A Trick Of The Eye Trompe Loeil Masterpieces:

A Trick of the Eye Eckhard Hollmann, Jürgen Tesch, 2004 From its eye popping cover to the last page this collection of optical illusion hyper realism and visual puns is a fun and fascinating exploration of five centuries of trompe l'oeil painting Each of the forty paintings in this book is presented twice a first glimpse of the painting captures one reality and then a subsequent view reveals the visual deception within In this way readers are introduced to some of the tricks artists have skillfully and playfully deployed over the years to manipulate spatial perception A Trick of the Eye includes examples of trompe l'oeil from Renaissance masters such as van Eyck and Veronese to modern works by René Magritte and Duane Hanson among many others Engaging texts describe each work but the real magic is in the illustrations which offer an intriguing visual experience

The Self-deceiving Muse Alan Singer, 2010 Focuses on the phenomenon of self deception and proposes a radical revision of our commonplace understanding of it as a token of irrationality Argues that self deception can illuminate the rationalistic functions of character Provided by publisher

Virgil's Garden Frederick Jones, 2013-10-16 Virgil's book of bucolic verse the Eclogues defines a green space separate from the outside worlds both of other Roman verse and of the real world of his audience However the boundaries between inside and outside are deliberately porous The bucolic natives are aware of the presence of Rome and Virgil himself is free to enter their world Virgil's bucolic space is in many ways a poetic replication of the public and private gardens of his Roman audience enclosed green spaces which afforded the citizen sheltered social and cultural activities temporary respite from the turbulence of public life and a tamed landscape in which to play out the tensions between the simple ideal and the complexities of reality This book examines the Eclogues in terms of the relationship between its contents and its cultural context making connections between the Eclogues and the representational modes of Roman art Roman concepts of space and landscape and Roman gardens

Language in the Visual Arts Leslie Ross, 2014-05-23 This book discusses text and image relationships in the history of art from ancient times to the contemporary period across a diversity of cultures and geographic areas Focusing on the use of words in art and words as art forms thematic chapters include Pictures in Words Words in Pictures Word Picture Puzzles Picture Word Puzzles Words as Images The Power of the Word and Monumental and Moving Words Chapter subsections further explore cross cultural themes Examining text and image relationships from the obvious to the elusive the puzzling to the profound the minor to the major the book demonstrates the diverse ways in which images and writing have been combined through the ages and explores the interplay between visual and written communication in a wide range of thought provoking examples A color insert is included Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here
