A Severed Head Penguin 2003:

The Severed Head Julia Kristeva, 2025-03-04 Informed by a provocative exhibition at the Louvre curated by the author The Severed Head unpacks artistic representations of severed heads from the Paleolithic period to the present Surveying paintings sculptures and drawings Julia Kristeva turns her famed critical eye to a study of the head as symbol and metaphor as religious object and physical fact further developing a critical theme in her work the power of horror and the potential for the face to provide an experience of the sacred Kristeva considers the head as icon artifact and locus of thought seeking a keener understanding of the violence and desire that drives us to sever and in some cases keep such a potent object Her study stretches all the way back to 6 000 B C E with humans early decoration and worship of skulls and follows with the Medusa myth the mandylion of Laon a holy relic in which the face of a saint appears on a piece of cloth the biblical story of John the Baptist and his counterpart Salome tales of the guillotine modern murder mysteries and even the rhetoric surrounding the fight for and against capital punishment Kristeva interprets these capital visions through the lens of psychoanalysis drawing infinite connections between their manifestation and sacred experience and very much affirming the possibility of the sacred even in an era of faceless interaction

On Beheading Amalendu Misra, 2022-09-08 Beheading is not an uncommon undertaking As a particularized physical violence it has been practiced by all societies and civilizations at some point in their history In fact for millennia public beheadings around the world were routine In contemporary international society some states and many non state actors regularly engage in this undertaking This begs the obvious question why put a human being through this unimaginable cruelty While the idea of execution by decapitation appears visceral and horrific it has always been grounded in cultural religious and political contexts If contemporary history is any proof the enterprise of beheading a fellow human being appears to be making a comeback in certain religious and political landscapes A question of enormous intellectual importance the phenomenon of beheading is understudied There have been many explanations surrounding specific forms of beheading through the ages However no inclusive study has engaged with it in its entirety Primarily a philosophical reflection On Beheading is inter disciplinary in nature it freely cuts across various disciplines within the broad framework of the social sciences It uses a vast array of empirical evidence from anthropology literature jurisprudence and religion to build a discourse and narrative that brings this subject under one intellectual umbrella

Heads Will Roll Larissa Tracy, Jeff Massey, 2012-01-20 Capitalizing upon the enduring fascination with decapitation in European culture this collection examines through a variety of critical lenses the recurring roles of severed human heads in the medieval and early modern imagination

Iris Murdoch, Gender and Philosophy Sabina Lovibond, 2011-04-15 Iris Murdoch was one of the best known philosophers and novelists of the post war period In this book Sabina Lovibond explores the tangled issue of Murdoch s stance towards gender and feminism drawing upon the evidence of her fiction philosophy and other public statements As well as analysing Murdoch s own attitudes Iris Murdoch Gender and Philosophy is also a critical enquiry into the way we picture intellectual and especially philosophical activity. Appealing to the idea of a social imaginary within which Murdoch's work is located, Lovibond examines the sense of incongruity or dissonance that may still affect our image of a woman philosopher even where egalitarian views officially hold sway. The first thorough exploration of Murdoch and gender. Iris Murdoch: Gender and Philosophy is a fresh contribution to debates in feminist philosophy and gender studies and essential reading for anyone interested in Murdoch's literary and philosophical writing.

Iris Murdoch: Philosophical Novelist Miles Leeson, 2011-10-27 This book provides a concise and highly readable reassessment of Iris Murdoch's engagement with philosophy throughout her life and proposes that she was most importantly a philosophical novelist. By investigating her use of philosophical argument in her fictional writing it becomes clear that her narratives always depend upon a strong metaphysical underpinning. Leeson proceeds thematically through the philosophical phases of Murdoch's life and develops a clear argument that Murdoch reacts against the philosophies of Sartre, Plato, Nietzsche and Heidegger not only in her philosophical writings but also in her fiction. Indeed it is in her fiction that her philosophical argument is most persuasive and accessible. This timely study provides new information regarding Murdoch's engagement with Martin Heidegger and also provides a detailed critique of critics who have overlooked Murdoch's engagement with philosophy within her fiction.

Metaphors of Economic Exploitation in Literature 1885-1914 explores the complex network of metaphors that emerged around late nineteenth century conceptions of economic self-interest: metaphors that dramatised the predatory, conflictual and exploitative basis of relations between nations, institutions, sexes and people in a fin de siècle economy that was perceived by many as outwardly belligerent. More specifically this book is about the vampire, cannibal and related genera of economic metaphor that penetrate the major discourses of the period in ways that have yet to be understood. In chapters that examine socialist fiction and newspapers, the imperial quest romance, the decadent and supernatural tales of Henry James and Vernon Lee and the Catholic novels of Lucas Malet, Ford assesses the breadth and variety of these metaphors and considers how they filter the long-standing philosophical ideas about self-interest and the conflictual economic man. This volume is essential reading for students and scholars of fin de siècle literature and culture as well as those with an interest in the relationship between literature, economics and anti-capitalist movements. The Oxford

Handbook of Psychotherapy Ethics Manuel Trachsel, Nikola Biller-Andorno, Jens Gaab, Şerife Tekin, John Z. Sadler, 2021. The Oxford Handbook of Psychotherapy Ethics explores a whole range of ethical issues in the heterogeneous field of psychotherapy. It will be an essential book for psychotherapists in clinical practice and valuable for those professionals providing mental health services beyond psychology and medicine, including counsellors and social workers. Ted Hughes,

