Moments that Matter in the Learning and Development of Children Kelly Ann Kolodny, 2020-08-01

Moments that Matter in the Learning and Development of Children: Reflections from Educators explores the significant moments that unfold for young people in their schooling from the perspectives of teachers and school staff. Educators often reflect on moments as being a critical piece of their work with children. They can help make things better for students and produce a difference in lives. They are meaningful for young people as well as consequential for teachers and school staff as they reflect on the outcomes of their efforts. Yet as they are difficult to define and capture, these moments often are not studied for the value they offer. This book promotes awareness of these moments as well as their connected meanings and possibilities. Recognizing the significance of moments extends an opportunity to situate schooling in broader contexts and to understand learners as whole embodied beings engaged in social interactions, making sense of their surrounding world and generating transformations in it. When educators reflect deeply about the possibilities connected to the moments they share with children, they recognize the multitude of opportunities that support their learning and development. They become awake to some of moments' promises.

Shivers & Signposts Len Richman, 2015-08-13 Shivers Signposts: The Journey Continues is Len Richman's second exploration of a life measured out by a distinct rhythm of his own devising. Picking up where his first memoir, Raindrops Glimpses Moments: An Unconventional Memoir of an Unplanned Journey, left off, Richman shows in Shivers Signposts that he still has much to do and much to say. Richman attacks life with uncommon vigour. Never motionless, he moves forwards and sometimes backwards, suffusing each manoeuvre with unique energy, vitality, and constant evolution. Shivers at the thought of growing old or becoming stale, occasional alienation and loneliness. Richman is driven onwards by a pressing need to redefine and redirect his innermost self, a self that he continually re-evaluates through the lens of modern technology, literature, theatre, and film. These are the signposts that guide him through his fascinating quest for renewal of spirit and self. Let us hear his decisive commentary on modern social and cultural mores, his unapologetic tackling of issues from racism to materialism to present-day psychoanalysis. Let us listen to the music of Richman's own Love Song about the love of a life well lived and still well worth living. Let us be challenged through Richman's examination of his own life to ask of ourselves: How should we presume? From the Introduction by Stuart Lubarsky M.D.
