Trench William Wordsworth, William [poetical works Wordsworth (selections)], 1884 Beautiful Poetry; Selected by the Editors of the Critic, London Literary Journal, 1854 Anglophone Indian Women Writers, 1870-1920 Ellen Brinks, 2016-04-15 The result of extensive archival recovery work Ellen Brinks's study fills a significant gap in our understanding of women's literary history of the South Asian subcontinent under colonialism and of Indian women's contributions and responses to developing cultural and political nationalism. As Brinks shows, the invisibility of Anglophone Indian women writers cannot be explained simply as a matter of colonial marginalization or as a function of dominant theoretical approaches that reduce Indian women to the status of figures or tropes. The received narrative that British imperialism in India was perpetuated with little cultural contact between the colonizers and the colonized population is complicated by writers such as Toru Dutt, Krupabai Satthianadhan, Pandita Ramabai, Cornelia Sorabji, and Sarojini Naidu. All five women found large audiences for their literary works in India and in Great Britain, and all five were also deeply rooted in and connected to both South Asian and Western cultures. Their works created new zones of cultural contact and exchange that challenge postcolonial theory's tendencies towards abstract notions of the colonized women as passive and of English as a de facto instrument of cultural domination. Brinks's close readings of these texts suggest new ways of reading a range of issues central to postcolonial studies: the relationship of colonized women to the metropolitan literary culture; Indian and English women's separate and joint engagements in reformist and nationalist struggles; the translatability of culture; the articulation strategies and complex negotiations of self-identification of Anglophone Indian women writers and the significance and place of cultural difference. Experiencing Sound Lawrence Kramer, 2024-09-03 From the winds of Mars to a baby's first laugh, a prolific philosopher-composer reflects on the profound imperative of sound in everyday life. Experiencing Sound presents its subject as fundamental to all experience: sensation, perception, and understanding. Lawrence Kramer turns on its head the widespread notion that vision takes pride of place among the senses and demonstrates how paying attention to sound can transform how we make meaning out of experience. Through a series of brief lyrical forays, Kramer shows that sound, whether heard or unheard, is the object of a primary need and an essential component in the sensation of being alive and the perception of time. It is something that we may suffer or be made to suffer as well as enjoy. Like its predecessor The Hum of the World, this book ranges widely across music, philosophy, literature, art, media, and history from classical antiquity to the present as it invites us to experience sound anew.

Harry Kemp, the Last Bohemian William Brevda, 1986 The first critical biography of the American writer The Tramp Poet Harry Kemp, 1883-1960. His creative works included poetry, drama, fiction, and the best-selling autobiography in prose, Tramping on Life. The Eclectic Magazine John Holmes Agnew, Walter Hilliard Bidwell, 1848 The Classroom and the Crowd Al Filreis, 2025-11-25 For more than a decade, Al Filreis has taught a free online course about experimental poetry known as ModPo that has drawn some 435,000 students from 179 countries. Online classes, even a fraction of ModPo's size, have been criticized as impersonal and unengaging. But the citizens of ModPo have formed a generous and enduring intellectual community as together they read poems typically dismissed as difficult and inaccessible. In The Classroom and the Crowd, Filreis reflects on his decades of experience as a founder of participatory literary communities and teacher of online courses demonstrating that student centered education offers new possibilities for humane social networking

Introducing readers to ModPo participants and their open ended round the clock conversations he shows how online learning can not only be accessible and educational but also deepen our commitment to democracy Filreis argues that the emphasis on collaborative learning space for discussion and the inherent openness of poetry allows for a sense of community continuity and even intimacy that often eludes other online educational endeavors ModPo embodies principles underlying both modern poetics and cooperative education Writers and readers like teachers and learners create meaning together many voices are clearer than one and democracy is a creative practice Proposing an optimistic vision of mass learning this book contends that asynchronous education has surprising advantages over the traditional classroom that panics about a crisis of attention and the death of reading are overblown and that instead of logging off we should all start reading with a crowd The New Era in Home and School ,1965 McClure's Magazine ,1895 Shelley: Selected Poems Kelvin Everest,2023-03-23 Percy Bysshe Shelley 1792 1822 was one of the major Romantic poets and wrote what is critically recognised as some of the finest lyric poetry in the English Language In this volume the editors have selected the most popular significant and frequently taught poems from the six volume Longman Annotated edition of Shelley s poems Each poem is fully annotated explained and contextualised along with a comprehensive list of abbreviations an inclusive bibliography of material relating to the text and interpretation of Shelley s poetry plus an extensive chronology of Shelley s life and works Headnotes and footnotes furnish the personal literary historical and scientific information necessary for an informed reading of Shelley s richly varied and densely allusive verse making this an ideal anthology for students classroom use and anyone approaching Shelley s poetry for the first time however the level and extent of commentary and annotation will also be of great value for researchers and critics The Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature, Science, and Art ,1873 Eclectic Magazine John Holmes Agnew,Walter Hilliard Bidwell,1848 Record News ,1956 The Spectator ,1858
