The Piano Tuner By Daniel Mason:

The Piano Tuner Daniel Mason,2004 It is 1886 and piano tuner Edgar Drake receives a strange request from the War Office he must leave his wife and his life in London to travel to Burma to tune a rare Erard grand piano The piano belongs to Surgeon Major Anthony Carroll an enigmatic British officer whose unorthodox methods are attracting suspicion Piano

Tuner D. Mason,2003-08-01 The Piano Tuner Daniel Philippe Mason,2009 In 1886 piano tuner Edgar Drake leaves London for the jungles of Burma to repair a rare grand piano belonging to a controversial British army officer who uses music to help keep the peace among warring Burmese princes SRI KSETRA & Modern Pyay Andrea Pistolesi,Patrizia Zolese,Massimo Morello,Michele Romano,2014-11-17

The images captured by Andrea Pistolesi of an unusual landscape of the precious archaeological and monumental heritage of Myanmar suggested the initiative To present to a wider public a little known aspect of the history of urbanisation in Southeast Asia the cities of the Pyu culture An extensive photo gallery and a precise archaeological presentation are a pleasant introduction to one of the best preserved areas of Burma the modern Myanmar Scars of Partition William F.S. Miles,2014-07-01 Based on three decades of fieldwork throughout the developing world Scars of Partition is the first book to systematically evaluate the long term implications of French and British styles of colonialism and decolonization for ordinary people throughout the so called Third World It pays particular attention to the contemporary legacies of artificial boundaries superimposed by Britain and France that continue to divide indigenous peoples into separate postcolonial states In so doing it uniquely illustrates how the distinctive stamps of France and Britain continue to mark daily life along and behind these inherited borders in Africa Asia Oceania and the Caribbean Scars of Partition draws on political science anthropology history and geography to examine six cases of indigenous indentured and enslaved peoples partitioned by colonialism in West Africa West Indies South Pacific Southeast Asia South India and the Indian Ocean William F S Miles demonstrates that sovereign nations throughout the developing world despite basic differences in culture geography and politics still bear the underlying imprint of their colonial pasts Disentangling and appreciating these embedded colonial legacies is critical to achieving full decolonization particularly in their borderlands

Perfect Hostage Justin Wintle,2013-07-01 Burma is a country where as one senior UN official puts it just to turn your head can mean imprisonment or death Aung San Suu Kyi is one of the world s foremost inspirational revolutionary leaders Considered to be Burma s best hope for freedom she has waged a war of steadfast nonviolent opposition to the country s vicious militant regime Because of her resistance to the brutality of the Burmese government she has been under house arrest since 1989 She has endured failing health vilification through the Burmese media and cruel imprisonment in one of the world s most dreadful and inhumane jails Suu Kyi has fought every hardship the junta could put her through yet she has never once wavered from her position never once advocated violence and persevered in her message of peaceful resistance at all costs earning her the Nobel Peace Prize in 1991 placing her among the likes of such renowned champions of peace as

Gandhi King and Mandela She is a truly heroic revolutionary In Perfect Hostage the most thorough biography of Suu Kyi to date Justin Wintle tells both the story of the Burmese people and the story of an ordinary person who became a hero

Literature, Science, and Public Policy Jay Clayton, 2023-08-17 Literature Science and Public Policy shows how literature can influence public policy concerning scientific controversies in genetics and other areas Literature brings unique insights to issues involving cloning GMOs gene editing and more by dramatizing their full human complexity Literature s value for public policy is demonstrated by striking examples that range from the literary response to evolution in the Victorian era through the modern synthesis of evolution and genetics in the mid twentieth century to present day genomics Outlining practical steps for humanists who want to help shape public policy this book offers vivid readings of novels by H G Wells H Rider Haggard Aldous Huxley Robert Heinlein Octavia Butler Samuel R Delany David Mitchell Margaret Atwood Ian McEwan Kazuo Ishiguro Gary Shteyngart and others that illustrate the important insights that literary studies can bring to debates about science and society This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core Romancing Human Rights Tamara C. Ho, 2015-01-31 When the world thinks of Burma it is often in relation to Nobel laureate and icon Aung San Suu Kyi But beyond her is another world one that complicates the overdetermination of Burma as a pariah state and myths about the high status of Southeast Asian women Highlighting and critiquing this fraught terrain Tamara C Ho s Romancing Human Rights maps Burmese women as real and imagined figures across the twentieth century and into the twenty first century More than a recitation of on the ground facts Ho s groundbreaking scholarship the first monograph to examine Anglophone literature and dynamics of gender and race in relation to Burma brings a critical lens to contemporary literature film and politics through the use of an innovative feminist queer methodology She crosses intellectual boundaries to illustrate how literary and gender analysis can contribute to discourses surrounding and informing human rights and in the process offers a new voice in the debates about representation racialization migration and spirituality Romancing Human Rights demonstrates how Burmese women break out of prisons both real and discursive by writing themselves into being Ho assembles an eclectic archive that includes George Orwell Aung San Suu Kyi critically acclaimed authors Ma Ma Lay and Wendy Law Yone and activist Zoya Phan Her close readings of literature and politicized performances by women in Burma the Burmese diaspora and the United States illuminate their contributions as authors cultural mediators and practitioner citizens Using flexible polyglot rhetorical tactics and embodied performances these authors creatively articulate alter native epistemologies regionally situated knowledges and decolonizing viewpoints that interrogate and destabilize competing transnational hegemonies such as U S moral imperialism and Asian militarized dictatorship Weaving together the fictional and non fictional Ho s gendered analysis makes Romancing Human Rights a unique cultural studies project that bridges postcolonial studies area studies and critical race ethnic studies a must read for those with an interest in fields of literature Asian and Asian American studies history politics religion and women s and gender studies Postcolonial Readings of Music in World Literature Cameron Fae Bushnell, 2013 This book reads representations of Western music in literary texts to reveal the ways in which artifacts of imperial culture function within contemporary world literature Bushnell argues that Western music's conventions for performance composition and listening established during the colonial period persist in postcolonial thought and practice Music from the Baroque Classical and Romantic periods Bach through Brahms coincides with the rise of colonialism and Western music contains imperial attitudes and values embedded within its conventions standards and rules The book focuses on the culture of classical music as reflected in the worlds of characters and texts and contends that its effects outlast the historical significance of the real composers pieces styles and forms Through examples by authors such as McEwan Vikram Seth Bernard MacLaverty Chang rae Lee and J M Coetzee the book demonstrates how Western music enters narrative as both acts of history and as structures of analogy that suggest subject positions human relations and political activity that in turn describes a postcolonial condition The uses to which Western music is put in each literary text reveals how European art music of the seventeenth through the nineteenth centuries is read and misread by postcolonial generations exposing mostly hidden cultural structures that influence our contemporary understandings of social relations and hierarchies norms for resolution and for assigning significance and standards of propriety The book presents strategies for thinking anew about the persistence of cultural imperialism reading Western music simultaneously as representative of imperial cultural dominance and as suggestive of resistant structures forms and practices that challenge the imperial hegemony

Context-Dependence, Perspective and Relativity Francois Recanatani, Isidora Stojanovic, Neftali Villanueva, 2010-08-31 This volume brings together original papers by linguists and philosophers on the role of context and perspective in language and thought Several contributions are concerned with the contextualism relativism debate which has loomed large in recent philosophical discussions In a substantial introduction the editors survey the field and map out the relevant issues and positions