Class and Violence Paul Bentley, 2014-04-24 Ted Hughes is widely regarded as a major figure in twentieth century poetry but the impact of Hughes's class background on his work has received little attention This is the first full length study to take the measure of the importance of class in Hughes It presents a radically new version of Hughes that challenges the image of Hughes as primarily a nature poet as well as the image of the Tory Laureate The controversy over natural violence in Hughes's early poems Hughes's relationship with Seamus Heaney the Laureateship and Hughes's revisiting of his relationship with Sylvia Plath in Birthday Letters 1998 are reconsidered in terms of Hughes's class background Drawing on the thinking of cultural theorists such as Slavoj Žižek Terry Eagleton and Julia Kristeva the book presents new political readings of familiar Hughes poems alongside consideration of posthumously collected poems and letters to reveal a surprising picture of a profoundly class conscious poet

Writing the 9/11 Decade Charlie Lee-Potter, 2016-11-03 Writing the 9 11 Decade investigates the relation of the novel to reportage and the role of both in shaping culture by looking at novelists' journalistic responses to the September 11 attacks Journalist and academic Charlie Lee Potter argues that novelists were entrapped by the expectation that they would provide an immediate non fiction response to 9 11 Beginning with an examination of the sometimes mawkish writing that emerged in the days after the attacks Writing the 9 11 Decade traces the evolution of literary journalism in writers such as Ian McEwan Paul Auster Don DeLillo Mohsin Hamid and Nadeem Aslam into new methods of subsuming the disaster while attempting to stand apart from it It includes interviews with novelists such as Richard Ford Amy Waldman and Kamila Shamsie as well as the only longform interview granted by the former Archbishop of Canterbury Dr Rowan Williams who is himself a 9 11 survivor In assessing the novel's capacity to respond to and contain an unimagined traumatic event Writing the 9 11 Decade stands as a contemporary history of the form

The ^ADrama of Ideas Martin Puchner, 2010-04-14 Philosophy and theater have often defined themselves in contrast to each other sharing a mutual antipathy that manifests in a critical evasion And yet the histories of philosophy and theater have in fact been crucially intertwined Appointing Plato as a hinge figure Puchner traces the long standing philosophical register in drama and philosophy's more recent theatrical shift The Drama of Ideas provides a broad persuasive account of this alternative theatrical tradition working his way from Plato to the Renaissance to Martha Nussbaum today while dwelling most forcefully on the modern drama of Wilde Shaw Pirandello and others

Henry VIII's True Daughter Wendy J Dunn, 2024-02-01 The lives of Tudor women often offer faint but fascinating footnotes on the pages of history The life of Catherine or Katryn as her husband would one day pen her name Carey the daughter of Mary Boleyn and as the weight of evidence suggests Henry VIII is one of those footnotes As the possible daughter of Henry VIII the niece of Anne Boleyn and the favourite of Elizabeth I Catherine's life offers us a unique perspective on the reigns of Henry and his children In this book Wendy J Dunn takes these brief details of Catherine's life and turns them into a rich account of a woman who deserves her story told Following the faint trail provided of her life from her earliest years to her death in service to Queen Elizabeth Dunn examines the evidence of

Catherine's parentage and views her world through the lens of her relationship with the royal family she served. This book presents an important story of a woman who saw and experienced much tragedy and political turmoil during the reigns of Henry VIII, Edward VI and Mary I, all of which prepared her to take on the vital role of one of Elizabeth I's closest and most trusted women. It also prepared her to become the wife of one of Elizabeth's privy councillors, a man also trusted and relied on by the queen. Catherine served Elizabeth during the uncertain and challenging first years of her reign, a time when there was a question mark over whether she would succeed as queen regnant after the failures of England's first crowned regnant, her sister Mary. Through immense research and placing her in the context of her period, HENRY VIII'S TRUE DAUGHTER CATHERINE CAREY: A TUDOR LIFE draws Catherine out of the shadows of history to take her true place as the daughter of Henry VIII and shows how vital women like Catherine were to Elizabeth and the ultimate victory of her reign. States of Terror David Simpson, 2019-03-08 How have we come to depend so greatly on the words terror and terrorism to describe broad categories of violence? David Simpson offers here a philology of terror, tracking the concept's long, complicated history across literature, philosophy, political science and theology, from Plato to NATO. Introducing the concept of the fear/terror cluster, Simpson is able to capture the wide range of terms that we have used to express extreme emotional states over the centuries, from anxiety, awe and concern to dread, fear and horror. He shows that the choices we make among such words to describe shades of feeling have seriously shaped the attribution of motives, causes and effects of the word terror today, particularly when violence is deployed by or against the state. At a time when terror talk is widely and damagingly exploited by politicians and the media, this book unpacks the slippery rhetoric of terror and will prove a vital resource across humanistic and social sciences disciplines. Grappling With the Beast Peter Limb, Norman A. Etherington, Peter Midgley, 2010-01-01 This volume contributes rich new material to provide insights into indigenous responses to the colonial empires of Great Britain, South Africa, Swaziland, Botswana, Zimbabwe, Rhodesia and Germany, Namibia, and explores the complex intellectual, cultural, literary and political borders and identities that emerged across these spaces. Contributors include distinguished global scholars in the field as well as exciting young scholars. The essays link global, national, local forces in history by analysing how indigenous elites not only interacted with colonial empires to absorb, adapt and re-cast new ideas, forms of discourse and social formations, but also networked with ordinary people to forge new social, ethnic and political identities and viable social forces. Translated and other primary texts in appendices add to the insights. The Light of the Labyrinth Wendy J. Dunn, N THE WINTER OF 1535 young Kate Carey lives with her mother and her new family far from the royal court. Unhappy with her life and wanting to escape her home, she accepts the invitation of Anne Boleyn, the aunt she idolises, to join her household in London. But the dark, dangerous labyrinth of Henry VIII's court forces Kate to grow up fast as she witnesses her aunt's final tragic days and when she discovers a secret that changes her life forever. All things must end, all things but love. Post-War British Women Novelists and the Canon Nick Turner, 2010-04-11
