A Taste of Steel Kent Silverhill, What would you do if you let slip information that could start a war What if the person you divulged said information to is a rebel queen with a thirst for blood In a world where metal is rare you probably wouldn't make matters worse by revealing a map showing the location of the hoard of steel you just told her about Steel she could turn into swords spears and axes Steel that will destroy her foes with their pathetic hardened glass weapons and leather armour Unfortunately Drome isn't the most gifted of people when it comes to discretion Or thinking things through The consequences hurl him down a path riddled with folk keen to boil him alive stick pointy objects in his tender flesh or blow him into tiny pieces With the real queen gunning for him too Drome reluctantly embarks on a secret mission to fix the mess he started The civilised world depends on him All he has to do is end a savage war With a princess and a sorcerer on his side what could possibly go wrong If you like Terry Pratchett Douglas Adams and Joe Abercrombie you won't be able to put down the addictive Hollow series

M.), 1892 A Taste for Purity Julia Hauser, 2023-12-05 In nineteenth century Europe and North America an organized vegetarian movement began warning of the health risks and ethical problems of meat eating Presenting a vegetarian diet as a cure for the social ills brought on by industrialization and urbanization this movement idealized South Asia as a model In colonial India where diets were far more varied than Western admirers realized new motives for avoiding meat also took hold Hindu nationalists claimed that vegetarianism would cleanse the body for anticolonial resistance and an increasingly militant cow protection movement mobilized against meat eaters particularly Muslims Unearthing the connections among these developments and many others Julia Hauser explores the global history of vegetarianism from the mid nineteenth century to the early Cold War She traces personal networks and exchanges of knowledge spanning Europe the United States and South Asia highlighting mutual influence as well as the disconnects of cross cultural encounters Hauser argues that vegetarianism in this period was motivated by expansive visions of moral physical and even racial purification Adherents were convinced that society could be changed by transforming the body of the individual Hauser demonstrates that vegetarians in India and the West shared notions of purity which drew some toward not only internationalism and anticolonialism but also racism nationalism and violence Finding preoccupations with race and masculinity as well as links to colonialism and eugenics she reveals the implication of vegetarian movements in exclusionary hierarchical projects Deeply researched and compellingly argued A Taste for Purity rewrites the history of vegetarianism on a global scale A Taste for Speed John Joseph Kelly, 2010-09-10 Bill Braden was the nephew of Harry Greening Canada s first great raceboat driver in the 1920s Born in Hamilton Ontario he lived there for many years before moving to nearby Waterdown Ontario near the start of W W II He always had a taste for speed purchasing his first motorcycle an Ariel in England at age 19 and going on to motorbike across war threatened Europe in 1935 For the rest of his life he kept fast and fancy cars around his house and reveled in their ownership During World War II he volunteered for the Canadian Army and became a Major in the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps and served in Canada as well as in England and Northwest Europe from 1941 1945 For a decade after the war he established himself as the top speedboat driver in Canada

He drove his own Ariel boats in competitions both in Canada and the United States His reputation was such that in 1951 when Colonel Gordon Thompson of London Ontario purchased Miss Canada IV and renamed her Miss Supertest he hired Bill Braden to drive the boat This began a five year relationship with the Thompson family which culminated in the 1956 Harmsworth Trophy challenge where for the first time a Canadian boat captured one heat off of the American boat and where Bill Braden proved his courage while almost dying behind the wheel of his hydroplane The story had a sad ending two summers later when Will returned to boat racing and was killed in a freak accident while competing for the Duke of York Trophy on Fairy Lake at Huntsville Ontario He left behind a widow and six young children as well as a sterling legacy that has survived five plus decades of scrutiny A Taste for China Eugenia Zuroski Jenkins,2013-05-23 A Taste for China offers an account of how literature of the long eighteenth century generated a model of English selfhood dependent on figures of China It shows how various genres of writing in this period call upon things Chinese to define the tasteful English subject of modernity Chinoiserie is no mere exotic curiosity in this culture but a potent multivalent sign of England s participation in a cosmopolitan world order A Taste of The Divine Osho, A Taste for the Foreign Ellen R. Welch,2011-03-14 A Taste for the Foreign examines foreignness as a crucial aesthetic category for the development of prose fiction from Jacques Amyot s 1547 translation of The Ethiopian Story to Antoine Galland s early eighteenth century version of The Thousand and One Nights While fantastic storylines and elements of magic were increasingly shunned by a neo classicist literary culture that valued verisimilitude above all else writers and critics surmised that the depiction of exotic lands could offer a superior source for the novelty variety and marvelousness that constituted fiction s appeal In this sense early modern fiction presents itself as privileged site for thinking through the literary and cultural stakes of exoticism or the taste for the foreign Long before the term exoticism came into common parlance in France fiction writers thus demonstrated their understanding of the special kinds of aesthetic pleasure produced by evocations of foreignness developing techniques to simulate those delights through imitations of the exotic As early modern readers eagerly consumed travel narratives maps and international newsletters novelists discovered ways to blur the distinction between true and imaginary representations of the foreign tantalizing readers with an illusion of learning about the faraway lands that captured their imaginations This book analyzes the creative appropriations of those scientific or documentary forms of writing that claimed to inform the French public about exotic places Concentrating on the most successful examples of some of the most important sub genres of prose fiction in the long seventeenth century heroic romances shorter urban novels fictional memoirs and extraordinary voyages the book examines how these types of fiction creatively appropriate the scientific or documentary forms of writing that claimed to inform the French public about exotic places Published by University of Delaware Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press A Taste and Tour of Northeast Country Inns Jacqueline W. Simak,2002 Over 200 recipes from over 100 Country Inns plus historical and personal information about the inns and their keepers A Taste for Green Carlos

Rodríguez-Rellán, Ben A. Nelson, Ramón Fábregas Valcarce, 2020-02-28 Often along vast expanses ancient societies traded certain commodities that were considered valuable either for functional or symbolic reasons or rather a mixture of both factors A Taste for Green addresses latest research into the acquisition of jade turquoise or variscite all of which share a characteristic greenish colour and an engaging appearance once they are polished in the shape of axes or assorted adornments Papers explore how in addition to constituting economic transactions the transference of these materials were also statements of social liaisons personal capacities and relation to places or to unseen forces The volume centres on two study areas Western Europe and Mexico Southwest US which are far apart not just in geographical terms but also with regard to their chronology and socioeconomic features While some North and Mesoamerican groups range from relatively complex farming societies up to state like organisations during the 1st and 2nd millennia AD the European counterparts are comparatively simpler polities spanning the 5th 3rd millennia BC By contrasting the archaeological evidence from diverse areas we may gain insights into the role that production movement of these green stones played in their respective political and ritual economies Also we think it useful to compare the scientific approaches applied to this question in different parts of the globe specially Asia Lonely Planet New York & the Mid-Atlantic Lonely Planet,
