A Satanic Affair Malise Ruthven, 1991 Postmodernism and Islam Akbar S. Ahmed, 2013-04-15 Can West and East ever understand each other In this extraordinary book one of the world's leading Muslim scholars explores an area which has which has been almost entirely neglected by scholars in the field the area of postmodernism and Islam This landmark work is startlingly constantly perceptive and certain to be debated for years to come Religious Freedom and the Position of

Islam in Western Europe W. A. R. Shadid, P. S. J. van Koningsveld, 1995 The permanent presence of Islam and Muslims approximately 7 million is a comparatively recent phenomenon in most countries of the European Community By far the greater majority of them consists of former inhabitants of the Muslim world who migrated to the West for economic or political reasons after the Second World War Over the last decades many initiatives have been launched by Muslim communities to create infrastructural provisions for their religious life within the existing legal and social frameworks In fact all countries of the European Community share the principles of religious freedom and non discrimination in their respective Constitutions However the precise way in which these principles are interpreted and applied to Islam depends largely on the historical traditions concerning the relations between State and Religion which differ from one country to another The present book is mainly based on the numerous articles and books concerning the public status of Islam in the various countries of Western Europe which were published between 1987 and 1994 First of all a comparative study is offered of the relation between State and Religion according to the constitutional traditions of the member states of the European Community Secondly the authors discuss the opportunities and obstacles in the realization of an organizational structure by the Muslim communities Attention is paid among others to the foundation of mosques the position of imams and the attempts to create representative bodies on the national level which can serve as negotiating partners with the national governments In a separate chapter attention is paid to Islam as a minority religion from a theoretical point of view Then follows a discussion of the possibilities for the observance of Islamic customs and rituals such as religious holidays dietary laws and dress rules With regard to Islamic religious education attention is paid in the last chapter to religious education within mosques public Christian and Islamic schools At the end there is an extensive bibliography with an index of subjects and countries A Satanic Affair Malise Ruthven, 1990 This is a full account of the Rushdie affair pointing out how the crisis has focused attention on the cultural divide between the West and Muslim countries and secular and religious cultures

The Power of the Story Michael Hanne, 1996 A spirited well researched volume This highly readable study is an impressive work of contemporary criticism richly deserving its intended general and academic audiences Choice The History and Anatomy of Auctorial Self-Criticism in the European Middle Ages Anita Obermeier, 2023-12-28 This study outlines the history and anatomy of the European apology tradition from the sixth century BCE to 1500 for the first time The study examines the vernacular and Latin tales lyrics epics and prose compositions of Arabic English French German Greek Icelandic Italian

Spanish and Welsh authors Three different strands of the apology tradition can be proposed The first and most pervasive strand features apologies to pagan deities and later to God The second most important strand contains literary apologies made to an earthly audience usually of women A third strand occurs more rarely and contains apologies for varying literary offenses that are directed to a more general audience The medieval theory of language privileges an imitation of the Christian master narrative and a hierarchical medieval view of authorship These notions express a medieval philosophical concern about language and its role and therefore the role of the author in cosmic history Despite the fact that women apologize for different purposes and reasons their examples illustrate on yet another level the antifeminist subtext inherent in the entire apology tradition Overall the apology tradition characterized by interauctoriality intertextuality and intratextuality enables self critical authors to refer not only backward but also primarily forward making the medieval apology a progressive strategy that engenders new literature This study would be relevant to all medievalists especially those interested in literature and the history of ideas

Muslim Communities in England 1962-90 Jed Fazakarley, 2017-07-10 This book analyses Muslim integration into English society from the 1960s to the 1990s The author argues that contrary to common narratives built around a sudden transformation during the Rushdie affair religious identity was of great importance to English Muslims throughout this period The study also considers what the experiences of Muslim communities tell us about British multiculturalism With chapters which consider English Muslim experiences in education employment and social services British multiculturalism is shown to be a capacious artifice variegated across and within localities and resistant to periodization It is understood as positing separate ethnic communities and serving these communities with special provisions aimed ultimately at integration It is argued moreover to have developed its own momentum limiting the efficacy of 21st century backlashes against it Muslim Communities in England 1962 90 will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of disciplines including sociology history and politics
