topics developed in this book The book describes the emerging relocation of innovative visual knowledge and expertise within health care organisations and beyond such as in the patient's home environment
