Yankel's Tavern Glenn Dynner, 2014 In Yankel's Tavern Glenn Dynner investigates the role of Jews in tavern keeping in the Kingdom of Poland between 1815 and the uprising of 1863 and its aftermath Hasidism and Politics Marcin Wodziński, 2013-03-31 This analysis of the political relations between the Kingdom of Poland and the hasidic movement shows that by creating advantageous socio political conditions the government actually accelerated the growth of the movement to the extent that unique features of Polish hasidism can be attributed to the impact of government policy The study also demonstrates the unusually modern character of hasidic political activity and charts its distinctive path of development in the Kingdom of Poland into anti modernist modernity Poland, 1950-1971 Bohdan Czarnocki, 1975 The First World War as a Caesura? Christin Pschichholz, 2020-12-02 During the phases of mobile warfare the ethnically and religiously very heterogeneous population in the border regions of the multi ethnic empires suffered in particular Even if the real military situation in the course of the war hardly gave cause for concern the image of disloyal ethnic and national minorities was widespread This was particularly the case when ethnic groups lived on both sides of the border and social and political tensions had already established themselves along ethnic or religious lines of conflict before the war Displacements deportations and mass violence were the result The genocide of the Armenian population is the most extreme example of this development This anthology examines the border regions of the Ottoman Russian and Habsburg empires during the First World War with regard to radical population policy and genocidal violence from a comparative perspective in order to draw a more precise picture of escalating and deescalating factors WALNECK'S CLASSIC CYCLE TRADER, MAY 2004 Causey Enterprises, LLC, Soviet-Born Karolina Krasuska, 2024-07-12 In 2010 when The New Yorker published a list of twenty writers under the age of forty who were key to their generation it included five Jewish identified writers two of whom American Gary Shteyngart and Canadian David Bezmozgis were Soviet born This publicity came after nearly a decade of English language literary output by Soviet born writers of all genders in North America Soviet Born The Afterlives of Migration in Jewish American Fiction traces the impact of these now numerous authors among others David Bezmozgis Boris Fishman Keith Gessen Sana Krasikov Ellen Litman Gary Shteyngart Anya Ulinich and Lara Vapnyar on major coordinates of the Jewish American imaginary Entering an immigrant Soviet born standpoint creates an alternative and sometimes complementary pattern of how the Eastern and Central European past and present resonate with American Jewishness The novels short stories and graphic novels considered here often stage strikingly fresh variations on key older themes including cultural geography the memory of World War II and the Holocaust communism gender and sexuality genealogy and finally migration Soviet Born demonstrates how these diasporic writers with their critical stance toward identity categories open up the field of what is canonically Jewish American to broader contemporary debates This book is also freely available online as an open access digital edition Displays of Belonging Sarah Ellen Zarrow, 2025-06-15 Displays of Belonging illuminates the lives and work of Polish Jewish collectors and museologists who sought to preserve the treasures of the Jewish past while demonstrating Jewish belonging on Polish soil As Jews comfortable in the Polish language and within Polish artistic and academic society they saw themselves as intermediaries between less integrated Jews and the Polish cultural elite At the turn of the century Jewish ethnographers and museum creators staked their claim to belonging to the civic nation though the display of Jewish folk art fine art and Judaica After the First World War the nearly three million Jews in the Second Polish Republic were suddenly challenged with finding a place for themselves in a state that increasingly defined itself as a creation of the ethnic Polish nation to which Jews by many accounts did not belong By tracing emergent documentation and display practices in partitioned Poland and in the interwar Second Polish Republic Sarah Ellen Zarrow offers a better understanding of how integrated Jews identified with Polish culture and history and with non Jewish Poles and how they conceived of negotiated and argued their collective place within Poland This is not a case of assimilation nor of acculturation but rather of displaying a parallel culture that was at once similar and yet distinctive Displays of Belonging offers a nuanced understanding of the multiplicity of ways in which Jews in Poland saw their present and dreamed of their future It places Jewish ethnographic practice and art collection within a Polish context and sheds light on ways in which ideas about belonging and national identity were negotiated in the space of museums
