

The Screaming of the Innocent
UNITY DOW

There is a powerful, growing movement in the United States and around the world that is calling for a new way of thinking about the world and our place in it. This movement is based on the belief that we are all part of a single, interconnected community, and that we have a responsibility to care for each other and the planet. This is the heart of the Unity Dow movement.

The Screaming Of The Innocent By Unity Dow:

The Screaming of the Innocent Unity Dow, 2002 Annotation When a twelve year old girl goes missing near her village the local police tell her mother and the villagers that she has been taken by a wild animal Five years later a young government employee finds a box containing evidence of human involvement in the affair Ritual Murder and Witchcraft in Southern Africa in relation to Unity Dow's "The Screaming of the Innocent" Jessica Narloch, 2012-03-02 Seminar paper from the year 2007 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1 7 University of Duisburg Essen language English abstract In 2002 Unity Dow's book The Screaming of the Innocent was published It deals with the topic of ritual murder in Botswana and gives detailed descriptions of the South African belief in witchcraft traditional healing and ritual murder Since the book is not based on a true story it is interesting to find out whether the themes Dow writes about are fictitious as well or if they can be related to Botswana's every day life In an interview Unity Dow claims that ritual murder actually still happens in Southern Africa This essay will have a closer look on some relevant passages of the book The Screaming of the Innocent and will relate them to the religion the witchcraft belief the belief in witchdoctors and the topic of ritual murder in Botswana A comparison will show whether there are parallels between the fictitious story of the book and the real life in this specific area of Southern Africa Expressions of the Body Charlotte Baker, 2009 This book contributes to a growing corpus of writing on the body bringing new perspectives to this fascinating and topical subject Feminist psychoanalytic and queer readings among others have demonstrated the extent of the functions and roles fulfilled by the body as well as the number of critical perspectives it can serve However by and large African representations of the body have been overlooked This coherent volume brings together essays on the portrayal of the body in African art film literature photography and theatre The book includes thematically linked contributions which explore issues of power and representation and reflects current trends in the study of the body and more broadly within the field of African Studies

Anglophone African Detective Fiction 1940-2020 Matthew J. Christensen, 2024 Providing a survey of Anglophone African detective fiction from the late 1940s to the present day this study traces its history both as a literary form and a mode of critical exploration of the fraught sovereignties of the African state and its citizens Since the late 1940s African writers including Cyprian Ekwensi Arthur Maimane Adaora Lily Ulasi Hilary Ng weno Unity Dow Parker Bilal and Angela Makholwa have published over 200 murder mysteries police procedurals spy thrillers and other fictional narratives of investigation and discovery in English language newspapers magazines and novels Distributed widely across the continent's diverse cultural and political geographies these texts share aesthetic characteristics and thematic preoccupations that reflect transnational networks of production circulation and influence Anglophone African Detective Fiction 1940-2020 surveys this literary history and examines how African writers have repeatedly harnessed the detective story to interrogate postcolonial realities of selfhood and the state It argues that African writers have turned the detective story into a highly productive while at the same time suspense filled and entertaining mode of social and political critique first of colonialism and the independence era and latterly of neoliberal governance Offering an overview of paradigmatic texts from Ghana to Kenya and Sudan to South Africa the book traces the contours of the history of Anglophone African detective fiction that is at once a cultural history of a uniquely African assessment of the ongoing problematics of sovereignty and decolonization

The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean Since 1950 Simon Gikandi, 2016 The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean since 1950 examines the institutional and social peculiarities that make fiction produced in Africa and the Atlantic World since 1950 important to the history of the novel in English

Gender Issues in African Literature Ce, Chin, Smith, Charles, 2014-04-03 Gender Issues in African Literature examines the ways in which some protagonists of African fictions are made to counter and challenge intertwined Western discourses on gender employment sexuality and health Here the conflict between Tradition and Modernity is argued from the favourite premise of male supremacist ideology showing how women have unlearned these false concepts to build a sustained feminist movement and re learn the value of sisterhood There is a bold attempt to reread Achebe as a consistent in urging women to fight the seemingly oppressive structures that have traditionally discriminated against them and to disregard their diversity and embrace their unity A chapter of Feminist Re writing disagrees with the attempt to equate theory with political activism and presents Feminist literature as more than a verbal assertion that points to Feminist aesthetics and politics The use of the trauma theory and testimony literature to explore traumatising of female characters and its impact for Zimbabwean civil society is a useful addition to these gender studies in African literature

