Environment Dean Hawkes, with Jane McDonald, Koen Steemers, 2013-10-08 Written by leading researcher in environmental science Unique book based on research findings Case studies in Berlin Lagos and Cambridge supported by review of contemporary worldwide environmental design Portrait of an Island Mark Hinchman, 2015-12-01 The once famous trading center of Goré Island today lies in the busy harbor of the modern city of Dakar From its beginnings as a modest outpost Goré became one of the intersections which linked African trading routes to the European Atlantic trade Then as now people of all nationalities poured into the island Dutch English French and Portuguese came to trade with the Mande Moor Tukor and Wolf tribes Trading parties brought gold horses firewood mirrors books and more They built houses of various forms using American lumber French roof tiles freshly cut straw and pulverized seashells and furnished them in as cosmopolitan a fashion as the city itself Mark Hinchman's Portrait of an Island The Architecture and Material Culture of Goré Island 1758-1837 considers the houses portraits and furnishings of the island's early modern inhabitants Multiple features of eighteenth century Goré its demographic diversity the prominence of women leaders the phenomenon of identities in flux and the importance of commerce fashion and international trade argue for its place in the construction of an early global modernity In an examination of the built and natural landscape Portrait of an Island deciphers the material culture involved in the ever changing relationships amongst male female rich poor and slave The Masons of Djenné Trevor Hugh James Marchand, 2009 Artful building practices in one of Africa's most beautiful places Indigenous Environmental

Knowledge John Edington, 2017-09-05 This book examines comprehensively for the first time the scope and accuracy of indigenous environmental knowledge It shows that in some spheres including agriculture house design fuel and water manipulation the high reputation of local observers is well deserved and often sufficiently insightful to warrant wider imitation However it also reveals that in certain matters notably some aspects of health care and wild species population management local knowledge systems are conspicuously unsound Not all the difficulties are of the communities own making some stem from external factors outside their control However in either case remedial measures can be suggested and this book describes especially for the benefit of practitioners what steps might be taken in rural communities to improve the quality of life The possibility of useful transfers of information from local settings to Western ones is not ignored and forms the subject of the book's final chapter New Orleans in the Atlantic World William Boelhower, 2013-09-13 The thematic project New Orleans in the Atlantic World was planned immediately after hurricane Katrina and focuses on what meteorologists have always known the city's identity and destiny belong to the broader Caribbean and Atlantic worlds as perhaps no other American city does. Balanced precariously between land and sea, the city's geohistory has always interwoven diverse cultures, languages, peoples, and economies. Only with the rise of the new Atlantic Studies matrix, however, have scholars been able to fully appreciate this complex history from a multi-disciplinary, multilingual, and multi-scaled perspectivism. In this book, historians, geographers, anthropologists, and cultural studies scholars bring to light the atlanticist vocation of New Orleans and in doing so they also help to define the new field of Atlantic Studies. This book was published as a special issue of Atlantic Studies. African Cities Through Local Eyes Giuseppe Faldi, Axel Fisher, Luisa

Moretto, 2021-10-16 This book provides readers with a wide overview of place-based planning and design experiments addressing such powerful transformations in the African built environment. This continent is currently undergoing fast-paced urban, institutional, and environmental changes which have stimulated an increasing interest for alternative architectural solutions, urban designs, and comprehensive planning experiments. The international and balanced array of the collected contributions explore emerging research concepts for understanding urban and peri-urban processes in Africa, discuss bottom-up planning and design practices, and present inspirational and innovative co-design methods and participatory tools for steering such change through public spaces, sustainable services, and infrastructures. The book is intended for students, researchers, decision makers, and practitioners engaged in planning and design for the built environment in Africa and the Global South at large. Archaeology of Southern Urban Landscapes Amy L Young, 2000-10-18 Amy L Young is Assistant Professor of Anthropology at the University of Southern Mississippi. Two Thousand Years in Dendi, Northern Benin, 2018-10-16 In Two Thousand Years in Dendi, Northern Benin, an international team examines a little-known part of the Niger River valley, West Africa, over the longue durée. This area, known as Dendi, has often been portrayed as the crossroads of major West African medieval empires, but this understanding has been based on a small number of very patchy historical sources. Working from the ground up from the archaeological sites, standing remains, oral traditions, and craft industries of Dendi Haour and her team offer the first in-depth account of the area. Contributors are Paul Adderley, Mardjoua Barpougouni, Victor Brunfaut, Louis Champion, Annalisa Christie, Barbara Eichhorn, Anne Filippini, Dorian Fuller, Olivier Gosselain, David Kay, Nadia Khalaf, Nestor Labiyi, Raoul Laibi, Richard Lee, Veerle Linseele, Alexandre Livingstone Smith, Carlos Magnavita, Sonja Magnavita, Didier N Dah, Nicolas Nikis, Sam Nixon, Franck N Po, Takpara Jean-François, Pinet Ronika, Power Caroline, Robion Brunner, Lucie Smolderen, Abubakar Sule Sani, Romuald Tchibozo, Jennifer Wexler, Wim Wouters. The World They Made

Together Mechal Sobel, 2021-06-08 In the recent past, enormous creative energy has gone into the study of American slavery, with major explorations of the extent to which African culture affected the culture of black Americans and with an almost totally new assessment of slave culture as Afro-American. Accompanying this new awareness of the African values brought into America, however, is an automatic assumption that white traditions influenced black ones. In this view, although the institution of slavery is seen as important blacks are not generally treated as actors nor is their divergent culture seen as having had a wide ranging effect on whites Historians working in this area generally assume two social systems in America one black and one white and cultural divergence between slaves and masters It is the thesis of this book that blacks Africans and Afro Americans deeply influenced white s perceptions values and identity and that although two world views existed there was a deep symbiotic relatedness that must be explored if we are to understand either or both of them This exploration raises many questions and suggests many possibilities and probabilities but it also establishes how thoroughly whites and blacks intermixed within the system of slavery and how extensive was the resulting cultural interaction

Religion, Law and Security in Africa M Christian Green,T Jeremy Gunn,Mark Hill,2018-05-16 Security is a key topic of our time But how do we understand it Do law and religion take different views of it In this fifth volume in the Law and Religion in Africa series radicalisation terrorism blasphemy hate speech religious freedom and just war theories rub shoulders with issues of witchcraft female genital mutilation circumcision child marriage displaced communities and additional issues besides This unique collection of topics is both challenging and inspiring providing illumination in troubled times and forming a sound foundation for future scholarship
