Solar Storms By Linda Hogan:

Cultural Sites of Critical Insight Angela L. Cotten, Christa Davis Acampora, 2012-02-01 Bringing together criticism on both African American and Native American women writers this book offers fresh perspectives on art and beauty truth justice community and the making of a good and happy life The essays draw on interdisciplinary feminist and comparative methods in the works of writers such as Toni Morrison Leslie Silko Alice Walker Linda Hogan Paula Gunn Allen Luci Tapahonso Phillis Wheatley and Sherley Anne Williams making them more accessible for critical consideration in the fields of aesthetics philosophy and critical theory The contributors formulate unique frameworks for interpreting the multiple levels of complex cultural play between Native American and African American women writers in America and pave the way for innovative hermeneutic possibilities for reassessing writers of both traditions Decolonial Animal Ethics in Linda Hogan's Poetry and Prose Małgorzata Poks, 2023-07-28 Decolonial Animal Ethics in Linda Hogan's Poetry and Prose is a plea for an urgent redefinition of human animal relations on the basis of a nonanthropocentric animal ethic embraced by premodern Indigenous communities but depreciated by coloniality Without decolonial revisions of animal subjectivity and personhood the animal genocide can never truly stop It is also a close reading of Linda Hogan's poetry and prose in search of the coordinates of a decolonized animal ethic which would foster interspecies becoming Having defined the recurring tropes motifs and attitudes that underpin Hogan's treatment of nonhuman animals the book moves on to trace the way she depicts the human animal bond especially in the face of the destructive anthropogenic impact The major questions guiding the analysis of Hogan's oeuvre are as follows who are the animals we share our earthly lives with what can they teach us about ourselves how can animals guide us toward more sustainable futures and what are the conditions of possibility of an interspecies human animal thriving This book will be of interest to scholars and students of Indigenous Studies Decolonial Studies Animal Studies Ecocriticism Anthropocene Studies as well as readers of Linda Hogan's literary works Solar Storms Linda Hogan, 1994-10-01 Winner of the Colorado Book Award for Fiction Solar Storms is at once a Native American coming of age story and a moving depiction of the ties that bind people to their roots and their land The Cambridge Companion to Literature and the Environment Louise Westling, 2014 This authoritative collection of rigorous but accessible essays investigates the exciting new interdisciplinary field of environmental literary criticism International Adoption in North American Literature and Culture Mark Shackleton, 2017-09-06 This book is about transnational and transracial adoption in North American culture It asks to what extent does the process of international adoption reflect imperious inequalities around the world or can international adoption and the personal experiences of international adoptees today be seen more positively as what has been called the richness of adoptive being The areas covered include Native North American adoption policies and the responses of Native North American writers themselves to these policies of assimilation This might be termed adoption from within Adoption from without transnational adoption is primarily dealt with in articles discussing

Chinese and Korean adoptions in the US The third section concerns such issues as the multiple forms that adoption can take notions of adoption and identity adoption and the family and the problems of adoption

New Directions in Ecofeminist Literary Criticism Andrea Campbell, 2009-03-26 As ecofeminism continues to gain attention from multiple academic discourses the field of literary criticism has been especially affected by this philosophy social movement Scholars using ecofeminist literary criticism are making new and important arguments concerning literature across the spectrum and issues of environment race class gender sexuality and other forms of oppression The essays in New Directions in Ecofeminist Literary Criticism highlight the intersections of these oppressions through the works of different authors including Barbara Kingsolver Ruth Ozeki Linda Hogan and Flora Nwapa and demonstrate the expansion of ecofeminist literary criticism to a more global scale as well as important connections with the field of environmental justice This collection offers fresh insight and expands the important discussion surrounding the field of ecofeminism and literature

Solar Storms Linda Hogan, 1995 A novel of sharp beauty and sudden illuminations by an acclaimed Chickasaw poet and novelist Solar Storms is the saga of five generations of Native American women and their struggle for their land and their way of life

The Environmental Justice Reader Joni Adamson, Mei Mei Evans, Rachel Stein, 2002-11 A collection of essays on the environmental justice movement examining the various ways that teaching art and political action affect change in environmental awareness and policies

Ecocriticism and Indigenous Studies Salma Monani, Joni Adamson, 2016-08-05 This book addresses the intersections between the interdisciplinary realms of Ecocriticism and Indigenous and Native American Studies and between academic theory and pragmatic eco activism conducted by multiethnic and indigenous communities It illuminates the multi layered polyvocal ways in which artistic expressions render ecological connections drawing on scholars working in collaboration with Indigenous artists from all walks of life including film literature performance and other forms of multimedia to expand existing conversations Both local and global in its focus the volume includes essays from multiethnic and Indigenous communities across the world visiting topics such as Navajo opera Sami film production history south Indian tribal documentary Maori art installations Native American and First Nations science fiction literature and film Amazonian poetry and many others Highlighting trans Indigenous sensibilities that speak to worldwide crises of environmental politics and action against marginalization the collection alerts readers to movements of community resilience and resistance cosmological thinking about inter and intra generational multi species relations and understandings of indigenous aesthetics and material ecologies It engages with emerging environmental concepts such as multispecies ethnography cosmopolitics and trans indigeneity as well as with new areas of ecocritical research such as material ecocriticism biosemiotics and media studies In its breadth and scope this book promises new directions for ecocritical thought and environmental humanities practice providing thought provoking insight into what it means to be human in a locally situated globally networked and cosmologically complex world

