Swimming Home By Deborah Levy:

Swimming Home Deborah Levy, 2011 A group of British tourists renting a villa on the French Riviera comes apart at the seams when a sexy mysterious young woman walks into their midst and is invited by one of them to stay Swimming Home Deborah Levy, 2012-10-16 A mysterious woman who suffers from mental illness suddenly appears at a vacation villa where two families are staying and her interactions with them reveal secret details about their past and tensions within their relationships with each other Swimming Home (Large Print 16pt) Deborah Levy, 2013-05-06 Shortlisted for the Man Booker Prize and selected as a New York Times Notable Book Swimming Home is a sexy psychological thriller from a highly acclaimed writer Poet Joe and his war correspondent wife Isabel arrive with their daughter and another couple to a rented villa in the south of France to discover a body floating face down in the swimming pool But the girl is very much alive She is Kitty Finch a sexy mysterious young woman who walks naked out of the water and straight into the heart of their holiday But why is she there What does she want from them all And why does Joe's enigmatic wife invite her to stay Taking place over a single week Swimming Home reveals how a group of beautiful flawed tourists in the French Riviera come loose at the seams Both profound and thrilling Deborah Levy explores what it means to be alive and how the most devastating secrets are the ones we keep from ourselves "When men are unprepared and look not for it" Brähler, Susan, Munderlein, Kerstin-Anja,

How to Tell When We Will Die Johanna Hedva, 2024-09-24 From one of the most influential voices in disability activism comes an essay collection that detonates a bomb in our collective understanding of care and illness showing us that sickness is a vibrant part of life In the wake of the 2014 Ferguson riots and sick with a chronic condition that rendered them housebound Johanna Hedva turned to the page to ask How do you throw a brick through the window of a bank if you can't get out of bed It was not long before this essay Sick Woman Theory became a seminal work on disability because in reframing illness as not just a biological experience but a social one Hedva argues that under capitalism a system that limits our worth to the productivity of our bodies we must reach for the revolutionary act of caring for ourselves and others How to Tell When We Will Die expands upon Hedva's paradigm shifting perspective in a series of slyly subversive and razor sharp essays that range from the theoretical to the personal from Deborah Levy and Susan Sontag to wrestling kink mysticism death and the color yellow Drawing from their experiences with America's byzantine healthcare system and considering archetypes they call The Psychotic Woman The Freak and The Hag in Charge Hedva offers a bracing indictment of the politics that exploit sickness relying on and fueling ableism to the detriment of us all With the insight of Anne Boyer's The Undying and Leslie Jamison's The Empathy Exams and the wit of Samantha Irby Hedva's debut collection upends our collective concept of disability In their radical reimagining of a world where care and pain are symbiotic and our bodies are allowed to live free and well Hedva implores us to remember that illness is neither an inconvenience or inevitability but an enlivening and elemental part of being alive The 'Second World' in Contemporary British Writing Katrin

Berndt, Andrew Wells, 2024-08-12 The thirteen contributions to this collection all explore or exemplify the ongoing British interest in the socialist world before 1990 In autobiography fiction film history and lexicography these chapters show how contemporary Britain is engaging with the past project to build socialism in Europe and what this means for the present and the future of our continent Contributions come from a wide range of disciplinary and geographical backgrounds and the volume is further enriched by a short story especially written for this book and by an in depth interview with the author of a recent popular history of the GDR Together these chapters offer a unique perspective into contemporary British writing on the second world and the enduring fascination with the failures of futures past The New Feminist Literary Studies

Jennifer Cooke, 2020-12-03 Presents essays by feminists of theory and literature that examine contemporary feminism and the most pressing issues of today The Unloved

Deborah Levy, 2014-02-06 A hypnotising summer novel from the twice Booker shortlisted author of Hot Milk and Swimming Home _____ A group of hedonistic West European tourists gather to celebrate Christmas in a remote French chateau Then an Englishwoman is brutally murdered and the sad eerie child Tatiana declares she knows who did it The subsequent inquiry into the death proves to be more of an investigation into the nature of love insatiable rage and sadistic desire The Unloved offers a bold and revealing look at some of the events that shaped European and African history and the perils of a future founded on concealed truth

_____ Brave and brilliant measured and lyrical Independent Levy's prose throbs its way into the imagination Observer Startling compelling cool The Times Levy's sense of dramatic form is unerring and her precise dispassionate prose effortlessly summons people and landscapes New Yorker Critical Perspectives on Damon Galgut

Zbigniew Białas, 2025-11-11 When Damon Galgut won the Man Booker Prize for his novel The Promise in 2021 he was already an established writer He had previously been shortlisted for the Booker Prize in 2003 and 2010 and had been the author of eight novels and four plays but before the success of The Promise he remained relatively unknown to the general public outside South Africa This volume is an attempt to engage an international set of specialists in postcolonial studies South African literature and in several cases established writers themselves in a debate devoted entirely to Galgut's novels This publication demonstrates that Galgut's work exceeds what readers tend to expect from post apartheid white writing Rather than offering the standard narratives of guilt despair and frustration Galgut's novels in dialogue with each other and in dialogue with cultural and philosophical trends propose a more intricate fabric The writer's diagnosis of the human condition ultimately seems to transcend the constitutive turmoil and the crises offering a vision of surprisingly and fascinatingly complex reality Catch Your Breath

