The Rise of Western Power Jonathan Daly, 2013-12-19 The West's history is one of extraordinary success no other region empire culture or civilization has left so powerful a mark upon the world The Rise of Western Power charts the West's achievements representative government the free enterprise system modern science and the rule of law as well as its misdeeds two frighteningly destructive World Wars the Holocaust imperialistic domination and the Atlantic slave trade Adopting a global perspective Jonathan Daly explores the contributions of other cultures and civilizations to the West's emergence Historical geographical and cultural factors all unfold in the narrative Adopting a thematic structure the book traces the rise of Western power through a series of revolutions social political technological military commercial and industrial among others The result is a clear and engaging introduction to the history of Western civilization 19th Century Europe Hannu Salmi, 2013-04-24 Nineteenth Century Europe offers a much needed concise and fresh look at European culture between the Great Revolution in France and the First World War It encompasses all major themes of the period from the rising nationalism of the early nineteenth century to the pessimistic views of fin de siècle It is a lucid fluent presentation that appeals to both students of history and culture and the general audience interested in European cultural history The book attempts to see the culture of the nineteenth century in broad terms integrating everyday ways of life into the story as mental material and social practices It also highlights ways of thinking mentalities and emotions in order to construct a picture of this period of another kind that goes beyond a story of isms or intellectual and artistic movements Although the nineteenth century has often been described as a century of rising factory pipes and grey industrial cities as a cradle of modern culture the era has many faces This book pays special attention to the experiences of contemporaries from the fear for steaming engines to the longing for the pre industrial past from the idle calmness of bourgeois life to the awakening consumerism of the department stores from curious exoticism to increasing xenophobia from optimistic visions of future to the expectations of an approaching end The century that is only a few generations away from us is strange and familiar at the same time a bygone world that has in many ways influenced our present day world Science and Technology in World History, Volume 1 David Deming, 2014-01-10 Science is a living organic activity the meaning and understanding of which have evolved incrementally over human history This book the first in a roughly chronological series explores the development of the methodology and major ideas of science in historical context from ancient times to the decline of classical civilizations around 300 A D It includes details specific to the histories of specialized sciences including astronomy medicine and physics along with Roman engineering and Greek philosophy It closely describes the contributions of such individuals as Pythagoras Hippocrates Socrates Plato Aristotle Alexander the Great Euclid Archimedes Ptolemy Seneca Pliny the Elder and Galen

Law in an Era of Smart Technology Susan Brenner, 2007-12-31 Should law be technologically neutral or should it evolve as human relationships with technology become more advanced In Law in an Era of Smart Technology Susan Brenner analyzes the complex and evolving interactions between law and technology and provides a thorough and detailed account of the law in technology at the beginning of the 21st century Brenner draws upon recent technological advances evaluating how developing technologies may alter how humans interact with each other and with their environment She analyzes the development of technology as shifting from one of use to one of interaction and argues that this interchange needs us to reconceptualize our approach to legal rules which were originally designed to prevent the misuse of older technologies As technologies continue to develop over the next several decades Brenner argues that the laws directed between human and technological relationships should remain neutral She explains how older technologies rely on human implementation but new smart technology will be completely automated This will eventually lead to as she explains the ultimate progression in our relationship with technology the fusion of human physiology and technology Law in an Era of Smart Technology provides a detailed historically grounded explanation as to why our traditional relationship with technology is evolving and why a corresponding shift in the law is imminent and necessary and Reading Lists Joint Chiefs of Staff,1965 National Defense Resources Conference Industrial College of the Armed Forces (U.S.),1964 Sir John Vanbrugh and Landscape Architecture in Baroque England Christopher Ridgway,Robert Williams,2024-08-29 Sir John Vanbrugh is celebrated today as one of England s finest country house architects His masterpieces include palatial private homes such as Castle Howard and Blenheim Palace greatly admired by any enthusiast of English Baroque architecture However his work extended far beyond such projects and included a remarkable variety of temples belvederes pyramids and many other features which he designed for the gardens and parks of the estates at which he worked The originality of such work has shown that Vanbrugh played a crucial role in the development of the eighteenth century English garden and this unique and fascinating book uses the fruits of new research to assess just what contribution this great man made to our heritage Subject Catalog Library of Congress,1982 A Short History of Economic Progress Y.S. Brennor,2014-06-17 Y S Brenner is an economist whose main concern is with development and this attitude is reflected in his approach to economic history He begins this seminal study in the era of the Reformation in Europe and bases it on the hypothesis that once started economic progress will spread over ever increasing parts of the earth wherever and whenever conditions become suitable From this point of view he examines the nature of the impediments which prevent the more rapid and general progress of mankind towards greater material affluence while at the same time considering the positive growth promoting factors in the various economies Thus he provides an analysis of economic progress in the developed countries showing which natural social political and cultural forces promoted such progress and which delayed or hindered it He attempts to explain why European nations took several decades to emulate the achievements of Britain and why nations in other parts of the world such as Japan and Russia were unable for a considerable time to match the advances made in parts of Western Europe and the United States Finally he attempts to explain why the developing countries are still finding it so difficult to catch up with the economic progress of the more advanced nations Y S Brenner was Head of the Department of Economics at Cape Coast University in Ghana The book arose from a series of lectures on economic development he delivered there during the years 1966 1967 This book was first published in 1969

Daniell,2012-05-31 A trans disciplinary book offering evaluation based approaches for effective participatory interventions for academic researchers practitioners and policy makers working in water management Science and Civilisation in China, Part 9, Textile Technology: Spinning and Reeling Joseph Needham,Dieter Kuhn,1988-06-09 This study the first of two parts gives a comprehensive account of Chinese textiles and textile technology and deals with the evolution of bast fibre spinning and silk reeling in the history of China These operations are the basic techniques in the production of yarn and thread pre requisite to weaving and any study of Chinese textile technology must start with the raw material obtained from fibre plants such as hemp ramie jute cotton etc and silk reeled off from cocoons of the domestic silkworm The time span covered runs from the neolithic to the nineteenth century Archaeological and pictorial evidence the bulk of it hitherto unpublished in the West is brought together with Chinese textual sources which are extensively translated and interpreted to illustrate Chinese achievements in this field Professor Kuhn's study reveals the way in which Chinese textile technological inventiveness has influenced textile production in other regions of the world and in medieval Europe It explains how textile technology reached its high point between the tenth and thirteenth centuries and attempts to indicate the reasons for its subsequent relative decline The development of the textile industry in Europe was a key factor in the rise of capitalism In the case of China after Sung times textile technology and the organisation of textile labour may help indicate why such a development did not take place in China Concise