Growing Up with America Emily A. Murphy, 2020-09-15 When D H Lawrence wrote his classic study of American literature he claimed that youth was the true myth of America Beginning from this assertion Emily A Murphy traces the ways that youth began to embody national hopes and fears at a time when the United States was transitioning to a new position of world power In the aftermath of World War II persistent calls for the nation to grow up and move beyond innocence became common and the child that had long served as a symbol of the nation was suddenly discarded in favor of a rebellious adolescent This era marked the beginning of a crisis of identity where literary critics and writers both sought to redefine U S national identity in light of the nation s new global position The figure of the adolescent is central to an understanding of U S national identity both past and present and of the cultural forms e g literature that participate in the ongoing process of representing the diverse experiences of Americans In tracing the evolution of this youthful figure Murphy revisits classics of American literature including J D Salinger s The Catcher in the Rye and Vladimir Nabokov s Lolita alongside contemporary bestsellers The influence of the adolescent on some of America s greatest writers demonstrates the endurance of the myth that Lawrence first identified in 1923 and signals a powerful link between youth and one of the most persistent questions for the nation What does it mean to be an American

Power in Language, Culture, Literature and Education Marta Degani, Werner Delanoy, 2023-04-24 In one of the contributions to this edited volume an interviewee argues that English is power For researchers in the field of English Studies this raises the questions of where the power of English resides and which types and practices of power are implied in the uses of English Linguists scholars of literature and culture and language educators address aspects of these questions in a wide range of contributions The book shows that the power of English can oscillate between empowerment and subjection on the one hand enabling humans to develop manifold capabilities and on the other constraining their scope of action and reflection In this edited volume a case is made for self critical English Studies to be dialogic empowering and power critical in approach

"That the People Might Live" Arnold Krupat, 2012-11-15 The word elegy comes from the Ancient Greek elogos meaning a mournful poem or song in particular a song of grief in response to loss Because mourning and memorialization are so deeply embedded in the human condition all human societies have developed means for lamenting the dead and in That the People Might Live Arnold Krupat surveys the traditions of Native American elegiac expression over several centuries Krupat covers a variety of oral performances of loss and renewal including the Condolence Rites of the Iroquois and the memorial ceremony of the Tlingit people known as koo eex examining as well a number of Ghost Dance songs which have been reinterpreted in culturally specific ways by many different tribal nations Krupat treats elegiac farewell speeches of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries in considerable detail and comments on retrospective autobiographies by Black Hawk and Black Elk Among contemporary Native writers he looks at elegiac work by Linda Hogan N Scott Momaday Gerald Vizenor Sherman Alexie Maurice Kenny and Ralph Salisbury among others Despite differences of language and culture he finds that death and loss are consistently felt by Native peoples both personally and socially someone who had contributed to the People's well being was now gone Native American elegiac expression offered mourners consolation so that they might overcome their grief and renew their will to sustain communal life

Ethics and ethnicity in the Literature of the United States María Frías Rudolphi, Jose Liste Noya, Begoña Simal González, 2011-11-28 L tica es pot definir com la relació amb l'altre la resposta obligatòria a un altre que precedeix qualsevol norma específica de conducta moral una relació primordial que s'ha de basar en qualsevol codi ètic o moral particular Quan aquest altre es particularitza com a l'altre ètic com es veu afectada en la seua mateixa articulació aquesta concepció de l'ètica T l'ètnicitat com a concepte unificador Existeix una ètica de l'ètnicitat Pel contrari l'ètica ètnica El mateix ètic d'all ètic redueix de cap manera l'ètnic d'all ètic En una cultura com la dels Estats Units fundada sobre una ètica individualista de caràcter paradoxalment universalitzant que es veu qüestionada constantment per les pròpies constriccions imposades a la singularitat ètnica dels seus molts altres aquestes preguntes semblen especialment pertinents Els assaigs d'aquest volum demostren implícitament que aquestes preguntes no tenen respostes definitives perquè es tracta de termes el domini conceptual dels quals es refereix a all singular i diferent a les singularitats obstinadament no generalitzables de l'altre La literatura diversa dels Estats Units ens proporciona el terreny textual propici per aquesta conjunció d'all ètic i ètnic Com ho demostra el panorama transhistòric d'aquests assaigs

aquesta contestació s'insereix a la pròpia literatura donada la seua explicitació de l'altre i a la vegada la seua participació en la domesticació d'aquest mateix altre La literatura dels Estats Units amb les seues demandes de pluralitat discursiva històricament determinades i amb les seues generalitzacions totalitzants i transcendents esdevé un corpus on destaca l'articulació d'aquest doble moviment La conjunció d'allò que evita el tancament de l'aperturabilitat ja que un enfocament que qüestiona la temptació de l'altre cap a l'abstracció mentre que l'impuls que ens manté alerta davant la constitució universalitzant i estereotipada de les identitats úniques