Postcolonial Postmortems, 2006-01-01 Recent crime fiction increasingly transcends national boundaries with investigators operating across countries and continents Frequently the detective is a migrant or comes from a transcultural background To solve the crime the investigator is called upon to decipher the meanings hidden in clues and testimonies that require transcultural forms of understanding For the reader the investigation discloses new interpretive methods and processes of social investigation often challenging facile interpretations of the postcolonial world order Under the rubric postcolonial postmortems this collection of essays seeks to explore the tropes issues and themes that characterise this emergent form of crime fiction But what does the postcolonial bring to the genre apart from the well known and valid discourses of resistance subversion and ethnicity And why postmortems A dissection and medical examination of a body to determine the cause of death the postmortem of the postcolonial not only alludes to the investigation of the victim's remains but also to the body of the individual text and its contexts This collection interrogates literary concepts of postcoloniality and crime from transcultural perspectives in the attempt to offer new critical impulses to the study of crime fiction and postcolonial literatures International scholars offer insights into the postcolonial postmortems of a wide range of texts by authors from Africa South Asia the Asian and African Diaspora and Australia including Robert G Barrett Unity Dow Wessel Ebersohn Romesh Gunsekera Kazuo Ishiguro Sujata Massey Alexander McCall Smith and Michael Ondaatje The Heavens May Fall Unity Dow, 2007 Unity Dow's fourth novel tells the story of Naledi Chaba a young attorney who has to battle prejudices within the legal profession and in the broader society Her clients are mainly women and children and she finds that under traditional law and modern Botswana law they are without protection Mapping Africa in the English Speaking World Sibonile Edith Ellece, Kemmonye Collete Monaka, Owen S Seda, 2010-10-12 Mapping Africa in the English Speaking World addresses issues of representations of Africa in the English speaking world English has become a global language which has turned the world into a global village and as Graddol 2008 states it is now redefining national and individual identities worldwide shifting political fault lines creating new global patterns of wealth and social exclusion and suggesting new notions of human rights and responsibilities of citizenship This book grapples with the relationship between Africa and the rest of the English speaking world and touches on issues of Euro American misrepresentations of the continent in literary works and films misrepresentations which are nevertheless passed as true and infallible knowledge of Africa marginalization of Africans African languages and culture African scholarship language policy language diglossia African theatre in post colonial Africa identity negotiations in post colonial Africa and relations between gender and language among other issues These issues are bound to stimulate debates on Africa and its representations in the English speaking world Crime Fiction and the Law Maria Aristodemou, Fiona Macmillan, Patricia Tuitt, 2016-12-08 This book opens up a range of important perspectives on law and violence by considering the ways in which their relationship is formulated in literature television and film Employing critical legal theory to address the relationship between crime fiction law and justice it considers a range of topics including the relationship between crime fiction legal reasoning and critique questions surrounding the relationship between law and justice gender issues the legal political and social impacts of fictional representations of crime and justice post colonial perspectives on crime fiction as well as the impact of law itself on the crime fiction's development. Introducing a new sub field of legal and literary research, this book will be of enormous interest to scholars in critical cultural and socio-legal studies as well as to others in criminology as well as in literature. Overland, 2003

Feminist Perspectives on Law and Literature Laura Schmitz-Justen, Laura A. Zander, Hanna Luise Kroll, Laura Wittmann, 2025-04-21. The interdisciplinary study of law and literature can help us better understand intersectionality and vice versa. Intersectional feminist perspectives are extremely valuable in the study of law and literature. Of course, neither feminist nor intersectional approaches are new in and of themselves; for decades, literary scholarship has studied the impact of particular constellations of gender, race, and class when it comes to representations of women in literary texts and has succeeded in shaking monolithic and stereotypical notions of womanhood. However, research at the intersection of law, literature, and feminism has so far been limited and insular. Bringing together more than twenty international researchers from related disciplines, this volume is the first to bring questions of intersectional feminism to the forefront of law and literature scholarship. From reproductive and trans gender justice in law and literature to feminist practices that intervene in judicial discourse, this volume brings into focus a wide range of cultural and legal phenomena in which gender and the law intersect in literary texts. The volume's commitment to intersectionality fittingly extends to its very make-up: the contributors were selected to represent a diverse range of positions in terms of their gender, career stage, and nationality.
