The Wanderer By Kahlil Gibran:

The Wanderer Kahlil GIBRAN,1965-01-01 I met him at the crossroads a man with but a cloak and a staff and a veil of pain upon his face And we greeted one another and I said to him Come to my house and be my guest And he came My wife and my children met us at the threshold and he smiled at them and they loved his coming Then we all sat together at the board and we were happy with the man for there was a silence and a mystery in him And after supper we gathered to the fire and I asked him about his wanderings He told us many a tale that night and also the next day but what I now record was born out of the bitterness of his days though he himself was kindly and these tales are of the dust and patience of his road And when he left us after three days we did not feel that a guest had departed but rather that one of us was still out in the garden and had not yet come in The Wanderer Kahlil Gibran, The Wanderer Kahlil Gibran,2000 The Wanderer: Large
