The Memory Room By Mary Rakow:

The Memory Room Mary Rakow, 2004-08-31 The novel opens with Barbara who after remembering incidents of torture at the hands of her father has quite literally broken down. Found inside a disabled elevator she is no longer able to function with her new consciousness of these memories those which are so resistant to understanding. Confronted with this knowledge of evil she must begin the painful process of remembering and reconstructing a new whole self. Helping Barbara to navigate her grief and her memories are her therapist the Psalms and most of all the words of Paul Celan. Paul Celan 1920-1970 Poet. An eastern European holocaust survivor who wrote haunting poems about the darker spiritual trials of life and relationships that exhibit a compact style that fuses broken words and chopped syntax to produce a stark musicality. This is a novel about a woman who goes to hell and back. It's a story which affirms the resilience of the human spirit and the healing power of love and faith.

A Genealogy of the Verse Novel Catherine Addison, 2017-11-06 The present age has seen an explosion of verse novels in many parts of the world. Australia is a prolific producer as are the USA and the UK. Novels in verse have also appeared in Canada, New Zealand, India, South Africa, Jamaica and several other countries. A novel written in verse contradicts theories that distinguish the novel as essentially a prose genre. The boundaries of prose and verse are however somewhat fluid. This is especially evident in the case of free verse poetry and the kinds of prose used in many Modernist novels. The contemporary outburst may seem a uniquely Postmodernist flouting of generic boundaries but in fact the verse novel is not new. Its origins reach back to at least the eighteenth century. Byron's Don Juan in the early nineteenth century was an important influence on many later examples. Since its first surge in popularity during the Victorian era it has never died out though some fine examples most of them from the earlier twentieth century have been neglected or forgotten. This book investigates the status of the verse novel as a genre and traces its mainly English language history from its beginnings. The discussion will be of interest to genre theorists, prosodists, narratologists and literary historians as well as readers of verse novels wishing for some background to this apparently new literary phenomenon. Bomb, 2002

Translators on Translation Kelly Washbourne, 2024-12-13 This is a book in pursuit of translators' philosophies or personal theories of translation. From Vladimir Nabokov and William Carlos Williams to Ursula K. Le Guin and Langston Hughes. Translators on Translation coaxes each subject's reflections on their art, their particular view of translation and how they carry out their specific form of translation. The translators' intellectual biographies expand our understanding of their views, often in their own words on the aesthetic, political and philosophical nature of translation, lend insight into their translation decision making on specific works, afford critical summaries and contextualizations of their key theoretical and theoretico-practical works, unearth their figurative conceptualizations of translation and construct their subject identities. As a person's body of work can be diffuse, scattered, fragmentary and contradictory, inner lives have to be constructed and reconstructed. Through a recovery and narrativizing of their writing and speaking on translation, their interviews, paratextual commentary, letters lecture notes and even fiction and poetry these late twentieth century subjects answer the question What is translation to you The book is supported by additional translators profiles and selected translations on the Routledge Translation Studies portal Translators on Translation is key reading for courses on translation practice translation history translation theory and creative writing courses that engage in translation while also being vital reading for practicing literary translators
