Narrated Empires Johanna Chovanec,Olof Heilo,2021-02-05 This book examines the role of imperial narratives of multinationalism as alternative ideologies to nationalism in Central and Eastern Europe the Balkans and the Middle East from the revolutions of 1848 up to the defeat and subsequent downfall of the Habsburg and Ottoman empires in 1918 During this period both empires struggled against a rising tide of nationalism to legitimise their own diversity of ethnicities languages and religions Contributors scrutinise the various narratives of identity that they developed supported encouraged or unwittingly created and left behind for posterity as they tried to keep up with the changing political realities of modernity Beyond simplified notions of enforced harmony or dynamic dissonance this book aims at a more polyphonic analysis of the various voices of Habsburg and Ottoman multinationalism from the imperial centres and in the closest proximity to sovereigns to provinces and minorities among intellectuals and state servants through novels and newspapers Combining insights from history literary studies and political sciences it further explores the lasting legacy of the empires in post imperial narratives of loss nostalgia hope and redemption It shows why the two dynasties keep haunting the twenty first century with fears and promises of conflict coexistence and reborn greatness The Converso's Return Dalia

Postcolonial Gateways and Walls Daria Tunca, Janet Wilson, 2016-11-07 Metaphors are ubiquitously used in the humanities to bring the tangibility of the concrete world to the elaboration of abstract thought Drawing on this cognitive function of metaphors this collection of essays focuses on the evocative figures of the gateway and the wall to reflect on the state of postcolonial studies Some chapters on such topics as maze making in Canada and the Berlin Wall in the writings of New Zealand authors foreground the modes of articulation between literal borders and emotional disconnections while others examine how artefacts ranging from personal letters to clothes may be conceptualized as metaphorical gateways and walls that lead or conversely regulate access to specific forms of cultural expression and knowledge Following this line of metaphorical thought postcolonial studies itself may be said to function as either barrier or pathway to further modes of enquiry This much is suggested by two complementary sets of contributions on the one hand those that contend that the canonical centre periphery paradigm and the related writing back model have prevented scholars from recognizing the depth and magnitude of cross cultural influences between civilizations on the other those that argue that the scope of traditional postcolonial models may be fruitfully widened to include territories such as post imperial Turkey a geographical and cultural gateway between East and West that features in several of the essays included in this collection Ultimately all of the contributions testify to the fact that postcolonial studies is a field whose borders must be constantly redrawn and whose paradigms need to be continually reshaped and rebuilt to remain relevant in the contemporary world in other words the collection s varied approaches suggest that the discipline itself is permanently under construction Readers are therefore invited to perform a critical inspection of the postcolonial construction site CONTRIBUTORS Vera Alexander Elisabeth Bekers Devon Campbell Hall Simran Chadha Carmen Concilio Margaret Daymond Marta Dvo k Claudia Dupp Elena Furlanetto Gareth Griffiths John C Hawley Sissy Helff Marie Herbillon Deepika Marya Bronwyn Mills Padmini Mongia Golnar Nabizadeh Gerhard Stilz Queer Turkey Ralph J. Meanwhile peace considerations have expanded in recent decades to include the varied types and sources of conflict from inter state to intra state conflicts due to various social political economic and environmental factors Through providing theoretical and empirical insights this book demonstrates that sustainability and peace as intrinsically interrelated The book elaborates on the multi dimensional and constantly evolving concepts of sustainability and peace In addition the book contributes to a better understanding of the complex and dynamic interlinkages between peace and sustainability by presenting examples of pathways where sustainability and peace interact considering the different factors and contexts that are constantly shaping and reshaping the conditions for sustainable and peaceful societies
