Heider,Mary Renck Jalongo,2014-12-05 This edited book presents the most recent theory research and practice on information and technology literacy as it relates to the education of young children Because computers have made it so easy to disseminate information the amount of available information has grown at an exponential rate making it impossible for educators to prepare students for the future without teaching them how to be effective information managers and technology users Although much has been written about information literacy and technology literacy in secondary education there is very little published research about these literacies in early childhood education Recently the National Association for the Education of Young Children and the Fred Rogers Center for Early Learning and Children s Media at Saint Vincent College published a position statement on using technology and interactive media as tools in early childhood programs This statement recommends more research to better understand how young children use and learn with technology and interactive media and also to better understand any short and long term effects Many assume that today s young children are digital natives with a great understanding of technology However children may know how to operate digital technology but be unaware of its dangers or its value to extend their abilities This book argues that information and technology literacy include more than just familiarity with the digital environment They include using technology safely and ethically to demonstrate creativity and innovation to communicate and collaborate to conduct research and use information and to think critically solve problems and make decisions

Parenting Internet Kids with three key terms slashed together conveys the idea that the practice of parenting may extend both to the Internet and to our children to the extent that both require attention care and forms of regulation and in turn provide support and enjoyment While the triadic title is somewhat playful it also strikes a serious note and introduces layered possibilities we are not simply raising children who have grown up in the internet age but also Domesticating Technologies by managing the computer relatively young in age too having established itself in homes in the 1980s Including perspectives from scholars and parents living in Australia Canada India Japan the UK and the USA the collection examines how the intimate presence of computer technology in our homes and on our bodies affects not only mothers and parenting but family life more broadly School Library Journal ,2009
