Encyclopedia of the Great Plains David J. Wishart, 2004-01-01 Wishart and the staff of the Center for Great Plains Studies have compiled a wide ranging and intended encyclopedia of this important region Their objective was to give definition to a region that has traditionally been poorly defined and they have NASCAR, Sturgis, and the New Economy of Spectacle Daniel Krier, William J. Swart, 2016-09-27 NASCAR Sturgis and the New Economy of Spectacle maps the structure of economies of spectacle in stock car racing and large displacement motorcycle rallying The book traces the historical development of economic spectacles and models the structural components and moving parts that sustain them Economies of spectatorship emerge when activities and legends in the cultural commons are privatized or enclosed as immaterial property Once privatized a spectacular diegesis supports a triple circuit of profit spectatorship markets payments to see sponsorship markets payments to be seen and trophy markets payments to be seen enjoying Vivid illustrations of legendary action in NASCAR and carnivalesque displays at Sturgis reveal how spectator events function as intensive sites of profit making in contemporary capitalism South Dakota History , 2011 Black Hills Forestry John F. Freeman, 2015-01-15 The first study focused on the history of the Black Hills National Forest its centrality to life in the region and its preeminence within the National Forest System Black Hills Forestry is a cultural history of the most commercialized national forest in the nation One of the first forests actively managed by the federal government and the site of the first sale of federally owned timber to a private party the Black Hills National Forest has served as a management model for all national forests Its many uses activities and issues recreation timber mining grazing tourism First American cultural usage and the intermingling of public and private lands expose the ongoing tensions between private landowners and public land managers Freeman shows how forest management in the Black Hills encapsulates the Forest Service s failures to keep up with changes in the public s view of forest values until compelled to do so by federal legislation and the courts In addition he explores how more recent events in the region like catastrophic wildfires and mountain pine beetle epidemics have provided forest managers with the chance to realign their efforts to create and maintain a biologically diverse forest that can better resist natural and human disturbances This study of the Black Hills offers an excellent prism through which to view the history of the US Forest Service s land management policies Foresters land managers and regional historians will find Black Hills Forestry a valuable resource Reckoning with Race Frederick Allen, 2023-08 Reckoning with Race is a firsthand account of race relations in America from award winning journalist author and former CNN commentator Rick Allen Allen s collection of essays shows the progress our country has made and how much further we have to go In his fifty year career as an award winning journalist CNN commentator and author of multiple books Rick Allen has had a front row seat on dramatic change in race relations in America In Reckoning with Race a collection of eighteen essays he explores his ongoing efforts to understand the struggle of black and white Americans to navigate a shared history at once wicked and intimate full of love and hate as they seek to level an uneven playing field Allen examines issues from the era of Reconstruction through Jim Crow the Civil Rights movement the rhythms of resistance and progress into today s contentious debates over redlining reparations and critical race theory Starting as a reporter with the Atlanta Constitution in 1972 Allen got to know and befriend legendary black political figures including Julian Bond John Lewis Andy Young Hosea Williams Maynard Jackson Jesse Jackson and Daddy King the father of Martin Luther King Jr He also encountered ardent white segregationists some of whom saw the light and others who took their racism to the grave Drawing on his experience covering politics he examines presidents from LBJ and Jimmy Carter to Obama and Trump He explores the symbolism of Confederate flags the controversy over Uncle Remus the election of Atlanta s first black mayor Maynard Jackson and the tragic case of the Atlanta Child Murders He has had first hand encounters with white supremacy and violent black protest alike Throughout Reckoning with Race Allen is candid about his own shortcomings as a white native Northerner learning gradually about the complexities of race in his adoptive South The essays highlight his continuing journey toward understanding the forces that both hinder and promote equality and harmony between the races

A Marvelous Hundred Square Miles Suzanne Julin,2009 Despite their isolated location on the edge of the Great Plains the Black Hills have become an important tourist destination over the past one hundred years Suzanne Julin examines the early development of this phenomenon and the influences political local and national that helped create a prosperous tourist industry in the region between the 1880s and the start of World War II Public policy and state and federal government actions promoted the Black Hills as the vanguard of both the mountain West and the Wild West and developed a national park two national monuments the largest state park in the country and the iconic Mount Rushmore as methods to direct tourist traffic to the region Julin argues that these promotional efforts affected more than just tourism they helped form or change local trends and issues and established the identity of the region A Marvelous Hundred Square Miles addresses the concerted efforts of governmental quasi governmental and private groups to develop the tourist industry in the early twentieth century While this book is specifically about the Black Hills its larger themes pertain to the development of tourism as one of the most important industries in the modern United States America, History and Life ,1999 Provides historical coverage of the United States and Canada from prehistory to the present Includes information abstracted from over 2 000 journals published worldwide