Linda Spalla, 2014-10-17 One of the meditations from Catch Your Breath cited in Oprah Magazine Whether you have chosen to be a caregiver or were hijacked by circumstances Catch Your Breath a series of touching meditations by Linda Spalla will become a wisp of sanity and a day to day stabilizer Spalla retraces an eight month care giving journey with her mother captured in raw candid images truly becoming a walk in her shoes What started as a thirty days to live commitment of care in her home turned into an unexpected eight months of never ending responsibility You will feel a kinship with the roller coaster of emotions from anger confusion surprise resentment guilt and ambivalence to finally relief recovery and celebration You will learn through the various vignettes some refreshingly practical information on such topics as finding sitters managing medicine dealing with sibling rivalry contracting with Hospice moving to assisted living doing will preparation and other legalities as well as funeral planning You will laugh you will sob your heart will soar your heart will break You will find solace encouragement and inspiration for one of life s most daunting challenges But especially you will discover your best self emerging stalwart strong and forged by the fire of your caregiving experience Give yourself a gift of renewal and Catch Your Breath Creative Writing Exercises For Dummies Maggie

Levy,2021-05-13 From one of the great thinkers and writers of our time comes the unmissable final instalment in Deborah Levy s critically acclaimed Living Autobiography A beautifully crafted and thought provoking snapshot of a life The Evening Standard _____ I began to wonder what myself and all unwritten and unseen women would possess in their property portfolios at the end of their lives Literally her physical property and possessions and then everything else she valued though it might not be valued by society What might she claim own discard and bequeath Or is she the real estate owned by patriarchy In this sense Real Estate is a tricky business We rent it and buy it sell and inherit it but we must also knock it down Following the critical acclaim of Things I Don t Want to Know and The Cost of Living this final volume of Deborah Levy s Living Autobiography is an exhilarating thought provoking and boldly intimate meditation on home and the spectres that haunt it _____ Real Estate is a book to dive into Come on in the water s lovely The Daily Telegraph Her reflections on domesticity freedom and romance are so beautiful I found myself underlining multiple sentences a page Wry warm and uplifting it s a book I ll return to again and again Stylist Levy s living autobiography series is a glittering triple echo of books that are as much philosophical discourse as a manifesto for living and writing Financial Times Boulder Eva Baltasar,2023-05-05 Working as a cook on a merchant ship a woman comes to know and love Samsa a woman who gives her the nickname Boulder When Samsa gets a job in Reykjavik and the couple decides to move there together Samsa decides that she wants to have a child She is already forty and can t bear to let the opportunity pass her by Boulder is less enthused but doesn t know how to say no and so finds herself dragged along on a journey that feels as thankless as it is alien With motherhood changing Samsa into a stranger Boulder must decide where her priorities lie and whether her yearning for freedom can truly trump her yearning for love Once again Eva Baltasar demonstrates her preeminence as a chronicler of queer voices navigating a hostile world and in prose as brittle and beautiful as an ancient saga The Cost of Living Deborah Levy,2018-04-05 A GUARDIAN BEST BOOK OF THE 21ST CENTURY WINNER OF THE PRIX FEMINA ETRANGER 2020 Following on from the critically acclaimed Things I Don t Want to Know discover the powerful second memoir in Deborah Levy s essential three part Living Autobiography I can t think of any writer aside from Virginia Woolf who writes better about what it is to be a woman Observer _____ Life falls apart We try to get a grip and hold it together And then we realise we don t want to hold it together The final instalment in Deborah Levy s critically acclaimed Living Autobiography Real Estate is available now _____ I just haven t stopped reading it it talks so beautifully about being a woman Billie Piper on BBC Radio 4 s Desert Island Discs It is the story of every woman throughout history who has expended her love and labour on making a home that turns out to serve the needs of everyone except herself Wonderful Guardian Wise subtle and ironic Levy s every sentence is a masterpiece of clarity and poise a brilliant writer Daily Telegraph A graceful and lyrical rumination on the questions What is a woman for What should a woman be Tatler Extraordinary and beautiful suffused with wit and razor sharp insights Financial Times

Studying English Literature in Context Paul Poplawski,2022-10-13 Ranging from early medieval times to the present this diverse collection explores the myriad ways in which literary texts are informed by their historical contexts The thirty one chapters draw on varied themes and perspectives to present stimulating new readings of both canonical and non canonical texts and authors Written in a lively and engaging style by an international team of experts these specially commissioned essays collectively represent an incisive contribution to literary studies they will appeal to scholars teachers and graduate and undergraduate students The book is designed to complement Paul Poplawski s previous volume English Literature in Context and incorporates additional study elements designed specifically with undergraduates in mind With an extensive chronology a glossary of critical terms and a study guide suggesting how students might learn from the essays in their own writing practices this volume provides a rich and flexible resource for teaching and learning No Fault Haley

Mlotek,2025-02-18 A MOST ANTICIPATED BOOK OF 2025 Vogue Vulture Harper s Bazaar W Bustle Lit Hub The Millions Enigmatic opalescent so precise Jia Tolentino An investigation an invocation a mood Becca Rothfeld The Washington Post An intimate and candid account of one of the most romantic and revolutionary of relationships divorce Divorce was everything for Haley Mlotek As a child she listened to her twice divorced grandmother tell stories about her husbands As a pre teen she answered the phones for her mother s mediation and marriage counseling practice and typed out the paperwork for couples in the process of leaving each other She grew up with the sense that divorce was an outcome to both resist and desire an ordeal that promised something better on the other side of something bad But when she herself went on to marry and then divorce the man she had been with for twelve years suddenly she had to reconsider her generation s inherited understanding of the institution Deftly combining her personal story with wry searching social and literary exploration No Fault is a deeply felt and radiant account of 21st century divorce the remarkably common and seemingly singular experience and what it reveals about our society and our desires for family love and friendship Mlotek asks profound questions about what divorce should be who it is for and why the institution of marriage maintains its power all while charting a poignant and cathartic journey away from her own marriage towards an unknown future Brilliant funny and unflinchingly honest No Fault is a kaleidoscopic look at marriage secrets ambitions and what it means to love and live with uncertainty betrayal and hope