Native Women and Land Stephanie J. Fitzgerald, 2015-03-15 Dispossession and removal are major subjects in understanding the relationship of American Indians to their ancestral lands This book is the first treatment of these complex topics to focus on women writers The author's emphasis on environmental issues makes her book as important to ecocritics as to students of literary criticism women's studies and Native American studies from dust jacket

Literary Feminist Ecologies of American and Caribbean Expansionism Christine M. Battista, Melissa R. Sande, 2023-07-13 This book synthesizes ecofeminist theory American studies and postcolonial theory to interrogate what New Americanist William V Spanos articulates as the errand into the wilderness the ethic of Puritanical expansionism at the heart of the U S empire that moved westward under Manifest Destiny to colonize Native Americans non whites women and the land The project explores how the legacy of the errand has been articulated by women writers from the slave narrative to contemporary fiction Uniting texts across geographical and temporal boundaries the book constructs a theoretical approach for reading and understanding how women authors craft counter narratives at the intersection of metaphorical and literal landscapes of colonization It focuses on literature from the United States and the Caribbean including the slave narratives by Sojourner Truth Harriet E Wilson and Harriet Jacobs and contemporary work by Toni Morrison Maryse Condé Edwidge Danticat and Native American writer Linda Hogan It charts the contrast between America's earliest idyllic visions and the subsequent reality an era of unprecedented violence against women of color and the environment This study of many canonical writers presents an important and illuminating analysis of American mythologies that continue to impact the cultural landscape today It will be a significant discussion text for students scholars and researchers in environmental humanities ecofeminism and postcolonial studies

Facing Trauma in Contemporary American Literary Discourse Laura Virginia Castor, 2019-10-08 Trauma has always been part of the American collective experience but only since September 11 2001 has it been acknowledged on a widespread scale Most people will experience some form of trauma during their lifetime but in contemporary American culture it is often understood as a problem to be blamed on someone fought or repressed entirely Despite burgeoning trauma studies popular responses to trauma from the media to politics produce ever more aggression and fear This book responds to this growing awareness through literary analyses of texts by Louise Erdrich Siri Hustvedt Melanie Thernstrom Nicole Krauss Joy Harjo Linda Hogan Jhumpa Lahiri and Toni Morrison Considered separately each chapter provides a lens into a historically situated trauma and the process of renegotiating it Read together they function as voices in an ongoing conversation that affirms the power of narrative A good story can become a space for curiosity in the face of trauma and uncertainty A story opens imaginative possibilities for asking in what ways can readers bring more awareness to the benefits of seeing our planetary interdependence in the midst of global polarization The readings of novels autobiographical texts and poems here suggest how this question is among the most valuable we can ask in the early 21st century

Native Lands Shari M. Huhndorf,2024-08-06 Native Lands analyzes the role of visual and literary culture in contemporary Indigenous campaigns for territorial rights In the post 1960s era Indigenous artists and writers have created works that align with the goals and strategies of new Native land based movements These works represent Native histories and epistemologies in ways that complement activist endeavors while also probing the limits of these political projects especially with regard to gender The social marginalization of Native women was integral to dispossession And yet its enduring consequences have remained largely neglected even in Native organizing as a pressing concern associated with the status of Indigenous people in settler nation states The cultural works discussed in this book provide an urgent Indigenous feminist rethinking of Native politics that exposes the innate gendered dimensions of ongoing settler colonialism They insist that Indigenous campaigns for territorial rights must entail gender justice for Native women

Weaving Words into Worlds Caroline Durand-Rous,Margot Lauwers,2023-10-10 Weaving Words into Worlds comes as the third spinoff of the international ecopoetics conference organized in Perpignan in 2016 Reflecting upon how the many stories we tell directly influence the world we live in each of the contributions in this international volume directs our attention to the constant ecopoetic weaving of word to the world at work via the many entanglements between mind matter and meaning whether on a local or a global scale It encapsulates how the words stories and concepts we humans articulate as we try to make sense of the world we inhabit give part of its shape to the web of ecological relations that we depend on for survival It seeks to cast light on the disenchanting and reenchanting powers of stories and poesis in general as stories retain the power to make us either become oblivious to and destroy or to feel and honor the many complex ties between the multitudinous nature cultures intertwined within the fabric of a multispecies world always in the making This book offers a total of fourteen articles written by international scholars in ecocriticism and ecopoetics who by their analyses of literature and or films and the political subtext they thus render visible aim at showing how the study of environmentally minded media may renew our attention to the entangled agencies of the human and the more than human realm Thus this work offers to counter a reproach ecocriticism has often been met with namely the over presence of US scholars and the lack of diversity in subjects in the field since the articles presented provide a wide variety of approaches and topics with examples of UK and Native American literature Polynesian myth graphic novels or haiku In doing so the book expands on the fields of ecocriticism and ecopoetics
