Passing of Postmodernism Josh Toth, 2010-03-24 The Passing of Postmodernism addresses the increasingly prevalent assumption that a period marked by poststructuralism and metafiction has passed and that literature and film are once again engaging sincerely with issues of ethics and politics In discussions of various twentieth and twenty first century writers directors and theorists from Michel Foucault and Slavoj i ek to Thomas Pynchon and David Lynch Josh Toth demonstrates that a certain utopian spirit persisted within and actually defined the postmodern project Just as modernism was animated by an idealistic belief that it could finally realize the utopia beckoning on the horizon postmodernism was compelled by an equally utopian belief that it could finally reject the possibility of all such illusory ideals Toth argues that this specter of an impossible future is and must remain both possible and impossible a ghostly promise of what is always still to come Josh Toth teaches literature and critical theory at Grant MacEwan College and is coeditor with Neil Brooks of The Mourning After
